-Toronto is equipping a section of its police force with bicycles. This is a hint for the London police commissioners, who have refused the demands of the men for an eight-hour system in summer on the ground that five or six more appointments would be necessary to carry it out. An Exciting Runaway. A C. P. R. lorrie was proceeding across the market late yesterday afternoon. It was lorded mountain high with sulky bodies, and driver Poole was on the top of the pile. One of the buggies fell down on the horses and they ran away, throwing the driver heavily to the ground, where he narrowly escaped being struck by falling wheels and other things. He hung to the reins and was dragged across the square to the weigh scales office and there the runaway came to a sudden stop, one horse on each side of a telegraph pole. The stop dislodged another sulky from the mass and it plunged forward on top of the imprisoned horses driving them frantic. The unlucky sulky was kicked out of all resemblance. The horses were liberated with much peril and difficulty with no more damage than a broken neckyoke. Mr. Poole was bruised but plucky.

Is There a Doctor Present? The Primrose & West Minstrels gave an entertainment at Detroit Saturday night, and an amusing incident took place that was not down on the bills. In the midst of the overture one of the performers was singing and after the first verse he stopped suddenly. A shuffling of feet was heard behind the scenes and a person was seen to step quickly over to the singer and whisper in his ear. An anxious expression passed over the faces of the performers and a hurried consultation took place.

The audience looked on wondering what could have happened. The singer stepped to the front of the stage and asked "Is there a doctor pres-The stillmess was so intense that the drop of a pin could have been heard. A prominent Windsor physicisn was observed to rise, and he said "I am a physician."

Wonderful Cure.

Mr. and Mrs. Chute, of Aylmer, desire that we should publish their testimonial and let other sufferers know what Williams' Royal Crown Remedy (Nature's Liquid) has done for Mr. Chute. He writes: "Fo' ten years ormore I have been a sufferer with dyspersia, and doctored with six of the most skilled doctors in this part of the country with but little relief and no benefit in return for the very large doctors' bills that I paid. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, tut all to no purpose, until April, 1893, when I took to myself a wife, and it so happened that three years previous to our marriage she had been in poor health, and used part of a bottle of Royal Crown Remedy, and, knowing of its excellent qualities, she prevailed upon me to give it a trial. I purchased one bottle of the Remedy and Pills, and by the time I had them used my general health was much improved, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was restored to good health, and my neighbors say that I am looking better than I have done for years. I believe Royal Crown Remedy to be the best value for the money on earth, and am thankfully yours.

"WILLIAM CHUTE."

WM. BREMNER KILLED. Thrown Against a Telephone Pole and Eis Skull Fractured. Shortly after 5 o'clock last night two men were driving east on Bathurst street in a road cart. Just east of Richmond street the horse took fright and bolted, and Wm. Bremner was thrown out against a telephone pole and so badly injured that he died just as he reached the hospital. The unfortunate young man was precipitated against the pole, striking the left side of his head. His skull was fractured and one

Just as the ambulance arrived at the latter place Bremner expired. Deceased was a single man, and was driving with a young fellow named James Watson, who lives on the Hamilton road. Bremner lived with his widowed mother and three sisters at 122 Adelaide street. He has a brother living on Hill street. Two sisters live in Buffalo and Colorado. KILLED AS SHE SANG.

a Group of Girls Shot Down by Careless Peter Duane. HACKENSACK, April 17 .- Sarah Ploss, of New York, aged 16, and Ella Duane and Belle Shields, of Ridgefield Park, 16 and 14 respectively, were standing in the parlor of Augustus Duane's residence in Ridgefield Park at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, singing the hymn "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Peter Duane, aged 12, was also present. He stepped into the hall, where a breech-loading gun stood, and, taking up the weapon, pointed it around the room in different objects. As the muzzle came at range of the girls the gun was discharged. A First-Class Man Has Charge and Belle Shields fell to the floor. She had just uttered the words, "Let me to thy bosom fly." The lad was not more than twelve feet from the girls, and the charge of bird shot tore away a portion of the top of her head, killing her instantly. Both her companions fainted. The elder Duane was away from home, and the lad, horrified at the result of his carelessness, ran more than a mile to the house of his eldest brother, John, who brought him to Hackensack and delivered him into the custody of the sheriff. The occurrence was purely accidental. John Duane said his brother had a habit of pointing the gun around whenever he could get hold of it.

Assisting Nature. The old method of medical treatment aimed to excite the organs on which the medicine acted to a condition which must necessarily be followed by reaction.
