Boycotting a Brewery-Retaliation. BERLIN, May 11 .- An immense meeting of Socialists was held in Brunswick yesterday, at which a resolution was passed declaring a boycott against a brewery, whose employes were on strike. No Fight.

LONDON, May 11 .-- A dispatch from Zanzibar says that H. H. Johnston, Imperial Commissioner to Nyassaland, has arrived there. He denies that a collision between Portuguese and Pritish forces took place at Tete last March. The Portuguese fort saluted the British gunboat, he says, and the natives probably mistook the demonstration for fighting and spread the report.

The Bullet-Proof Coat. BERLIN, May 11 .- Although the tests of the bullet-proof coat invented by Herr with poisoning Ludwig Brandt, rested this Dowe, the Mannheim tailor, have been satisfactory as far as they have been pursued, the people of the War Office entertain doubts of its practical utility in the army. The Control of Samoa.

BERLIN, May 11 .- The Vossische Zeitung says that the statement to the Congress of the United States by Secretary of State Gresham on the situation in Samoa, indicates the probable opening of negotiations in the near future which will result in a dual control of the Samoan Islands. While such an issue would be regrettable the Zeitung says what Mr. Gresham has said of America will apply equally with Germany. and the defendant Wm. Black, a carpenter, Still on Probation.

LONDON, May 11 .- In the House of Commons last night Mr. Gardner, president of up her situation, and went home to her the Board of Agriculture, in reply to Mr. Chaplin, said that nothing had occurred since the 23rd of last month to cause any modification of opinion on the cattle question. It had been stated that pleuropneumonia might remain undetected for a period of fifteen months, but there was no properly authenticated case known to the department. The evidence in possession pointed to a very much shorter period of

The Death Penalty in France.

Paris, May 11.-In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the bill providing that execution of criminals shall hereafter be conducted privately instead of in public, passed its second reading, 159 to 158.

A motion of urgency upon the question of discussing the articles prescribing the methods of executing criminals, was rejected by the Chamber by a vote of 252 to 242. This result is a victory for the solitude, excitability of temper, sunken Socialists and Radicals, who are advocating eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, oily the abolition of capital punishment. When the debate on the bill is resumed, the proposal of Deputy Dejeante (Socialist) to abolish the death penalty will be con. the abolition of capital punishment. When

As she did not return last night the girl's brother communicated with police early this morning, who went to the shop and forced the door. At the rear of the shop they found the body of the girl lying in a pool of blood. Around her neck was a rope, the noose of which was tightly drawn, and a razor was imbedded in her throat, which was horribly gashed. It is believed the crime was committed by a man the girl was known to be fond of, and who was her lover. The police expect to find

MR. RYAN AND MR. CROTHERS. Mr. Peter Ryan has written the following letters to Mr. T. W. Crothers, of St. Thomas: "I don't often notice the deliverances of men whose nostrils are laden with the 'hot dun breath' of political strife, but the London Free Press of Saturday, the 5th inst., reports you as having said at the Thamesville meeting in reference to my conducting the Government sale of timber limits in 1892 that which I cannot allow to pass by unnoticed, and I trust you will prove your charge or admit that you spoke without justification. After declaiming about the enormity of my selling the limits for the Government, you proceeded to say that 'Mr. Ryan had a friend to buy in a limit for him, and a few days later he sold it again, making $18,000 boodle out of it.' This you know is a very grave charge to make, and your party will be pleased to have your furnish the proof, and I give you a cordial invitation to make your statement good, and so brand me as a dishonest and fraudulent auctioncer. You would not make the statement surely without some grounds, for such would be contrary to the rule governing honorable men, so pray let the public know all about it, and if I have been May 21. guilty of such an offense the sooner my fellow-citizens know me the better for the public morality. You made so grave a accomplished slanderers, you are likely to do; but I ask firmly and plainly for proof of the statement. If you can prove that I ever purchased by agent, partner, member of my family, friend, or any person, a timber limit at an auction sale where I acted as auctioneer, or that I was in any of numerous grievances. blow up the Kazan and other cathedrals on the occasion of the Greek Easter congregayou were not aware of the gravity of your offense, and as you are now challenged for proof let it be brought forth to my shame or stand convicted of knowingly bearing

A Belleville dispatch says it is reported that Mr. McComb. one of the Patron candidates in North Hastings, has retired from the contest.

Mr. Hugh Smith, M.P.P., was asked by a Kingston reporter if he would contest Frontenac again for the Local House. He could not give a decided answer, because he had not made up his mind. He was not anxious to run. He said: "To tell the truth, I am tired of honor, but I will not give a decided answer until after the Conservative convention.

"TIP" TURNS UP HIS TOES.

The Use u ness of the Big Elephant, Like that of Bess Creker, Is Cone. New York, May 11.-Tip, the big elephant in Central Park Menagerie, died this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock, after many hours of agony. Such a botched piece of work has never been accomplished by any set of men who have professed to have the slightest skill in killing wild animals, or to save an animal from unnecessary cruelty and suffering. From 6 a.m. until 4 p.m. the great king of the forest went shuddering from one convulsion into another under the influence of the cyanide of potassium which had been given him. The first dose of the poison was not sufficient to put a quick and painless end to his life. After many consultations between Supt. Smith, of the menagerie, and Supt. Hankins, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and Secretary Burns, it was resolved at 3 o'clock to administer a second dose of poison, which proved effective.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Scrious Effect of the Miners' Strike-Falling Off in Failures.

NEW YORK, May 11.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The strikes begin to have a serious though, it is assumed, only a temporary influence. Many of the works depending upon supplies of bitumineus coal or coke for fuel have already been compelled to stop operations, and nearly a third in capacity of the iron furnaces at work a month ago appear to have closed. Some railways are embarrassed, and textile works of some importance must close soon unless the strike stops. For the past week the failures have been 206 in the United States against 257 in the corresponding week last year; 24 in Canada, against 23 last year, with none of special importance, although four bank failures are included. NEW YORK, May 11 .- Bradstreet's says: Prolonged warm weather has stimulated farm work as well as sales in various seasonable lines of merchandise, but renewed tariff uncertainty tends to prolong the period, during which merchants will continue to buy for actual needs only. Not far from 175,000 men are reported idle in the coal trade alone, and the total of those idle is not less than 250,000.

There are 198 business failures reported in the United States this week. Last week

"Uncle Tem's Cabir."

Tempest in the "Fencing Master" last night. The fame of the author, the reputation of the artist and the prevailing heat accounted for the warmth of the reception. The production was on a scale of splendorseldom seen here-beautiful scenery, rich and varied costumes, perfect stage setting. The "Fencing Master" proved more of a musical than a dramatic treat. It is full of De Koven's sculful melody, though Smith's libretto lacks the lively humor that makes "Robin Hood" popular with the masses. Their latest production is must be admitted is more refined than the somewhat boisterous though engaging "Robin Hood." The interpreting company is a brilliant one. Miss Tempest is a fascinating little fairy, and her "form and moving" seem the essence of grace. She acted with a piquant charm, and sang with expression and sweetness. The famous nightingale song, with which she captured New York, was given to Miss Lily Post, whose execution could hardly have been excelled. The leading man, Julius Sterger, has a fine presence and a glorious voice. The other principals are accomplished vocalists, and the chorus is a strong one. Some of the ensemble effects were exquisite, and to the lover of music the performance
