STARVING HIS WIFE.
An Old Brooklyn Miser Arrested on a Charge of Attempted Suicide—The Woman Saved by Neighbors.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 17.—Alphalest Stratton, of 124 Gates avenue, Brooklyn, was arrested yesterday on a charge of attempted suicide. Stratton is 53 years of age, and is said to own real estate in this city and Brooklyn, having an aggregate value of $300,000. Six years ago his first wife died. Shortly after her death the appearance of another woman in the house set the tongues of the neighbors wagging. The new-comer was about 30 years old, dark, and wore gold-rimmed spectacles. Stratton was married to the woman, and for a year peace seemed to rule in the home.

But the year had hardly passed when the couple began to quarrel. Though feeble in body the old man was still clear headed, and was said to be almost insanely paranoid. The servants employed by him left one after another, and all claimed that they could not live on the food provided.
Last January Mrs. Stratton was taken sick with peritonitis, and Dr. Cooper, of 79 her. The doctor called in to attend her. The doctor ceased calling about two months ago, because, he says, he could do nothing with the case, as the woman was not receiving proper care and nourishment.
Mrs. Stratton then began to prescribe for herself. He also gave up the case because the patient was so poorly cared for.
Since then Mrs. Stratton, it is said, has been almost entirely without food of any kind.

A month ago Mrs. Palmer Jadwin, who lives at 126 Gates avenue, was told by her little boy that a woman was calling to her from the window of the house next door.

Going into the yard, Mrs. Jadwin looked up and saw the pale and emaciated face of Mrs. Stratton in one of the second-story windows of her neighbor's house.

"I am starving," said the sick woman in a voice that was pitifully weak; "can you help me?"

Mrs. Jadwin procured some food and falling to gain an entrance to the house, passed it up to the starving woman on a clothes pole. Every day this was repeated until Stratton discovered what was going on. Then he barricaded the windows.

But the neighbors managed to outwit the old man. One of their own keys fitted the lock on his door, and every day, when Stratton went out for a walk, they carried food up to his sick wife.

The belief was soon established in the neighborhood that old Stratton was trying to get rid of his wife, and an indignation meeting was held on Wednesday night by those who live in the vicinity.

A complaint was laid and a detective forced an entrance into the house. He discovered Mrs. Stratton in bed, almost too weak to speak. She said that she was being starved to death, and held up her arm, which was almost fleshless. Her husband was locked up until his trial.
He murmured something about being too poor to hire a nurse.

KILLED ON THE TRACK!

Michael Lalley, of This City, Was the Victim.

His Mangled Remains Found on the G. T. R. Rails in the East End—The Probable Circumstances of His Death—An Inquest.

Another unfortunate has met his death on the track.

Last night about 9 o'clock a telephone message was received by Night Agent Carroll, of the G. T. R. station here, informing him that the remains of an unknown man were lying on the track near the old race course in the East End. Some men had reported so to the switchmen out there.

Mr. Carroll procured assistance, and with an engine and car set out for the spot.
There they found the stranger's body in a culvert. It was terribly mangled; one almost severed from the trunk by a wheel. The body was taken to the coroner's room for identification.

No one seemed to know the man for a while. Finally Frankman Ed. White recognized it as that of his brother-in-law, Michael Lalley, a local cigar-maker. Others came along, too, who knew him, and many sorrowful exclamations of "Poor Mike!" were heard.

The victim was about 23 years of age.
He was widely known in the city. His father, Michael Lalley, son, a politician, lived at 13 Palace street, and there Michael lived with his parents, one brother and two sisters. About a week ago he left the city for Detroit it was supposed at the time. The circumstances of his death are not clear as yet. The most plausible theory at first was that he was riding on the west-bound Pacific Express which reaches the main line, and that was the last train to pass over it before the body was found.

As it was an unfrequented locality, his presence there cannot otherwise be accounted for.

Coroner Flock was notified, and an inquest will be held to-morrow, at which Ferguson's, whether the body was removed.

SOME LIGHT ON THE ACCIDENT.
An important side light was thrown upon the circumstances surrounding the death of Michael Lalley in the Police Court this morning. James Connor and Mathias Charlebois were arrested at Harrisburg by Grand Trunk Constable Logan on a charge of vagrancy. It appears that they were confining with Lalley at the exhibition race course yesterday afternoon and evening. The unfortunate, they allege, was somewhat under the influence of liquor.
He attempted to get on several trains, but was forcibly detained by his companions.
When, however, early in the evening, a freight train came gliding down the track at a pretty good rate of speed, Connor and Charlebois, who were anxious to get to Hamilton, decided to avail themselves of this opportunity, and jumped on. Lalley, although his two chums have no actual eye-knowledge of this fact—was less fortunate. He must have fallen under the wheels with fatal results. On Mr. Logan's recommendation, the prisoners were remanded until next Friday in order that they may appear at the inquest this afternoon.

Dr. C. I. T. Campbell.

Dr. C. I. T. Campbell, of this city, has recently been crowned with a new honor.
He has been elected president of the Provincial Medical Council, and now stands, officially, at the head of the profession in Ontario.

Fifty years ago—Dec. 27, 1843—Dr.
Campbell was born in London. At an early age he was connected with newspaper journalism, but soon abandoned this vocation for study of medicine. His education in this profession was obtained in the Cleveland Western Medical College and the Homoeopathic College at Philadelphia. On graduating he commenced practice in his city. This he has continued—with an interruption of four years spent in Stratford—without cessation since that time. Dr. Campbell's professional abilities have been amply recognized by the employment of his services in almost every local charitable institution. He is medical examiner for the Royal Arcanum, has been a valued member of the consulting staff of the General Hospital and also of the Board of Health for some time. He served with great acceptance on the Board of Education and was elected chairman before he retired.

The fraternal organization with which Dr. Campbell has been most prominently identified, and from which he has received the largest attainable reward for distinguished effort on its behalf, is the Independent Order of Oddfellows. He joined Dominion Lodge in this city in 1867. Two years later he was the representative of this subordinate body in the Grand Lodge of Ontario. In 1879 he was chosen to fill a similar position in the Sovereign Grand Lodge. Last year he was elected Sovereign Grand Sire—the pinnacle point of honor in Oddfellowship. Dr. Campbell has the distinction of being the first resident Canadian to occupy this position. He is the executive head of over 500,000 members—a rare distinction indeed.

PROF. CAMPBELL'S CASE.

Text of Maitland Presbytery's Overture.

John Charlton, M.P., Speaks on Sunday Observance.

BRANTFORD, June 16.—Following is the overture from the Presbytery of Maitland having reference to the teachings contained in a recent lecture delivered by Prof. John Campbell, D. D., of Montreal College, at Queen's College, Kingston, and entitled "The perfect book or the perfect Father?"

"Having seen no notice or overture by any other Presbytery upon the same subject this Presbytery of Maitland overture the venerable the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada cited to meet in the city of Brantford, Ont., on the 14th day of June, 1893, as follows:

"Whereas all ministers at their ordination and all professors at their induction into professorial chairs in the colleges of the Presbyterian Church in Canada solemnly declare that they believe the Scriptures to be the words of God and the only infallible rule of faith and manners, and that they believe the Westminster Confession of Faith as adopted by this church on the basis of union to be founded on and agreeable to the Word of God and promise in their teaching faithfully to adhere thereto.

"And whereas the Rev. John Campbell, LL.D., born at his ordination and also at his induction into the chair of church history and apologetics in the Presbyterian College, Montreal, made the foregoing declaration of belief and gave the foregoing promise, being the indispensable condition of his said ordination and induction;
and whereas the Rev. John Campbell, LL.D., professor of church history and apologetics in the Presbyterian College, Montreal, has, in an address delivered by him in Convocation Hall, Queen's College, Kingston, Feb. 23, 1893, corrected by himself publication, made use of language highly derogatory to the character of God, to the character and inspiration of the Scriptures, and the characters and writings of the inspired penman, etc., as for example:

"The prevailing Old Testament notion concerning God was that of an oriental monarch subject to no law, ruling absolutely, sitting upon the circle of the earth and looking down upon his grasshoppers beneath; a warrior king he goes forth to fight for Israel against the people of Canaan, an avenger he takes the little ones of Babylon and dashes them against the stones, etc.; we find God tempting Abraham to commit murder and David number Israel to his people's destruction; sending living spirits to deceive and commanding Moses to sin falsely, save in the Book of Job, 21st chapter of 1 Chronicles, and a few other places. The Old Testament writers merged two supernatural agents most diverse in power and character, namely, God and his creature demon, into one. If you are an intelligent Christian, zealous for your Father's reputation, you can read between the lines and tell when God speaks and when the evil one, but your reading does not exonerate the sacred writers. It is in vain God says I am the Lord that health thee, for he sends plague and pestilence on Egyptian, Israelite and As-syrrian. It is of infinitely more importance to believe in an infallible God than in an infallible book; the latter is vulgar delirium. When I come to investigate this book I find that those to whom God spoke at sundry times and in divers manner had very different and contradicting views of God. The infallible teaching of Christ reveals the fallibility of preceding teaching. Divine perfection set forth in the New Testament declare the untruthfulness of the statement in Samuel." And much more of the same nature.

"And whereas, watching over and preserving the church the sound teaching of the scriptural standards in her colleges and pulpits is a primary duty of the supreme court of the church; therefore the Presbytery of Maitland humbly overture the venerable the General Assembly to take such steps as shall uphold in the colleges of the church the teachings of her scriptural standards, remove from the minds of the people the well-grounded anxiety and alarm awakened by the address at Kingston, complained of, and deal with Prof.
Campbell as faithfulness to himself and the best interest of the church demand."

It was decided, on the motion of Principal Caven, of Toronto, to leave the matter to be dealt with in the constitutional manner by the Presbytery of Montreal.

At the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church to-day the members had under consideration the subject of Sunday observance. Mr. John Charlton, M.P., who is an elder delegate, made a strong speech in favor of legislating to prevent the desecration of the Sabbath. After the matter had been pretty well threshed out it was agreed to remit the question to a special committee for further consideration and report.

A long discussion ensued on an overture from the Presbytery of Guelph that elders should be presented with a copy of the minutes of the General Assembly proceeedings.

The Rev. Thos. Duncan, D.D., the delegate of the Established Church of Scotland, presented his commission and conveyed the greetings of that venerable body to the Canadian Church.

The evening was devoted to foreign mission work, when addresses were delivered by Rev. Mr. Vican, of Honan China; H. A.
Wilson, of Indre India, Winchester, of British Columbia, and the Venerable Rev.
J. G. Patton, the veteran missionary of the New Hebrides.

Dr. Thompson, of Sarnia, read the report of the committee of the rolls. The committee ruled that two ministers who had been appointed by certain presbyteries as elders to the Assembly could not act, as they were also ministers and on the roll of the Presbytery as such.

Dr. Nichol, of Brantford, was appointed to the Assembly as elder from the Presbytery of Winnipeg, but as he was not, or never had been, an elder of the Presbyterian Church, therefore he could not act.
The same remarks applied to Mr. Alex.
Robertson, of the B. N. A. Bank, Brantford.

The total receipts for home missions and augmentation for the year throughout the church were $142,820.29. Over 340 fields and nearly 100 stations are supplied through the home mission committee, and these aid-receiving places contribute towards their own maintenance over $62, 000.

ANOTHER VICTIM!

Wm. Hetherington, of This City, Killed on the C. P. R.,

By the Westbound Express at the Water loo Street Crossing—An Old Resident of Middlesex—His Family.

Still another was added to the list of deaths on the railroad this morning.

The C. P. R. express, No. 5, from the east, due here at 11:05, ran into and killed a man on the corner of Waterloo street.
It was within a block of the station. The man was crossing Pall Mall street leisurely and seeing the approaching train increased his speed. Unfortunately the engine struck him on the right side, hurling him off the track. The victim died in a few minutes.
The body was at once removed to a stable at the rear of Carling's old brewery, where it remained unidentified for over an hour.
Shortly before 1 o'clock Mr. Thos. Hetherington viewed the body and was horrified to find his father cold in death.

From what can be learned Wm. Hetherington was warned of the approaching train by the watchman at the crossing. The train was in charge of Conductor Glenden-ing, of Toronto, and Engineer Spragg, of Parkdale, and was running at a moderate rate of speed.

Deceased was born in England, 74 years ago, and 38 years ago emigrated to Canada, settling on the eighth concession of London township. Here he was engaged as a farmer for 22 years when he moved into the city and has since lived a retired life with his son Thomas, at 620 Pall Mall street. He had six other children, all of whom are living and married. They are as follows: Nathan and William, of this city; John, of St. John's; Mrs. G. Gays, of this city; Mrs.
John Bush, of Chicago; Mrs. Crowell Swartz, of St. John's, and Mrs. John Fisher, of Fingert. They have the sympathy of many friends in their hour of bereavement.
Coroner Flock was notified and the body was removed to Ferguson's morgue. An inquest will be held at 7 o'clock this evening.

THE OPEN FORUM.

Something About Drink—
To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

A great deal has been said of late about adulterated drinks of all kinds, except pop, and the effect upon the constitution.
Will you please answer, through the columns of your valuable paper, the following:

Is ginger ale, lemon sort, birch beer, sarsaparilla, crab apple champagne, mineral waters and soda water pure drinks, and good for the kidneys, liver or dyspepsia? made as follows: To make 28 dozen quarts of ginger ale, and the cost, with corks, 25 cents per dozen quarts, 1 pound extract of ginger, 1 pound citric acid, 10 1/2 ounces tartaric acid, 24 ounces caramel color, 4 ounces soda foam, with 7 gallons of syrup, 60 cents, making 28 dozen quarts, 34 pounds sulphuric acid, the pressure in produced in the generator by the oil of vitriol and marble dust agitated through 66 gallons of water at 150 to 200 pounds pressure to the square inch. This is what makes it sparkling. One man can make 100 dozen quarts of any of these drinks per day. To make 28 gallons of soda water, 30 pounds marble dust, 24 pounds soda, 17 pounds sulphuric acid; the cost, 3 cents per gallon. The strength of sulphuric acid is 66 degrees, being the standard of oil of vitriol. I challenge any pop or soda water works in Canada that uses either old or new apparatus to deny this statement now in the spirit of fair play. I remain, sir, your obedient servant,

JAMES CORDEY,
729 King street east, London.

Queen's Avenue, the Beautiful.
It is not often that property on Queen's avenue changes hands. Once acquired it is usually held for high prices, as the contiguity of the avenue to the business centers, combined with its almost suburban veridure and beauty, makes it an especially choice location. Mr. J. W. Jones, auctioneer, will sell No. 317 Queen's avenue (between Wellington and Waterloo), on the premises, on Thursday, the 22nd inst., at 12 noon. Recent sales on this avenue have reached $50 per foot.
