THE ST. LOUIS FIRE Six Members of the Brigade Were Killed—Others Badly Hurt—Names of the Victims.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 5.—It was positively ascertained that only six men all firemen, lost their lives in last night's fire. Three of the bodies have been recovered. The dead are: August Thierly, first assistant chief; Michael Kehoe, assistant foreman of company No. 13; Daniel W. Steele, foreman of company No. 12; William Dundie, foreman of company No. 23; Franklin McBride, truckman; Charles Krenning, pipeman of company No. 12. The injured are Chief Swingley; Wm. Wann, foreman of No. 13; Patrick McCarthy, engineer of No. 6; Monroe Moore, electric light inspector; Wm. Juel, driver of Assistant Chief Thierly; Frank Lingo, assistant driver of truck No. 6, bruised and hurt internally.

LOSS OF THE ANTELOPE. Boston, Feb. 5.—It was learned to-day that Mrs. Miller, the wife of Capt. Charles L. Miller, of the lost coal barge Antelope, was not on board, as before reported. It is now certain that the Antelope and the five men on board went down in the recent storm.

A GROUNDED STEAMER FLOATED Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 5.—The British steamer Claverdale, from China and Japan, for New York, which went ashore on Brigantine shoal during Saturday night's storm, was floated with the aid of several tugs today. The Claverdale was apparently uninjured and proceeded to New York.

AFTER THE CORONATION

The King and Queen May Visit Ireland.

Youngest Daughter of the Late Queen Victoria a Coroner.

Welshmen Propose to Move Their Patagonia Colony to Canada—Conan Doyle on German Anglophobia.

London, Feb. 5.—It is stated that King Edward and Queen Alexandra will not pay their proposed visit to Ireland until after the coronation.

PRINCESS ACTS AS CORONER. Princess Henry of Battenburg, the youngest daughter of the late Queen Victoria, is at present the coroner of the Isle of Wight. She is the governor of the island, and in default of her appointment of a coroner, must fulfill the duties of that office.

The coroner died suddenly one day last week. The next day a sailor belonging to a yacht was drowned at Cowes. The princess was duly notified of the drowning, and of her duty to hold an inquest. Of course she appointed a deputy to do the disagreeable work, but she had to counterbalance the verdict of the jury before it was forwarded to the home office.

BRITISH REPLY TO THE DUTCH. London, Feb. 5.—Following is the conclusion of Lord Lansdowne's note in reply to the Dutch premier (the first part appearing in last evening's Advertiser):

"I may, therefore, point out that it is not at present clear to his majesty's government that the delegates retain any influence over the representatives of the Boers in South Africa, or have any voice in their councils. They are stated by the Netherlands Government to have no such letters of credence or instruction of a later date than March 1900. His majesty's government, on the other hand, understood that all the powers of government, including those of the Boers, were now completely vested in the Mr. Steyn, for the Boers of the Orange River Colony, and Mr. Schalk Burger, for those of the Transvaal. If this is so, it is evident that the quickest and most satisfactory means of arranging a settlement would be by direct communication."

"I have, therefore, to inform you that the Netherlands Government, in the consideration of his majesty's government, in these circumstances his majesty's government has decided that if the Boer leaders should desire to enter into negotiations for the purpose of bringing the Boer war to a close, these negotiations must take place."

NOT IN EUROPE, BUT IN SOUTH AFRICA. "It should, moreover, be borne in mind that if the Boer leaders are to occupy time in visiting South Africa, in consulting with Boer leaders in the field, and in returning to Europe, for the purpose of making known the results of their errand, a pause of several months would be prolonged, and much human suffering, perhaps, needlessly occasioned."

"I have, therefore, to inform you that the Netherlands Government, in the consideration of his majesty's government, in these circumstances his majesty's government has decided that if the Boer leaders should desire to enter into negotiations for the purpose of bringing the Boer war to a close, these negotiations must take place."

WELSHMEN FOR CANADA. Mr. Chamberlain has appointed Monday, Feb. 17, for the reception of the colonial office of the Welsh deputation for the Welsh settlers in Patagonia to Canada. The deputation will be the most important of the kind that has been organized in recent years, as the whole principality is most keenly interested in the suggestion that their fellow-countrymen should return to the province of the British flag, while it is also fully recognized in Wales that Canada offers opportunities much more than those of South America. The present deputation is the result of the reports on the Welsh settlement in Patagonia, which has been made by Messrs. W. G. Griffiths and Rees, who were sent to investigate the possibilities of transferring the Welsh colony to Canada, and the Hon. Mr. C. Parker, Rev. Prof. Godeffroy and Ald. Urquhart. The government promised the usual consideration.

At the close of the conference Dr. Courtice said:

"The purpose of the deputation was to suggest to the government that in the proposed legislation relating to the liquor traffic, provision should be made that the sale of intoxicating liquors for permitted purposes should be under direct government control, and that the principle of government ownership should be so far introduced into the liquor legislation of this country as to make it apply to the sale of liquor for these purposes under any prohibitory legislation which may be introduced. The Manitoba bill throws the permitted traffic entirely into the hands of wholesale and retail druggists, with restricted hours only for wholesalers, but not for retailers. The question is whether such provisions were best in the interests of the enforcement of laws."

native as governors of provinces. Captain Harry H. Bandholtz, of the Second Infantry, defeated Major Cornelius H. Gardner, of the Thirteenth Infantry, the present governor of Transvaal. The military men claim that accepting elective office will necessitate resignation from the army.

WHAT GEN. LEE SAYS. Adjutant-General Corbin, of the United States army, was questioned in regard to Gen. Lee's statement in parliament about having been offered the services of the chief horse expert of the United States army in securing horses in this country for South Africa, and said that this was the first that he (Corbin) had heard of it. What he did know as a fact was that there had been no correspondence on the part of the adjutant-general's office with Gen. Lee or anyone else to warrant the statement that the United States had assisted the British operations in South Africa by the shipment of horses, or any other way. More-over, Gen. Corbin said he did not know what was meant by the expression "chief horse expert," there being no such office in the United States military service.

RENEGADE ENGLISHMEN RESPONSIBLE. Miss Porteous, of Galt, Ont., who was a passenger on the steamship Numidian, from Natal, South Africa, says that renegade Englishmen
