STOCK MARKETS. NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Comerce building, received the following by rivate wire from Bartlett, Frazier & arrington today: New York, Oct. 21—Noon.—Today's mar-New York, Oct. 21—Noon.—Foday's mar-let agreeably contradicts the pessimistic predictions made before the opening, and the collapse of the Federal Bank of littsburg has had practically no effect whatever. There was some selling of littsburg has had practically no effect whatever. There was some selling of there was no pressure of stocks for sale.
The undertone of the market was firm and the buying good. The strength of the market manifested itself and an upward movement supervened. During the forenoon session the market has been consistently strong. Lower London prices slid not suffice either to induce liquidation or heavy selling. London, however, was a seller for a time. At the end of was a seller for a time. A the end of the first hour London ceased to sell and the first hour London ceased to sell and a short covering movement took place, which strengthened the market. Alton was strong at the opening and fairly well maintained since. Sugar is well bought and strong. The Steel stocks are firm and the industrial list reflects no weakness. The grangers are well taken and the whole list shows an effective and the whole list shows an effective essistance to all had news. It seems eviesistance to all bad news. It seems evi-

AMERICAN MARKETS. CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Com-nerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington yesterday: Chicago, Oct. 20.—Wheat—This was another nervous day in the wheat pit, and prices made quick changes. The Decem-ber was bought by elevator interests, and this and the rather strong northwestern cash news were the bull factors. The northwestern features, particularly at Minneapolis, showed snap. Country purchases of spring wheat are said to be very light, and the cash market at Minneapolis strong. No. 2 northern selling reely at 831/2c. Bradstreet's shows oushels increase in the world's available supply, compared with an increase a year ago of 9,567,000 bushels. This was played as a bull card by the traders. December option acts congested at times, and its rapid fluctuations restricts outside trade. Weather conditions were perfect for movement. Cables were indifferent. Liverpool was 1/8c lower. Estimated tomorrow, 85 cars. Corn—There was a better tone to the corn market during the morning, based on the excellent cash business worked late yesterday, which aggregated 70 loads for export and 600,000 bushels for shipment. Country offerings were moderate. The feeling among traders is that the present prices are about right, and it is not wise to become too bearish after the break of 10c in the past month. We favor working the bull side. Bradstreet's visible supply increased 42,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 225

Oats-The oat market was dull again today, with fluctuations following in a mild way the changes in the wheat pit. Cash purchases are somewhat mader, as are also the consignments. There was very little doing in the way of shipping sales. Bradstreet's visible supply increas ed 1,304,000 bushels. Cars tomorrow, 165. Provisions opened strong. The receipts here and at western points fell off con shorts in lard, and a bullish pit crowd to help them. Prices early were about at yesterday's close. The cash demand for meats was a little better, and packers made the best of it, and bid the market up as high as possible without doing much buying. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 22,000 hogs. TOLEDO.
