Writ Issued on Behalf of Mr. F. or obtain ice for domestic use or for ponds of the plaintiff. On the ground that such regulation and regulations are ultra vires of the said board of health and the members thereof and for damages.' Apparently the cause for the action lies in the fact that the board of health, which under the statutes is empowered to regulate such matters as the ice supply, has not the power to prohibit, And as clause 4 of the board's regulations now stand, Mr. Bennett is abso lutely prohibited from cutting or selling ice from his pond for all time, or until the clause is repealed. The ques tion thus is, has the board the power to say that even though Mr. Bennett's ponds were cleaned and purified, so as o meet all the requirements of the bacteriological and chemical tests, ice shall not be cut from them? New York, March 21 (Special Correspondence).—The seeming miracles of healing performed by that famous scientist and panopath of this city, Dr. Wallace Hadley, his startling cures of men and women given up to die by doctors, have been so wonderful in both method and results that they have awakened universal praise, astonishment and mystery among professional men and the general public alike. In the face of doctors' verdicts and apparent impossibilities this man has taken invalids pronounced hopelessly incurable and restored them to life and health when all other means have and health when all other means have himself, when, luckly for him, his case failed.

Was brought to my attention. I saved failed.

Considerable curiosity has been aroused by these phenomenal cures, both because they are so wonderful in themselves and blood of the very root of the disease, and POBIEDONOSTZEFF TO CZAR also that this worker of wonders prorestored the man to perfect health. Ar

In partial explanation he states that he has discovered the saw an opening through his skull as a greatest of life's laws, that apparently has been overlooked by previous searchinger and half an inch long came out crs after the secret of nature. And it is evident beyond doubt that this discovery terrible. He had abandoned all hope, and clived him a rever over disease and death thought, nothing, but the grave waited. evident beyond doubt that this discovery gives him a power over disease and death not possessed by ordinary mortals. So certain is he of his ability that he claims and offers to prove that there is no disease he may not cure. Astounding as that assertion appears to be, there is plenty of evidence to support it. In one case, if not in more, by means of the mysterious power he possesses, he is stated to have made the human heart beat again, reviving the flickering spark of life when all but extinguished, and curing diseases that baffled the skill of the best doctors and specialists. He appears to loctors and specialists. He appears to again and my blood flow through my veins once more. I was very despondent when you came to my rescue. My stom-

I do not want to pose as a philanthropist, but I have my own ideas as to the best use to make of the money I have, and I know of no better way to spend it than to make life easier for those who are in the grasp of pain and disease. I have made both my money and my discovery unaided, and if I choose to use both in laboring for the health of man-kind I am spire that I am the same way as those described in the Bible.
