

KING GEORGE IN PLEA FOR GOOD WILL TO ERIN

His Majesty in Proroguing
Parliament Hopes For Enduring Peace.

PRAISES ARMS PARLEY

Hopes Hostilities in Anatolia
Will Be Concluded At An Early Date.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The earnest hope that the work of the disarmament conference in Washington will be rewarded by success was expressed by King George in the speech from the throne proroguing Parliament today.

Anxiety was still being caused by the situation with regard to Ireland, his Majesty said, in exhorting the leaders of all parties to patience and moderation so that friendship and co-operation might be established.

The text of the King's speech, in part, was as follows:

"The session of Parliament which closes today has been marked by events of great importance to the welfare of the British Empire and the peace of the world. It is not yet possible to say that peace is firmly established in Europe and it must be long before the world can recover from the sacrifices of war, but good progress has been made towards a solution of the critical problems of home and foreign affairs."

Particularly referring with satisfaction to the work of the imperial conference, his Majesty said:

"The text of the King's speech, in part, was as follows:

"The session of Parliament which closes today has been marked by events of great importance to the welfare of the British Empire and the peace of the world. It is not yet possible to say that peace is firmly established in Europe and it must be long before the world can recover from the sacrifices of war, but good progress has been made towards a solution of the critical problems of home and foreign affairs."

"I am happy to know that on all these issues my Government here and overseas are in perfect accord. The conference gave serious attention to the defense of the Empire and the maintenance of an adequate measure of sea power; it was unanimously decided that the naval strength of the Empire should be equal to that of any other power."

Brief references were made to the satisfactory progress made by Germany in the execution of the financial and disarmament obligations under the treaty of Versailles, the settlement of the trouble in Upper Silesia and the league council's Silesian award. Upon the latter subject the King said:

"There is reason to hope that the recommendations of the award will be loyally carried out by the two parties principally concerned, and that a peaceful and honorable settlement will result."

The establishment of peace between the Allied powers and Hungary by the treaty signed at Trianon in July was referred to, and the King continued:

"Efforts made by my Government at the Allied conference in March and in June to establish peace in the Near East were in each case rendered fruitless by a renewed outbreak of hostilities between the Greek and Turkish forces in Anatolia. It is my earnest desire to see these hostilities followed by an early and just peace, and my Government is prepared, in conjunction with the other Allies, to take the first opportunity of furthering this."

"I have followed with great interest the steps taken by the president of the United States to promote the reduction of expenditure on armaments, an object which commands the fullest sympathy of my government," continued the King. "It was in this spirit that my Government gladly accepted the invitation extended by the United States Government to the conference on disarmament to be held in Washington. It is my earnest hope that the labors of the conference will be crowned with success."

"The situation in Ireland still causes me great anxiety. I earnestly exhort the leaders of all parties in Ireland and all those in whose hands lies the power to influence the negotiations and discussions now proceeding to exercise patience and moderation with the object of establishing friendship and co-operation between by people of that country."

Hopes for Peace.

"It is my firm belief, as it is my earnest prayer, that with forbearance and goodwill, and with an honest resolve to tread the paths of love and forgiveness, enduring peace will finally be achieved."

"The past summer has been notable for the occurrence of the most serious industrial conflict which ever menaced the prosperity of our realm. I take pride in the calm and serene spirit with which the trials of the coal stoppage were met by my people and the freedom of strife and violence which characterized its course. This dispute, however, was aggravated by the adverse effect of the sudden world-wide trade depression which has inflicted upon the industries of this country the most grievous experience in their history."

"The measures recently passed by Parliament for dealing with the problem of unemployment and the revival of trade were next reviewed, and then the King continued:

"The peaceful settlement of many difficult disputes by mutual negotiation between the employers and the work people, together with home indications of the revival of trade, encourage my hope that the worst may be over and that the state of employment may show signs of improvement. But the situation is still full of anxiety and my ministers will continue to devote to this problem vigilant care."

"It is not, however, so much the acts of Parliament as to the proved good sense of employers and operatives working together for the promotion of their common interests that I look for the restoration of trade and prosperity. Concluding with an allusion to the difficult financial situation, the King said:

"The imperative need for the further curtailment of expenditure measures already passed, and the postponement of happier times of the completion of other reforms. I pray that the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon your labors."

GOVERNOR COURTS
PEOPLE'S TRUST

Wants Ontario To Feel Government House Is Sympathetic

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Premier Lloyd George today expressed confidence in the House of Commons that the Sinn Fein negotiators were doing all they could to see that the terms of the truce in Ireland were observed.

Answering questions on the Irish situation, the premier reiterated his hope that the Irish negotiations would prove successful. With regard to violations of the truce, he said:

"I view with great concern breaches of the truce that occur in Ireland. They are at once taken up through the machinery established for the purpose, and we are satisfied that the representatives of the Sinn Fein with whom we are negotiating are doing their best to secure observance of the terms of the truce."

In reply to a question as to whether adequate arrangements had been made for the protection of Ulster and the loyal population of Southern Ireland in the event of a breakdown of the negotiations, Mr. Lloyd George replied:

"It has been agreed that if the negotiations unhappily should break down there would be a reasonable notice of the termination of the truce, and His Majesty's Government would, of course, do all in their power to protect the life and property of those in Ireland. It is not desirable to make any statement regarding measures the Government have taken and are prepared to take, but that contingency, I hope, will not arise."

OSHAWA AUDIENCE
HOSTILE TO CRERAR

Heckles Candidate Repeatedly On Protection Issue.

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 10.—(By Staff Correspondent, Canadian Press)—In the industrial town of Oshawa tonight, Hon. T. A. Crerar had a mixed battle with hecklers. It was a sharp battle with hecklers, it was a mixed audience of farmers and industrial workers that he met and from the outset it was evidenced that lively clashes lay ahead. As the interruptions came fast and faster Mr. Crerar warmed to the conflict.

The trouble began when Mr. Crerar was on his tariff policy. He was claiming that the argument of a home market for the Canadian farmer would not stand examination when a questioner wanted to know if it was not a fact that the cities of Montreal and Toronto together contained one-eighth of the population of Canada. If so, should not Progressives, instead of passing "class legislation" for farmers, pay attention to dwellers in the city districts? "My friend is using his imagination and not his reason," replied Mr. Crerar. He continued that he had not the exact figures of the population of Montreal and Toronto, but it was considerable.

He added, "has been to build up big populations in cities."

"But what is the condition of agriculture? Does the prosperity of Canada not depend on the prosperity of agriculture?" asked Mr. Crerar.

"I want to say, further," Mr. Crerar was proceeding, when the questioner again endeavored to interrupt.

"Is it not a fact that Montreal," but he could get no further until the chairman urged that there would be no more interruptions.

After the noise had subsided Mr. Crerar continued:

"It is true we have built up industries and great cities. But I want to ask you what position those industries will be in if agriculture is not prosperous?"

Denies Price plea.

"The farmer does not get the price unless the city worker buys from him," he shouted another voice.

"I would prefer not to be interrupted," Mr. Crerar replied in warm tones. "I do not mind answering questions."

He continued: "If agriculture is not

Lloyd George Sure Sinn Fein Are Keeping Truce Inviolable

LONDON, England, Nov. 10.—Premier Lloyd George today expressed confidence in the House of Commons that the Sinn Fein negotiators were doing all they could to see that the terms of the truce in Ireland were observed.

Methodist Social Service Department Opposes Divorce

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—Declaring against divorce, the department of social service and evangelism of the Methodist Church in Canada passed a resolution at its meeting here today as follows:

"We are convinced that the joining of one man and one woman in holy wedlock until death do them part and fidelity on their part to that bond is fundamental to the progress of human society and the salvation of humanity. We are therefore against divorce."

With reference to an act passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature to legitimize children born out of wedlock, a resolution was passed containing the following clause:

"We cordially approve of the tendency of recent legislation to provide for the removal of illegitimacy from the children of unmarried parents, and to make provision for the care of such children by holding the father responsible for their support."

A special commission was appointed to survey the work of the merging of the department of social service and evangelism of the Methodist Church with similar departments of the other denominations entering the union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches. This committee consists of the following: Rev. Dr. Albert Moore, Rev. J. A. Long, Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, Messrs. J. O. McCarthy and O. Hezlewood.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED BY WOMEN TO GET VOTE

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.—(By Canadian Press)—When has a woman the right to vote? This question is being generally asked in Canada today especially in view of the recent amendments to the Dominion election act, which give women a vote, although these rules apply equally to male voters. The person must have resided in Canada for the year immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ of election, and must have ordinarily resided in the electoral district in which he or she votes for the two months immediately preceding the polling day. Women, as well as men, may not vote, who, in the province in which they desire to vote, are disqualified by their particular provincial laws from voting for a member of the legislative assembly. Prisoners undergoing punishment for criminal offences, patients in lunatic asylums, persons maintained partially or wholly in municipal poorhouses or houses of industry, persons who are inmates of any charitable institution receiving provincial government aid and those persons disfranchised for corrupt or illegal practices cannot vote.

ANATOLE FRANCE WINS
NOBEL PRIZE FOR 1921

SOCKHOLM, Nov. 10.—The Swedish Academy today awarded the 1921 Nobel prize in literature to Anatole France, noted French author.

Anatole France is the fourth French writer to receive the Nobel prize in literature since its foundation in 1901 by Alfred B. Nobel, noted Swedish chemist, inventor of dynamite, who created in his will a foundation of some $9,000,000, the proceeds of which provided for annual prizes of about $20,000 each in physics, medicine, chemistry, literature and peace.

TWENTY-FIVE—I can quite understand that you are worried about your skin becoming so dry, because there is nothing that will kill a good complexion so quickly as the dry atmosphere of Canadian houses during the winter time. And, of course, continuous housework will run any hands unless you do something to prevent it. The best thing you can do is to rub CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM well into your face and on your hands after each washing, and especially every night and morning. CAMPANA'S is very efficacious and a very wonderful remedy. You can buy CAMPANA'S ITALIAN BALM at any Druggist's, 40c a large bottle.

He continued: "If agriculture is not prosperous the country will not be prosperous, and grass will grow in the streets of your cities." He then cited population statistics to show that in spite of immigration the population of Canada is one and a half millions less at present than it should be. Where had those one and a half millions gone? He asked of his hecklers.

"They have gone to a country under protection," came from the back of the hall, and there were cheers and jeers.

"Why have they left if Canada has been made prosperous by protection?" Mr. Crerar asked. "The fact is, Canada is not prosperous. Farmers were not prosperous as they should be."

"Where do they get their cigars and cars?" the query broke in sharply amid cheers and laughter.

Mr. Crerar was later reviewing the growth of commerce in Canada, when he mentioned James Murdock, formerly of the board of commerce. "We are waiting for Mr. Murdock," cheerfully shouted one of the crowd. Again there was laughter.

The battle, while sharp, was good-humored, and Mr. Crerar afterward continued his speech without further trouble.

Catarrh Of the Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It." See Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How To Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furrowed, coated tongue, bad breath, sour, burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucus membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the foods and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented, unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bismarck's Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the Bismarck's Magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover, the Bismarck's Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow.

Bismarck's is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bismarck's Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc., but get it in the pure Bismarck form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose. —Advt.

STATEMENTS MAY
CLEAR ARBUCKLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 10.—Counsel for Roscoe C. Arbuckle today declared that sworn statements by Dr. Arthur Beardslee and George Glennon, house detective at the Hotel St. Francis, which tend to clear Arbuckle of criminal responsibility in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, are in the hands of District Attorney Matthew F. Brady.

Referred to the "disorganization, dissension and disruption in almost every walk of Canada's national life," he urged the people to pull together for the common interests of the country.

"We all love Canada," the lieutenant-governor declared. "We have red blood in our veins; we are men of the North. We can unite in a single cause and make progress. We must make progress. We shall."

His honor paid high tribute to the technical, industrial, religious and magazine press of Canada. He expressed the opinion that it, even more than the daily press, was accepted as a guide and counselor by its readers, and he urged the editors to recognize their responsibilities in this connection.
