CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS.

ONTARIO.

It is usual for the month of April to be characterized by a decline in the price of lumber in anticipation of the new cut, but the past month has been a notable exception. Prices of almost every grade of lumber are equally as firm as one month ago. The demand has been quite active, and sufficient to absorb nearly all the dry lumber on the market. There is practically no merchantable pine that has not passed out of first hands. A large percentage of the new cut has also been contracted for at prices considerably higher than those ruling one year ago. It is, probable, however, that those who have bought will be on the right side of the market, as should any quantity of logs be hung up, as now seems probable, the result would be a further stiffening of prices. That a shortage in the log supply is anticipated is shown by the fact that logs are changing hands in the Georgian Bay district at $11 per thousand feet. It is said that on the north shore several million feet are hung up. Among the grades of lumber most in demand are 10 and 12 inch dressing and better and 6 inch strips. Several sales of mill culls have been made at high figures. Manufacturers report more liberal buying of hardwoods, with less disposition to scrutinize the inspection.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

Interest now centres on the log drives. The situation has not improved and the prospects for getting the logs to the mills are not encouraging. Satisfactory progress is being made on the Tobique river but the conditions on the St. John have been less favorable. There has been considerable buying of spruce deals for the British market, as shippers seem to fear a shortage in the supply. It is estimated that the shipments from Nova Scotia will be considerably less than last year. Cedar shingles continue firm, while there has been a slight decline in the price of spruce lath.

MANITOBA AND BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The lumber trade in Manitoba and the Territories is steadily increasing in volume. Building operations in Winnipeg and the country towns are becoming quite active and will call for a large quantity of lumber. An advance in the price of white pine lumber has been put into effect by the manufacturers. It is equal to about fifty cents per thousand feet on timber and dimension, boards, shiplap, flooring, siding and ceiling. This is likely to be followed by a corresponding advance in retail prices. It is understood that the
