

Yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.—Isaiah xlii: 10.

THE WORK.

NOTWITHSTANDING the extremely hot weather that has prevailed during the past week, our meetings have been well sustained. There were sixty-five young men at the meeting on Saturday evening, and we had a warm time in more than one sense of the word. There was the greatest personal liberty experienced, and the time was fully occupied. We were cheered by the presence of Bro. A. Munro, Railway Secretary, at Troy, N.Y., and Mr. Marsh, an Evangelist, labouring with the Canadian Evangelistic Society.

The attendance at the Young Men's Bible Class on Monday last, was not quite as large as usual, but this is easily accounted for in the fact that it was the Civic Holiday, and many of our Young Men improved the opportunity for a few day's pleasure on the lake, or some of the Parks. There were twenty present.

The Training Class still attracts the workers. Five weeks have been spent in a general study of the Bible, and last Thursday this line was reviewed and illustrated by diagrams and models, prepared for the purpose. In this way the teaching of past weeks has been impressed upon the members of the class.

The Boys' Meeting is well attended. The committee in charge is indefatigable in its efforts, and these labors are being rewarded.

The Devotional Committee is making arrangements for special work during the coming fall. We expect to secure the services of Mr. John Currie, and of Mr. J. Schiverai. The meetings will be exclusively for Young Men, with exception of the Sunday evening services, which as usual will be open. In view of these services we ask our friends to bear in mind the request made in the first page of this issue.

NOT WANTED.

DID you ever have a period in your life when you felt as if no one wanted you? I had that experience for about two days, and it nearly broke my heart. I wanted to die. It was a terrible thought that no one wanted me. I was a stranger in a strange city, looking for work. I went from place to place, and got only a gruff answer: "No, sir;" "No, sir." No one wanted me.

It seems as if the Son of God must have had something of that feeling down here; no one wanted Him. The world did not want Him; it took Him and put Him to death. If He should come into this audience and go from seat to seat, would you say, "No, Jesus, I do not want you; go thy way this time?" or would you open your heart and let Him in? Oh, may God help every unsaved soul here to receive the Son of God! He has gone up on high to make room there for us. We are told in one place that He looked towards heaven and sighed. He saw sickness and disease and death all around Him, and no one wanted him, so He looked toward home. I can imagine He was homesick. There He was loved by all. O sinner, won't you have this rejected King? Won't you do as Martha and Mary did—receive him into your heart and home this very hour?—D. L. Moody.

The Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory.
