A MAN SHOT FOR TREADING ON A RUFFIAN'S TOES. -At the Maryland Cattle Show, held in Baltimore, last week, two men were standing a short distance from the ring, near the entrance gate, when two others passed in. In passing, their attention was attracted, and one of them accidentally trod on the bott of one of the two who were standing. He im-mediately apologized for the action, but as he stooped to go under the railing, the party whose foot had hten trod on, drew a revolver and fired three shots in succession at him. One of the balls touched his times in the face. The party who fired, with the leisurely walked away from the grounds.

CURIOUS LAW SUIT .- A novel law suit was tried lately at the Supreme Judicial Court of Machias, Maine. A rev. preacher named Osgood sued one of his parishioners, one Joseph Crandon for sixteen dallars—the amount of salary due by the latter to the former :- Hiram P. Osgood vs. Joseph Crandon. This action was brought to recover sixteen dollars subscribed by defendant towards paying for plaintiff's services as preacher of the gospel. In the testimony it appeared that the money was not to be paid if the plaintiff preached politics," which the defendant thought he did, and consequently withheld payment. The jury failed to agree, after being LAW OF DIVORCE IN INDIANA .- The people of Indiana appear to be about ready to remove the dis-Judge Test of that State, in giving his opinion in a divorce case recently before him, said that "the advocates of free-love could not ask for the enactment of statutes more favorable to their views than the present divorce laws. Mormon polygamy is better, for that at least compels the husband to provide for and protect his numerous wives." The Fort Wayne Times complains of the same evil.— "In this county is a large lot of divorce applica-tions in behalf of parties who come here for that purpose, commit perjury as to residence, get divorced, and then go out to deceive some one else. It is an evil that ought to be dropped. The New Albany Tribune says there are thirty-two applications for divorce before the Circuit Court now sitting in that city, and adds:—"Sixty-four persons, principally residents of other States, want to shake off the silken bonds of Hymen. Who will say that it is not high time that our very liberal divorce laws should be amended?"

Daniel Webster had an anecdote of old Father Searl, the minister of his boyhood, which is too good to be lost. It was customary then to wear buckskin breeches in cold weather. One Sunday morning in the autumn, Father Searl brought his down from the garret; but the wasps had taken possession during the summer, and were having a nice time of it in them. By dint of an effort, however, he got out the intruders, and dressed for meeting. But while reading the Scriptures to the congregation, he lelt a dagger from one of the enraged small-waisted fellows, and jumped round the pulpit slapping his thighs. But the more he slapped and danced, the more they stung. The people thought him crazy, and were in commotion as to what to do; but he explained the matter by saying;—'Brethren, don't be alarmed; the word of the Lord is in my mouth, but the devil is in my breeches l'

The following story is told of Jemmy Maher, who has so long been the gardener of the Presidential mansion in Washington:—The President had heard rumored that Jemmy was accustomed to get drunk, and be uncivil to the visitors at the White House, so one bright morning he summoned him into his presence to receive his dismissal.—
"Jemmy," said the President, "I hear bad stories about you. It is said you are constantly drunk and uncivil to visitors." Jemmy was puzzled for a reply; at last he said:—" Mr. President, be dad, I hear much worse stories about you, but do you think I believe them? No, by the powers, I know they are

"An excommunicated person lost social caste; and for centuries this was an iron rod in the hands is to afford the utmost satisfaction to all persons, of ecclesiastics to keep the people in submission to spiritual authority. Happily for mankind, this species of despotism has lost its power, and commands the obedience of only the ignorant and enslaved." p. 60.

"James the II, by his bigotry, (he was a Roman Catholic,) tyranny, and oppression," &c. p. 89.
This is the sort of 'history' taught in the public schools of St. Louis to the Catholic children who attend, and these schools draw more than half their support from taxes on Catholic property! Does it grate harshly on your car, gentle reader? Be patient and go on;

"Early in the Spring, Salmon Falls, Sasco, and other Eastern villages, were attacked by another party of the same mongrel foe, the natural ferocity

"In these massacres, instiguted by the Jesuits, we may find a reason for the seeming intolerance of the Protestant majority in Maryland," &c.

"The most potent operations of the Jesuits were in secret, and the Colonists were compelled to regard every Roman Catholic us the natural enemy of Protestants, and as laboring to destroy every measure lending to human freedom."—p. 104.

Now, to say nothing of the manifest falsehoods, and the insidious sectarianism of the above passages, are they fit reading for the young? Can they have any wholesome effect upon the mind? or, are they not, in their very nature, calculated to keep alive ill-will between different professions of Christians?— Yet, the book from which we extract them is in daily use in all the public schools of this city—institutions which base one of their leading claims to support on the fact, that they contribute to molify prejudices, and impart an education free from sectarianism of any kind!

It is quite time that the liberal minded citizens of St Louis should take into serious consideration the present working of our school system. The Presbyterians already see in it the germs of an opposition to Christianity and complain that Unitarianism is openly favored to the exclusion of other isms; and Catholics can scarcely be expected to pay for the propagation of lies like these from Lossing's History. Let it be thoroughly overhauled, and at once. - Western Banner.

JONAS WHITCOME'S

REMEDY FOR ASTHMA, CATARRH, ROSE COLD, HAY FEVER, &c.

PREPARED from a German recipe, obtained by the ment dictates. late Jonas Whitcomb, in Europe. It is well known to have alleviated this disorder in his case, when all other appliances of medical skill had been abandoned by him in despair. In no case of purely Ashma-tic character, has it failed to give immediate relief, right cheek, producing a slight abrasion. His com-panion was knock'd down and kick'd three or four the past two years this remedy has been used in thousands of cases, with astonishing and uniform one to whom be was talking, after the outrage, success. It contains no poisonous or injurious properties whatever, an infant may take it with perfect safety.

[Letter from a Methodist Clergyman.]

WARDSBORO', Vt., May 12, 1857. Mr. BURNETT-I take great pleasure in briefly stating the wonderful effects of "Whitcomn's Remedy FOR THE ASTHMA," on my wife. She had suffered for years more than my pen can describe with the Spas-modic form of that terrible disease. I consulted numerous physicians of the highest celebrity to very little or no purpose. As often as ten or twelve times in a year, she was brought to the very gates of death -requiring two or three watchers sometimes, for several days and nights in succession. At times, for hours, it would seem as if every breath must be the last. We were obliged to open doors and windows in mid-winter, and resort to every expedient that affection could devise to keep her alive. At one time she was so far gone, that her physician could not count the pulse. At length I heard of your "Remedy"—it acted like a charm; it enabled her to sleep quietly in a few minutes, and nearly broke up the disease. I keep it constantly on hand—and though it has not cured her, it has done wonders in the way of relief. I have never known it fail in more than one or two instances of affording immediate relief .-I am a Methodist clergyman, stationed here. I shall be happy to answer any enquiries respecting her case, and you are at liberty to make any use of the foregoing facts that will benefit the afflicted .-- Yours KIMBALL HADLEY. truly, Jonas Whitcomb's Remedy is Prepared only by

TESTIMONY OF A PRIEST.

Rev. T. Gragnon, Assistant Vicar of the Parish of St. Cyprien, Naperville, C. E., states as follows:— He had for many years been the victim of that most distressing of maladies, DYSPEPSY.

The digestive organs seemed to have lost all power of performing their proper duties and his whole system was thrown into such disorder as to make life a burden and almost disable him from performing the services of his holy offices.

After each meal a distressed turn was sure to follow; the food seemed to be impeded in its progress and a sensation was felt as of a heavy weight resting upon the breast.

We will close with his own words:—"I was induced to try KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and after the use of two bottles was entirely cured and give you this certificate with a good grace."
