

- New South Wales*, i. 117—121. Statistics, 129.; ii. 130. Progress of population there, free and convict, ii. 9, 10. Effects of the discontinuance of assignment, 25. Of the alterations in the disposal of public lands, 123—127. Amount and disposal of the land-fund, 132. Rate of wages there examined, 230.; and prices, 246. Religious sects, 269. Report of Immigration Committee, 300.
- New Zealand*, i. 124.; ii. 171. Reserves of land for natives, ib. 181. Missionaries, 192. Depopulation, alleged, 204. 207.
- Newfoundland*, statistics, i. 127. Religious sects, 269.
- North America*, British colonies in, sketch of their history before the American Revolution, i. 88—94. Their form of government, ib. Economical characteristics, 105—113. Timber, 108. Fisheries, 109. Climate, 112. Timber trade, effects of the monopoly, i. 202—204. Disposal of public land in, ii. 90—108. Absence of local taxation, 108.; especially for the construction of roads, 140. Indians, increase of numbers where civilized, 209, 210. Ancient races, 212.
- Nova Scotia*, i. 107. Statistics, 127.; ii. 96. Rates of wages and prices, ii. 246. Religious sects, 269.
- Ohio*, progress of settlement there, ii. 46i.
- Paraguay*, Jesuit establishments there, geography and history of, i. 277. Economical government, 280.
- Parnell (Sir Henry)*, his estimate of the loss occasioned to Great Britain by colonial monopolies, i. 236.
- Pasture licences*, in the Australian colonies, ii. 84.
- Penal colonies*, of England, at the present time, ii. 4. Rapid growth of wealth in, 5. Have ceased to be chiefly dependent on government expenditure for support, 6.; and on the importation of convict labour, 9. Demoralization complained of in, 11. Partly occasioned by the abuse of assignment, 12. Mistaken views which have prevailed in their administration, 13. Probable improvement, 14. No disinclination in free emigrants to proceed thither, 15. (See Transportation, Convicts.)
- Penn.*, want of system in his views regarding the Indians, ii. 172.
- Peru*, condition of, under Spanish monarchy, i. 25. Statistics, 32. Condition of the Indians, i. 272.
- Philippines*, i. 33. 276.; ii. 189.
- Plata, La*, statistics, i. 32.
- Polynesia*, native population of, its general character, ii. 157.
- Pombal*, his regulations respecting the commerce of Brazil, i. 49. Respecting the Indians, 286.
- Population*, effects of emigration on the progress of, Lect. V. ii. 303. Concentration of, by artificial restrictions, in new colonies, of questionable advantage, i. 253.; ii. 80. Degree of concentration depends chiefly on external circumstances, i. 216. Could hardly be fixed by economical measures, ii. 82.
- Port Phillip*, or Australia Felix, i. 123. High price of land there, ii. 71. Its rapid progress, 127. Statistics, 130.
- Portorico*, i. 33. Lieut.-General Flinter's work respecting it, i. 39. History, 40. Remarkable features in its condition: great number of