Industries Commissioner Reports.

Industries Commissioner Thompson is thororly selzed with the necessity for the city's converting Ashbridge's marsh into a site for factories. He reported to the board of control yesterday that the plan would necessitate the diversion and straightening of the Don, and its filling in from the G.T.R. bridge to the present outlet; that Keating channel would have to be also filled in and a new channel cut south of the present one, and that a bridge would have to be built across the Don, to give the railways access to the land and a swing bridge over Keating's channel, if the latter were to be used for navigation. Two spur lines would also be required, one easterly north of the Keating channel, from near Cherwy-street bridge to Leslie-street, and the other to run south parallel with the road leading to Simcoe Park, while a concrete breakwater should extend from the foot of Parliament-street south to the north limit of the proposed new channel, thence easterly to the present roadway. limit of the proposed new channel, thence easterly to the present roadway. Mr. Thompson said there was a rapidly increasing lack of good factory sites with sidings. He had received many applicants for sites, but could do nothing till the location of the channel was definitely settled.

Erin-street residents wanted a gas service and the company was prepared to mulet the city.

The committee recommended the board of control to provide a fund to meet the cost of construction of mains.

Secretary McGowan of the fire de-

Chief Thompson said he had applied to the waterworks department for the installation of a number of new water mains, and had been told that there were no funds. The controllers will be asked to furnish them.

Ald. McMurrich suggested red colored lights to distinguish the location of fire alarm boxes at night. Mr. McGowan will report.

Contractors Suspended.

As a result of Magistrate Denison's having committed several roofing companies for trial, the board of control yesterday decided not to accept any of the tenders for roofing on the southern side of St. Lawrence Market, since the three tenderers—A. B. Ormsby & Co. Douglas Bros., and Asa Matthews—had all been so committed. The property commissioner and city architect will report on the cost by day labor. The lowest tender received was $6248.

The duestion of the closing up of Edmund-street by Mr. Mackenzie bobbed up again, on Mr. Rust reporting that the course of the street had been changed and a portion of sidewalk removed. The street was still a thorofare. The mayor is against starting a lawsuit, which would be expensive, and for the benefit only of a few people, but it was agreed to have the disputants state their case.
