MAYOR IN SIGN LANGUAGE BIDS MUTES WELCOME

Rest of Address at Convention Conveyed Is By Interpreter

HUNDRED GATHER IN K. C. BUILDING

His Worship Is Made Honorary Delegate—Two-Day Convention Here

Hearty applause greeted Mayor White in the Knights of Columbus Hall this morning when, in the sign language, he spelled the words "Welcome to our City" in his opening greeting to about 100 delegates to the Maritime Association of the Deaf, which began a three days convention at the Maritime Association of the Deaf, R. E. Sowerby of Moncton, the president, was in the chair, and Frank Gardner, who was formerly a teacher of deaf mutes and who is now a member of the staff of the Inspector of taxation here, acted as interpreter and in the unavoidable absence of Rev. William Duke, rector of the Cathedral, gave the opening prayer. Use of the sign language was given by the Knights.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

In his address of welcome His Worship recalled that 22 years ago when also he was Mayor of Saint John he had the pleasure of performing a similar duty and he was glad to know that several of the delegates who attended the convention at that time were present today. Mayor White said he was aware of the handicap under which the members did their life work, but it should be remembered that three quarters of the things we heard were not worth listening to. "Speech is silver," added His Worship, "but silence is golden."

Organization was essential to the success of any meeting, the Mayor felt sure that the improvement and friendships which result from such meetings as that being attended testified to the existence of the association. He concluded by again extending a hearty welcome and trust that the visitors would enjoy the hospitality and excursions in which the visitors would participate.

President Sowerby congratulated the Mayor on his gracious remarks and said he was glad to see present several of those delegates who were present when the Mayor spoke 22 years ago.

MAYOR IS HONORED.

Mayor White was then made recipient of an address of welcome, which made him an honorary delegate. The address presented to Mayor White by the association's president stated that the convention promised to be one of the best ever held. "I may mention," President Sowerby stated, "that many of us received our early education in the building on Lancaster Heights, Craft Street. The headquarters of the association is in the building on Grand Street, which was used as a school for deaf mutes who were broken in the Great War. He mentioned the co-incident of Mayor White, welcoming the association in 1904 and in 1926. As the Mayor left the hall he was again applauded.

The convention then took up routine work, including the reading of reports, which was continued at the afternoon session. The program includes election of officers on Thursday morning, a picnic at McLane's Beach tomorrow, drives about the city and a theatre party at the imperial tonight, when the Mayor will be the guests of Manager W. H. Golding. The local arrangements are in charge of William McDonald, of the Saint John Post Office staff.

There are 26 delegates from Halifax, 18 from Cape Breton, 14 from Moncton, 12 from Fredericton, two from Woodstock, three from Boston, 25 from Saint John and several from other places. The headquarters of the association is at Hotel Dunlop. The last biennial convention was held in Moncton.

Miss Lena Snowdon of Moncton is vice-president and L. T. Goucher of Halifax secretary.

THE SETTLEMENT—When I was down the road this morning I seen two fellers overhauled in a salmon net. The river was mighty rough—fer the wind an' tide was hevvin' it out—but them fellers didn't mind the rocks' n' that boat no more'n if it was mother's cradle. They got a salmon or two—an' I was thinkin' how nice it is to get a piece of fresh salmon right out o' the river. Jist then a feller come along an' ast if I wasn't afeard that there boat 'ud upset. "No, sir," says I, "I'd trust them fellers to know when it aint safe—they been doin' that a good many summers now." They seem s'ry enough fer youngsters," says he. "Well," says I, "one of 'em is seventy-eight an' the other is eighty-two." "Gee-whit!" says he. "Aint they no youngsters to help 'em out?" "No," says I, "youngsters is mighty scarce round here. We can't get 'em."
