$200,000 FEAST AT HIS WEDDING

Albanian Revives at Constantinople Lavish Banqueting of Old in Anatolia.

Constantinople, March 22.—A very wealthy Albanian spent $200,000 on his wedding feast recently in Stamboul, recalling by its sumptuous surroundings and the lavishness of the feasting the most famous wedding banquets of Anatolia. One of the wonders of this repast was the abundance of eatables. There was a bewildering variety of dishes, any one of which would have sufficed for the largest appetite.

Feasts of this kind were formerly very common in Anatolia, sometimes lasting a whole week, but the expenditure involved caused many of the less wealthy-eligibles to shun marriage. The Sultan Mehmed Rehad abolished the costly ceremonies by edict in order to encourage marriage and it has been long since there was so extravagant an entertainment as the one now.

The Albanian who revived those pleasures was a good merchant, several times a millionaire, who vastly increased his wealth during the war. Through heralds he invited "all who cared" to come to his marriage, announcing that they would be gratuitously lodged and fed during the period. A fleet of 100 automobiles and 400 flares brought up the willing guests from far and wide.

Besides engaging a large school at Faith, he hired forty-three houses in the quarter to shelter those who had been specially invited and any others who showed the necessary interest.

Despite the huge crowd, the service is said to have been faultless, and there was no complaint of any sort.

The presents of the newly-married couple were valued at $100,000.

THEIR HONEYMOON IN POLICE STATION

Homeless and Workless and Broke, Newlyweds Return.

Montreal, March 22.—Married only seven days and totally destitute and homeless, a young couple, neither of whom can read or write, sought the protection of the St. Lambert police and spent a night more or less comfortably in the Central Police Station of that municipality.

The police clubbed together Friday and staked them to their railroad fare to their home town. Being workless, the newlyweds came to Montreal to locate the sister of the groom. Arriving here, they found that the sister and her husband had left two months ago for a far section of Canada.

They walked the streets of Montreal all Wednesday in search of work for either or both of them. Their search was unsuccessful. Knowing no one in Montreal and having the proverbial country folks' fear of a great city, they decided to search for charity in a suburb.

Asking their way to the Victoria bridge they walked across, and at the south end met one of the officers of the St. Lambert force. He took them to the Central Station and handed them over to Chief Gravel.

After hearing their story, the chief offered them what hospitality the station afforded. They did more, the next morning, learning that the couple had had nothing to eat for twenty-four hours, they gave them what must have been sumptuous meals. Then the force went into consultation. The result was the raising of a fund from among them to pay the couple's railway fare back to the town where their troubles commenced.

RECENT DEATHS

David C. Storey.
The many friends of Policeman Robert E. Storey will sympathize with him on the receipt of the sad news from his home in England of the death of his father, David Colman Storey, which occurred on Feb. 17 after a lingering illness. He is survived by five sons and one daughter, all of whom, except Robert, reside at home.

William Hodd.
The sudden death of William Hodd, of this city, occurred at his residence last night and was a great shock to his wife and friends. Although Mr. Hodd had been in poor health for some time he was up and about and had been out in the yard of his home yesterday evening. He succumbed shortly after he entered the house. He leaves to mourn his mother, one son, William, of Port-

Save the Surface of Your Teeth

The most valuable part of a tooth is its surface—the thin coating of enamel that is Nature's own protection against decay.

Are you scratching and cutting into the protective enamel of your teeth, tearing down your defence against decay? Every time you scratch your teeth, you remove part of the surface.

APPEAL AGAINST DEATH SENTENCE

Three Questions Relative to Murder Trial are to be Presented in Riopel's Behalf.

(Canadian Press.)—Appeal has been allowed against the sentence pronounced on Osius Riopel, who was found guilty at the recent assizes here of the murder of Mrs. Clermont, at St. Veronique de Turgeon, in November, 1920. The sentence was that he be hanged on May 16.

Questions to be raised before the court of appeal will be whether the presiding judge erred in maintaining objection to the question asked Abie Gaucher on the attitude of Riopel when he was accused of the crime in presence of the priest by the son of his victim; whether the presiding judge was wrong in law in permitting reading of an antemortem deposition which young Clermont made; and, among other points, whether the judge was right in throwing out the alibi defence put in on behalf of Riopel.

The Bonnie Doom Club of the Knox church presented the playlet "Rebecca's Triumph" last night, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Portland Methodist church.

Spring's Most Fascinating Modes in Charming Variety

One of the keenly interesting features of the new season's modes is the remarkable increase of the sports influence. Much of the apparel which heretofore has been strictly confined to country club activities, has broadened its sphere and is now accepted as entirely correct for general utility wear in town or in country. Bright color is seen in suits, coats and frocks and lends added enthusiasm to the displays of ultra smart spring apparel now being shown in our costume section.

There Are Dashing Styles in Tweed Suits, Coats, Frocks and Wraps

The last word in smartness is the youthful tweed suit comprising of straight one-piece dress and big, circular pocketed cape. The cape is large enough to be used as a separate wrap for any frock and may be purchased apart from dress if desired.

Tweed Knicker Suits are another of the spring innovations and are especially adapted to all sorts of outdoor activities. Coats of tweed for general wear are altogether English in their effect and are cut on easy fitting lines that will be found ideal for such uses as motoring, travelling; or for genuine comfort as an extra wrap.

Tweed garments are in plain and fancy weaves and are showing in a variety of sport shades and attractive mixtures.

Eponge and Crepe Knit Frocks Find Favor

There is something entirely out of the ordinary about these frocks. Their unusual colorings and smart lines appeal to those who seek distinction in dress. A straight line frock in the new canna shade with trimmings and sleeves of Paisley silk of harmonizing color is particularly attractive. A dress of periwinkle blue elaborately beaded in silver is another of the season's best models; while a white frock with trimmings of jade has an individuality all its own.

"Murray Bay" Tweeds (made on hand looms) are seen in straight sport frocks fashioned with white linen collar and cuffs, big pockets, patent belts and adorned with novel touches of hand work. These are in smart green checks and plain dull blue. You will call them particularly attractive.

We haven't room to tell you of the many more attractive garments featured among the latest arrivals, but we cordially invite your inspection.

HE WELCOMES INVESTIGATION

Sir Adam Beck Speaks of "Innuendo and Seemingly Organized Propaganda" in Hydro Matter.

Toronto, March 22.—In a two-hour speech before the Ontario Municipal Hydro-Electric Association, yesterday, Sir Adam Beck, replied at what he termed the "innuendo and the seemingly organized propaganda aimed at public ownership and the hydro commission" equally responsible, for the government which the commission had ordered.

He declared that if the extra cost of the Chippewa development and "lack of frankness" on the part of the hydro-electric commissioners were the only faults disclosed, then the government was equally responsible, for the government had been advised of the extra cost of such as the commission was informed by its engineers and the government had been consulted in all the developments.

At the conclusion of his address a resolution expressing confidence in Sir Adam Beck and the hydro commission was adopted.

DELEGATES TO THE OPPOSITION CONVENTION

A meeting of the city friends of the provincial opposition party was held last night for the election of delegates to the convention to be held at Fredericton on Friday afternoon. Addresses were given by Mr. Campbell, F. L. Potts, M. E. Agar and Commissioner Thornton.

The election of delegates resulted as follows: Frank Lewis, M. E. Agar, C. M. Lingley, Col. W. H. Harrison, Stephen Palmer, C. J. Melliday, F. J. McInerney, R. A. Davidson, H. D. Payson, J. Starr, Tait, William Swanton, H. H. McEllan, R. R. Patchell, M. T. Morris, Meyer Cohen, James Huey, John Thornton, Joseph Christie, William R. Scott.

The following delegates were chosen to attend the convention in the interests of the county at another meeting last night: Dr. J. H. Burton, Hon. R. W. Wignore, Harold Mayes, J. Frank Frawley, Councillor William Golding, Marshall Stout, G. Earle Logan, R. Walter Dean, William J. McAllister, Councillor George Anderson, Fred Thompson, James K. Corscadden, Thos. B. MAY PROCEED AGAINST KING

Alberta Appellate Division Accords John Zomes Right to Sue.

Edmonton, March 22.—The appellate division of the supreme court of Alberta has decided that a subject has the right to proceed against His Majesty the King for tort and recover damages.

By the decision of Chief Justice Scott, Justices Beck, Hyndman, Clarke and Stuart, sitting as the appellate division, yesterday, John Zomes will be permitted to proceed against the king and the provincial treasurer for the recovery of $25,000 damages, which he alleges he received through the negligence of the telephone department of Alberta in allowing wires to be strung across the road, upsetting his car in the darkness of the night last summer.

THE W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. at its meeting yesterday afternoon endorsed the resolution passed by the Baptist ministers conference expressing opposition to legislation imposing a tax on liquor in the export warehouses of the city. Mrs. David Hipwell, the president, was in the chair and led in the helpful opening devotions. Arrangements were made for a parlor meeting at the residence of Mrs. E. Arthur, when the leaders of the C. G. I. T. groups in the city will be present and the matter of combining temperance work with the C. G. I. T. programme in the city will be discussed. Mrs. Seymour read the year book of the Methodist church and from the W. C. T. U. reports from British Columbia extracts which told of the W. C. T. U. work having been successfully with the C. G. I. T. work. Adjutant Owens wrote to ask the Union to take charge of the refreshments for the Salvation Army Tag Day and it was decided to leave this matter over to the next meeting.

EASTER VEILS and VEILINGS

Becoming? Oh Yes; Very!

New scrolls and embroidered effects. The veiling manufacturers have certainly come out with a host of strikingly new and pretty Easter ideas.

Among the newest are those with fine hexagon mesh top and heavy mesh bottom divided by dainty flower or scroll embroidery in contrasting colors. Then there are pretty new designs in black or brown with periwinkle blue, henna or helio chenille spot border. A great variety from which to make your Easter choice.

The novelties in yard veilings are also very attractive, showing many new designs in mesh and border effects.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Tea and coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
