

MISSIONARY WORK BEING DEALT WITH

Interesting Discussions at the Ecumenical Conference of Methodist Church

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 7.—The subjects dealt with at the ecumenical conference yesterday afternoon, were: "Our resources in men and means," by Rev. James Lewis, of Cambridge, England, formerly a missionary in India; "The Mission of Methodism to the Backward Races," by Bishop Clinton (colored), of North Carolina; "Methodist Native Churches," by Rev. Dr. Leonard, New York, and "Methodism in Korea," by Bishop Hess, of Nashville, who has recently visited the hermit kingdom.

All the sessions dealt with the missionary work of the church. Every corner of the world came in for a brief review at least. The discussion centred upon the problems presented by Mohammedanism and France, and there was an appeal for a larger union among different denominations, especially of the branches of Methodism.

Rev. Mr. Lewis said he did not fear for the heathen as much as for the Christian who refused to take the gospel to himself. The world views of missions should be put before every church. He stated that the Canadian Methodist church averaged $1.87 per member for missions.

Rev. Dr. Leonard in his paper urged more training for native evangelists. Referring to church union he thought academic discussion in favor of it was about done and he did not know what else there was in it.

Bishop Hess, an effective and popular speaker, generally has his joke with the audience. His hearers got ahead of him to-day when he referred to "The widow's three mites." "Two, two," the cry arose from all sides. "All right," replied the bishop, "I gave her one more."

Speaking of Korea, Bishop Hess said that the country had a history 3,000 years old but had never had a just government. Lately the nation had been a buffer state between the Korean Christian's offer to help in support. Out of 400 Methodist churches there are 355, such as they are, which were built by people themselves. They are looking forward to self-government in their church.

When the time for discussion came there was an eager contest, in which blacks and whites joined to take advantage of the meagre five minute time limit of speech and the colored brethren did not show any signs of inferiority in lung power.

N. W. Rowell, K. C., Toronto, was heard with close attention while he told the romantic story of the increasing sums given by Canadian Methodists to the English delegates. The English delegates have asked him to prepare a similar plan for their use.

Ernest C. Bek, a layman from Georgia, spoke in favor of union.

Dr. Camp, a London merchant, urged business men to bring their business ability into the work of evangelizing the world.

Last evening the session took the form of a missionary rally with St. W. Howard Davies, M. P., Bristol, in the chair. The speakers were Bishop Hendrick, of Kansas City, Rev. W. S. Leeds, Foo Chow, China; Rev. John Leedes, a mission worker of London, and Rev. J. H. Bates, of India.

Rev. Mr. Johnson was followed closely as he described the work of the mission halls in England. His tributes to Rev. Price Hughes and Rev. Peter Thompson were applauded cordially. He said they were the founders and promoters of this work. Mr. Johnson thought Rev. James Lewis of Cambridge, had shot wide of the mark when he said that among the "Protestants" had lost its hold on the manhood of England. "London is a problem," he remarked. He championed the old Methodists. No new theory was preached from any of the mission pulpits. The best music, the best brains, the best talent were used to bring men to Christ. To make good citizens was the duty he thought of the present hour, as the city leads the world.

Rev. Mr. Bateson, an army chaplain, has a soldier's bearing. He is an enthusiast on India and by a few concrete instances showed the inadequacy of the present force.

Bishop Malden, the octogenarian, expressed regret that only one day is being given to the discussion of missionary work. He thought the church had reached a stage in its history where it could afford more time than that.

Tenders will be received by the Minister of Public Works up to noon Friday, October 20, for the clearing and grubbing of fifty acres, more or less, of land for the site of the provincial university at Point Grey.

St. John's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will hold a donation party, tea and sale of work and hand-painted china on October 17 from 3 to 6 p. m. in the St. John's hall. All will have an opportunity of giving towards the missionary work of the society in the home-made sweets may be purchased and competitions and other games will be provided. It is hoped there will be a very large attendance at this first entertainment of the season.

To assist the starving Chinese in the Yantse Kiang valley, flooded out by the rise of the waters, and the consequent ruin of the crops, together with the loss of hundreds of lives, a collection has been made through the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association in the local Chinatown to aid the sufferers, in consequence of which about $4,000 has been collected and shipped over to assist the relief fund. The destination is appalling, and fearful stories of privation have been told by visitors to the stricken provinces.

THEFT FROM CARS.

Two Young Men of Ladysmith Charged With the Offence.

Ladysmith, Oct. 7.—Last Saturday evening between the hours of 5 and 3 o'clock, three or four E. & N. cars lying on the siding and containing merchandise, were broken into and a portion of the contents of one car removed. It was Monday before Officer Cassidy was notified that a theft had been committed, and that officer proceeded at once to make an investigation.

The fact that one car contained beer and whisky led him to believe that the crime had been committed by some one who wanted to get the liquor. Besides this car was the only one from which anything was missed. He made a search of the grounds adjacent to where the car had been standing, and his search was rewarded by the discovery of a keg of beer in the bush near Harrop's old landing.

He concluded that the thief or thieves would return to get more beer, so after dark he waited about ten yards from where the keg had been located. The officer was there only about half an hour when two young men well known in Ladysmith made their appearance and proceeded to fill the pitcher from the keg. He waited for a minute and then called on them to throw up their hands, a request which was complied with and the officer of the men inquired for his authority, and the officer disclosed his identity.

The young men were locked up, and the same evening the officer, acting on information, arrested another man, who was also taken to the police office.

The three men were brought up before Magistrates Matheson and Nicholson, but at the request of Officer Cassidy the case was adjourned to secure witnesses. One of the accused is now out on $100 bail.

C. L. Harrison, of Victoria, is acting for the C.P.R., and his brother, V. B. Harrison, of Nanaimo, is appearing for one of the prisoners.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY VANCOUVER CAR

Young Man, Crossing Behind
Car He Left, Run Down
By Another

Vancouver, Oct. 9.—Vernon Aldrich, a young man 18 years of age, was run over and instantly killed by an interurban car running between Vancouver and New Westminster shortly before 8 o'clock Saturday night. The body was frightfully mangled, the wheels of both the front and rear trucks of the car having passed over the boy's chest, literally crushing it to pieces.

According to the story told by eye-witnesses, Aldrich had alighted from a southbound Park Drive car at the corner of Fourteenth avenue and Park drive, and running behind it to cross the bridge, when he was struck and run over by a car No. 1210 on the Westminister line, which was running into the city. He was caught by the fender of the Westminister train and knocked off his feet. The fender failed to pick up the body, and after rolling the prostrate man over a couple of times, lifted, allowing the body to roll under the wheels. When the car was finally stopped, which was done as soon as possible, and the crew ran back to the scene of the accident, the body was lying halfway across the outside rail.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Jeffs, coroner, was notified and will hold an inquest to-day. The accident happened at the busiest hour of the evening, when the cars were crowded with passengers, and the crowd of on-lookers was very large.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

Dr. Storey, living at the corner, was immediately summoned and pronounced life to be extinct. The body was then covered with one of the flaring posters announcing the Westminister children, which was torn from the side of the interurban car, and left until the arrival of the ambulance. When it came the body was removed to Messrs. Center & Hanna's undertaking parlors.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO AND WOUNDS TWO MORE

(Continued from page 1.)

gledew and two men, having rowed over to Parson's bridge, and then walked to the scene of the accident, said death had taken place from suffocation some two hours previously.

The medical men ordered the removal of the others to the hospitals, and did not wait for Salvator, recognizing he was beyond human aid.

The out where the accident happened was not regarded as at all dangerous, and the same men had negotiated a much more difficult piece of work a few weeks ago. Muzzillo and Magara have been longer in the country than their companions, one having been here from childhood, and of course speaks English, but the others are native-born Italians, expressing themselves with great difficulty, yet without words. This is the first serious accident which has occurred under circumstances of this character in the neighborhood, and the details surrounding it will not be cleared up till the men have recovered sufficiently to give an intelligent account of the occurrence.

The details of the injuries of the five men, who are making fair progress in St. Joseph's hospital, are as follows: Leonardo Crisiano, bruise on the back of the head, not serious.

Antonio Magara, injury to the back, a slight wound, and bruised arm.

Giovanni Muzzillo, more seriously injured, three ribs fractured, cut on the neck, and one on the lips, bruises on both arms.

Carmino Rucel, bones of hand dislocated, slight wound over one eye, not serious.

Giuseppe Calligone, one fractured rib, and a slight wound over the eye.

No serious results are anticipated from the injuries, so far as a superficial examination could reveal by the medical staff of the hospital this morning, but the case requires careful attention in the institution.

McTAVISH-CRAIG.
Victorian Marries Popular Young
Prince Rupert Lady.

Prince Rupert, Oct. 7.—In the marriage of Miss Emily McTavish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Craig, to Mr. Duncan Douglas McTavish, of Victoria, Prince Rupert loses one of her most popular young ladies. Many guests attended the ceremony, which took place in St. Andrew's church, Rev. Mr. James performing the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her father, while Miss Dorothy McTavish, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. Two charming little flower girls, "Pete" Tremayne and Margaret Palmer, were also in attendance and performed their parts in perfect style.

The bride was attired in a pretty gown of white satin moire trimmed with very old duchesse lace. She wore a veil and carried a very beautiful bouquet of white roses.

Mr. McTavish was supported by Mr. E. B. Walker of this city.

After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding cake was cut and the health of the bride and groom was drunk.

A few short speeches the guests proceeded to enjoy the evening in a social way. The room formerly occupied by J. T. McDonald on the ground floor had been reserved for the occasion and was used as a ballroom. Gray's orchestra provided the music.

Mr. and Mrs. McTavish left for Victoria by the Prince Rupert, a large number being present at the wharf to see them off. The bride's going-away dress was of golden brown with white beaver hat. From the bridge of the steamer as the vessel pulled off, she threw her bouquet to ascertain who would be the next bride. To the disappointment of many of the young girls the bouquet landed in the hands of a married woman.

PROVINCE HONORS
LATE KING'S PRINTER

(From Saturday's Daily.)
By command of His honor the Lieutenant-Governor an extra of the British Columbia Gazette was issued last evening, containing the following notice between what the printer knows as "turned letters," a typographical sign of mourning.

His honor the Lieutenant-Governor has received with sorrow the announcement of the death, on the 5th instant, of Lieutenant-Colonel Richard Wolfenden, I. S. O., V.C., King's printer since the year 1883.

By command.
HENRY ESSON YOUNG,
Provincial Secretary,
Provincial Secretary's Office, Oct. 8, 1911.

W. C. T. U.

The board of management of the Men's Mission, Store street, wish to thank the many friends who so liberally helped with their gifts at the pound party on Tuesday, also those who helped with the splendid program of the evening.

The following gifts were received from: Mrs. Dempster, Bay street, cake sugar; Mrs. Norman, rolled oats, and cream; Mrs. Faw, butters; Mrs. Williams, butter; Mrs. Ruckles, tea; A. Friend, tea; Mrs. (Rev.) Wood, tea; Mrs. (Rev.) Holling, tea; Mrs. Braike, cornstarch and jam; A. Friend, 3 jars jam; Mrs. R. S. Thompson, jar fruit; Mrs. Tite, wheat flakes; Mrs. Smith, sago and cooking butter; Mrs. Gill, coffee; Mrs. Allen, 2 cakes; cash, Mrs. Crawford, $1; Mrs. George Mellor, $1; Mrs. Kaye, $1; Miss Roper, $1; A. Friend, $5; Miss Stoneman, $1; Two Friends, $1; Mrs. Ordana, 50 cents; A. Friend, 50 cents; ladies of board, flowers, cream, cake; also Times and Colonist, free papers.

ENORMOUS CROWD BADE DUKE AU REVOIR

People of London Insisted on Showing Him Honor on Leaving for Canada

London, Oct. 7.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught left Euston station yesterday at 11.15 a.m. on a special train, attended by Lieut.-Colonel H. C. Lother, military secretary; Capt. Walter Long, A. D. C., and Lieut. A. Ramsay. Attending the Duchess were Miss Pelly and twenty servants. Their Highnesses occupied the semi-royal coaches decorated with carnations, chrysanthemums and roses. Luncheon was served on the train.

The Duke's special desire that unnecessary fuss be avoided was overruled by the spirit of the public, who demanded the opportunity to do honor to the popular member of the royal family. While the positions of the Duke and Duchess were reserved an enormous crowd gathered outside and witnessed the royal arrival.

It is the confident belief of Canadians on both sides of the water that the new governor will have a brilliant period of office.

Baggage Arrives.
Montreal, Oct. 7.—The baggage of his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, which will arrive here to-day on the Victorian, includes 221 pieces and two motor cars. Twenty-one servants also will arrive on the same vessel.

GOVERNOR UNVEILS
SIMON FRASER BUST

Memorial to Great Explorer in
Royal City—Judge Howay
Delivers Oration

New Westminster, Oct. 9.—With sun shining gloriously down upon the scene, the bust of Simon Fraser, the great explorer, was unveiled by Judge Howay, in the presence of a large gathering of the city's most distinguished men. His Honor Lieut.-Governor Thomas W. Patterson unveiled the bust of Simon Fraser, the noted explorer, on Wednesday.

The ceremonies were simple and dignified. Judge Howay delivered the introductory remarks. He declared that three years had elapsed between the commencement and the completion of the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

With the brush of eloquence he wiped away the mighty bridge that spans the Fraser's flood, destroyed the monument, and that the work had finally been brought to a successful conclusion was due to the efforts of A. B. White and the Native Sons. Then His Honor referred to the trip that Simon Fraser and his gallant band made down the great river.

BISHOP PERRIN SAYS FAREWELL

(Continued from page 1.)

very days and months are changed, the week is lengthened from seven days to ten, and away with all this order of king, and bishop, and priest, and a harlot is placed upon the altar of Notre Dame, to represent the bloodless and reason, and the end is bloodshed and tyranny most awful. This is the excess of conservatism, and the excess of progress. I want to turn to other nations from which I feel we can learn lessons, it is to China. China through all these centuries has been the very embodiment of conservatism.

Do you realize that the study of every Chinese man, woman and child has been confined to the writings of Confucius, do you realize that age after age there has been no change, and yet to-day it was no use shutting their eyes to facts. Amusements have come, and with it a demand for more recreation on Sundays. Recreation meant a physical rest for the body, and spiritual refreshment for the soul; and the man who worked at the office, and yet spent his Sunday like the other days in the week, did not know what true recreation meant, but was simply adding to his burden. He never had a moment's quietness, and he never had a moment's rest.

On that last time he would address them from that pulpit he would enter a plea on behalf of the children. What was to become of the children? Children to-day went on as they pleased, and where growing up in the schools, cleverly instructed in the work of the world, and yet not really educated, because of no religious principles being inculcated, and it depended upon them whether the people were quietly to acquiesce in the method of teaching now adopted.

"So once more, as in God's presence, and conscious of the fact that one day you and I must meet before the judgment seat of Jesus Christ, my last word to you is to be steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord." He concluded by asking their prayers in the new sphere in which he was going, for himself and his family.

Others Are Injured as a Result of Rioting in Railway Yards

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—One special policeman is missing and another is in a local hospital with a lacerated scalp and minor bruises as a result of rioting here Saturday between strikers and guards at the Mission Bay shops.

A third special policeman was arrested for furnishing a revolver.

His loss was given by the police court last week, for having opium in their possession, or selling it in a den in Chinatown, and said that if the authorities close to make a raid on the saloons in this city, what would they find? Would there not be enough to put us to shame for sending Chinamen to jail for selling opium. But whoever heard of attempting to bring a ruler upon the real wrongdoers, the men who made others drunk. "If the laws of this city are properly carried out, and the civic management is put on the highest plane and order," the preacher said, "there will be no progress. Victoria has been conservative. Victoria is progressive. In God's name, let both be in their right proportion."

Turning to the church, he pointed out that she was not a human institution but a definite society, and her orders, creeds and sacraments are her own, and in that she must be conservative, but at the same time the church must be progressive. In that diocese during his 18 years episcopate the church had been conservative. There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.

There had not been the very least idea in their minds of watering down the truth, but they had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative. The church had been conservative.