THE EXHIBITION

While the sky was overcast on 20th inst, the rain held off till closing hour of the exhibition, with the result that the attendance ran up to 5,041, although it would have been larger had the weather been fine.

The feature of the afternoon was the parade of prize cattle and horses in the ring at three o'clock, which gave visitors an opportunity to verify the verdict of the judges that the cattle were the best, head for head, seen in St. John for many years, and would be as a whole, suitable to a much more pretentious locality. The fireworks in the evening delighted the multitude and the vaudeville entertainment in amusement hall, which closed the day's programme was liberally patronized

Agricultural hall is coming in for more attention every day, the work-ing dairy and the poultry show being the chief attractions there; although fruit had its share of admirers. The drill shed, in which the carriages are shown, has been the scene of a good many business transactions since the fair opened, and some of the carriage makers will go home considerably better financially for their stay in the city. Indeed, all over the exhibition business is growing in volume every day.

The judges have got about to the end of their work, and prize cards are conspicuously displayed by the successful competitors. The system of employing expert judges for cattle, horses, poultry, dairy products, grain, fruit, etc., has again worked well, and there is less grumbling over the awards than on any previous occasion. This is no doubt largely due to the fact that the competitors have confidence in the ability of the judges, and to the pains taken by the judges themselves to impart information to all interested enquirers. When an unsuccessful exhibitor is taken one side by the judge and the reasons for not awarding his exhibit a prize are clearly explained to him in a manner that can leave no room for doubt in a reasonable mind of the correctness of the ruling, he is disarmed at all points, and whatever soreness he may have at first felt is removed. Of course there are chronic grumblers who are never satisfied, but fortunately that class is largely conspicuous by its absence from the ranks of the exhibitors.

The attendance on 20th inst. was 582 over that of the sixth day of 1896, which

"Ideal," which machinists say is an appropriate name, for she is as nearly a perfect an engine as has yet been manufactured. The spectator is struck at once by the absence of jar in the working of the machine, on account of which property New York City has of their buildings. It is claimed to be the only engine which, when required. will run without anchor bolts, and it has the most positive cylinder reli device in use on any engine. It makes a great saving in oil, using as it does but one oil oup to the twenty or thirty ordinarily used. It makes an annual saving of 6 per cent. of its first cost. There is but one self-oiling engine built in Canada, and it is "Ideal." This engine proved its abilities in this line at the World's Fair, Chicago, having run 743 consecutive hours without oiling, and leaving no oil stain on the Turkish rug upo nich it was placed. The incandescent lights in front of the exhibit are run by this engine. All persons interested in steam plants visiting the exhibition should see this engine.

'A FLOURISHING HOME INDUSTRY The Maritime Pure Food Co. of dstock, N. B., have an exhibit of 21 different articles of canned and preserved fruits and vegetables. This is a good showing for a firm just starting in business. Their dis play is in charge of H. G. Noble and Mrs. F. B. Greene (wife of the manager.) The wholesale and retail merchants as well mers interested in canned foods are invited to call at this booth and taste the goods. This com claim to pack the "best in the do ion," and certainly we have heard of ers, in particu To dealers, in particular, we would say: Call and try the 'St. John Valley Brand" of peas, corn, beans and jellies. HOBBS MFR. CO. This company make their first appearance in a New Brunswick exhibition this year in a handsomely fitted booth, decorated with samples of their work, such as window glass, mitre cut glass, push plates, memorial windows, etc. Handsome pictures in glass of Dr. Oronyatekha, Sir John Macdonald and Premier Laurier, along with one really beautiful one, the "Pride of the Harem," adorn the walls of this house of glass. enclosed by a railing, is a cosy room, prettly carpeted and seated with handsome chairs and sofas, while a Mason & Risch plano from which tions are being continually given adorns one corner. Upon the posts hang diplomas certifying to the quality of Messrs. Taylor's goods; and in glass case medals won by this firm in competition are displayed, including two medals won in Australia, one of them a silver one from the big centennial at Melbourre, a medal from the Colonial and Indian exhibition at London, two gold, three silver and two bronze medals obtained at Toronto fairs. Running from one end of the space to the other is a large double row of the celebrated safes, thirty in umber, surmounted by rail and beautiful plants. Messrs. Taylor are to be congratulated upon the extent of their exhibit, which greatly aids to the attractiveness of the building. It took two cars to bring these safes the exhibition, and they are of all kinds, fire and burglar proof. Some of them have already been sold, one going to Melbourne, Australia. The npany also manufactures bank and afety vaults, of which the Merchants Bank of Halifax in Montreal possessone. The exhibit is in charge of B. B. workings of each safe, and is ready to explain them to enquirers. One of the firm, Jcs. West, is in town dsting in the display. This exhibit needs only to be seen to be appreciat-

SHORT HORNS BREEDERS. Three officers of the Dominion Short Horn Breeders' Association-Arthur Johnson of Greenwood, president; Henry Wade of Toronto, secretarytreasurer, and William Linton of Aurora, director-visited the exhibition yesterday. They told the Sun they came with a double purpose, to talk to the short horn breeders here and to see about the prize that their society gave each of the provinces. The delegates were apparently unacquainted with the prompt manner in the management of the St. John exhibition association conducts its business, else they would have put in an appearance during the first week of the fair.

Mr. Wade stated that it was their intention to have spoken at the meeting of the Farmers' and Dairymen's association, had they reached in time, but as that meeting had been held on Saturday, they did the next best thing. They sought out the cat-tle men individually and pointed out to them the folly of starting a Short Horn Breeders association for New Brunswick or for the maritime provirces, as they had been informed was in contemplation, and particularly warned them against instituting an other herd book, as the Dominion book would make the total increase up to last night, 705.

THE GOLDIE & McCULLOCH CO. (LID.)

This company exhibits in Machinery hall one of their celebrated "idea" engines, of which they have the exclusive right to manufacture for Canada, and they have copyrighted the name short horn Breeders association for the prize of $25 given by the Dominion Short Horn Breeders association for one bull nipeg. Toronbo, Montreal and 88 now covered the whole ground, and and four females, under two years of age, owned by exhibitor and recorded in the Dominion Short Horn herd book, the delegates said they accept the award already made by the judge to C. A. Archibald of Truro, > Dwelling on the importance of hav ing only one short horn herd-book Canada, these gentlemen point out that there were formerly three in United States, and it cost $25,000 and he ruin of many herds before they vere finally amalgamated in one. The Dominion association desire the low province breeders to join them and represented on their board. herd book has a higher standard has lower fees for registering. dation awarded prizes for the St. John, Halifax and Charlottetown shows without solicitation, and propose continue them.

These gentlemen are delighted with St. John. They say the live stock show is a good one, and they consider that stock breeders are in the way of prosperity, but should do more raising of beef cattle. It should not be essary for the lower provinces to import so much beef. They say the stock bought by the government comoners in Ontario is good stock

Speaking of St. John itself, Mr. Wade remarked, and his friends endorsed the statement, that they were greatly taken with the neatness and general air of activity. They particularly impressed with the and style apparent in the people's dress. Even the country people ing in to the fair were right in the tyle, especially the ladies. Ever body seemed to know how to dr well and they did it. The delegation leave today for Char ottetown, to attend a meeting of the reeders' association on Tnursday, and hence they they go to Halifax on a like errand. They believe a better era has dawned for the stock raisers. More cattle were sold at the recent Toronto than in the four preceding ones, and they were informed there good sales at the St. John fair also, Their aim is to secure a national herd-book for short horns and they are enthusiastic in its advocacy. THE DAIRY EXHIBIT. The dairy machinery, which is in under the supervision of Harvey Mit-chall, attracts considerable attention. outfit, which is owned by J. Hunter White, consists of a tempering vat into which the milk is put, then it is passed into a Russian separator, and finally into a cream vat, which is partially filled with ice. mperature of the cream is the gradually lowered until it reaches 52 degrees Fr., when it is churned in a arge Key City churn. The power for working of these different articles is furnished by an ordinary Leonard engine

There are also on exhibition five different kinds of hand separators, viz.; DeLaval, Russian, Empire, Butterfly and American; also two testers, a Babcock (hand) and "Facile" (steam).

AMES HOLDEN CO. This company has a large exhibit tastefully arranged in a semi-circular form, of the Granby Rubber Co.'s goods, of which they are the sole agents in Canada, including rubber boots, shoes and clothing. They also show a large line of their own make of boots and shoes in ladies, children boys and men's sizes. These goods are of all kinds, colors, grades and nipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Prince William street, St. John.

W. IL JOHNSON & CO. (LTD.) Among other beautiful instrument his firm show at their booth a handsome upright boudoir Mason & Risch plano. It is finished in dark figured natural mahogany without any staining, with engraved panels, Boston fall poard, duett desk and three pedals. The third pedal is claimed to be the best yet produced. The Mason & Risch piano is made in Toronto, and compares favorably with the makes of any company in existence. The Schander (Paris), now copied all over the world and known as the "French made of hornbone, which is absolutely impervious to dampness. One great peculiarity of the Mason & Risch plano instruments is that instead of deteriorating they improve with age, owing to the construction of the pin block and sounding boards. Every one should see and hear these mag-

MANCICESTER ROBERTSON &

As might be expected this well known firm has one of the finest and the largest exhibits in the building, aking 3,000 square feet of floor and being comprised of three depart -carpet, fur and furniture exhibits. carpet department takes up a large space at the end of the anner and is arranged to bring about the est effect by a happy blendi colors. The department is handsomely decorated with grille work from which are suspended magnificent calms of Irish point lace, while on well carpeted floor several piec furniture are placed. Running midway up to the floor are severa of the finest carpets ever exhibited in St. John, in Brussels, Axminster, veivariety, and is a Brussels with the raised Wilton figures on the surface. one yard wide in Brussels and Ax-minsters are much admired, while the chentile portiers and silk draperies which decorate the walls are claimed to be some of the finest ever shown in the city.

takes up 1,200 square feet of space, and the exhibit shown there is univerand the exhibit shown there is univer-sally admired. Among many other things of perhaps equal beauty are shown drawing room sets in Louis XIV., Chippendale and old colonial patterns. The designs are quaint and the general appearance is very hand-some. Several pieces of furniture in oak, finished in malachite, are splan did imitations of the color of beautiful stone. A music cabinet and a 5 o'clock tea table in vernis-martin finish are samples of the finish which is now the very latest fad. In inlaid ahogany are shown several marvel of workmanship both in respect to beauty of design and the elaborateess of the finish, comprising a handone dining table, bouffet and dining chairs, a bed room set, and what is laimed, and with great justice, to be here. This table is fitted with all the atest improvements, and is as nearly three piece suit of mahogany with marquetere back and upholstered in figured green silk velour is the centre of attraction to lovers of the beautiful in furniture. A large triplicate mirror, which is largely used in osition in the centre of the exhibit. The fur department is probably the finest of the three. The booth is artistically dressed with costly furs, showing a background draped with tiger, polar bear, silver, red white fox and many other skins. The magnitude of the exhibit is slightly shown by the fact that the skins range in price from an astrachan at $1.50 to a silver fox at $120. Against this costly background there are tastefully arranged the different exhibits in this department consisting of the very latest things in ladles and gentlemen's fur wear, comprising seal lackets varying from $150 to $225 of the styles which will lead in London and New York this season, Russian blouses, one of the latest fads in ladies' fur wear, and capes in all kinds of furs including seal, Persian lamb, black martin and mink. These capes are from 22 to 30 inches in length and a sweep of from 90 Muffs, collarettes and THE are also shown in all fashionable furs from coney to chinchilla. The even-ing wraps displayed are really works of art in design and finish. In gentlemen's furs several magnificent fur lined coats are exhibited, one especially, a handsome seal lined coat, attracts a great deal of merited admiration. Coats are also shown lined with the hest grades of otter and muskrat furs. The firm makes any or all of these coats to order. The front of the booth is lined with robes of beaver, red fox and goat skins, and altogether the department is one of beauty. A great deal of credit is due this firm for the amount of space they have taken and the magnificent exhibits they have shown

WELCOME SOAP. The Welcome Soap folk have set the pace this year in the way of attractions, and crowds gather all day long around the show at the western end of the annex floor. A typical farm yard scene is presented with much attention to detail. A picket fence with rustic gate encloses the yard in the centre of which rises a neat cottage, and hard by its kitchen door a genuine southern "mammy" is washing and hanging out clothes, the whiteness of which on the line testifies to the merits of Welcome Soap. While the wash is drying, she sings some popular negro melodies, which have already caught the ear of most every visitor. Around the front gate a guessing contest is going on, in which all patrons of the exhibition can take a chance free of cost. The first prize is $15 in cash and there are a host of other prizes. Guessing blanks are furnished to every caller. The crowd of applicants keeps two pretty girls as busy as bees. There is no gainsaying the fact that the proprietors of Welcome Soap are live people, who know they have a good thing and are bound to let all the Canadian world know it, as well.

GOOLD BICYCLE CO. (LTD.)

This company occupies a large space

of some 400 square feet, which, for beaten in the building. Upon the wall the electric sign "Red Bird," in colored lights casts a tinted light upon the exhibit. Photogarphs of racing men who ride "Red Birds" to victory occupy the wall in company with the coats of arms of each province in the dominion, and on the attached scrolls are inscribed the name of the champions of each province, every one of whom prefers a "Red Bird" as his mount. Upon an easel at one end of the exhibit is a crayon portrait of Hank and Ted Rosebrugh, the young twins of the Toronto manager, ride a Brantford tandem, specially made for them. A crimson shield upon the wall back of the portrait bears the different parts which, when asse oled, go toward making the famous "Red Bird." The company three styles of "Red Bird" tandems, including the celebrated combination which can be arranged to accommodate either two ladies, two gentlemen, or a gentleman and a lady. They also show an 18-1b racer, which is splendidly finished. A lady's "Red Bird," fitted with the new Wilson brake, weight 2 1-4 ozs., with which the rider can keep his wheel under perfect control upon the steepest grade, it being applied simply by back pedalling, cites much admiration among the lady cyclists. Lady's "Black Birds" and 'Ruby Rims' are shown, and intermingled among them are some rare and beautiful tropical plants, an which is a large St. John's lily, imported from St. Johns, Florida. firm has had an exceedingly pro ous year, and have succeeded in posing of the entire output of the year, and in the course of a few wee the large factory in Brantford will be running day and night, producing the '98 models, which Mr. Edgecombe, the St. John manager, had the pleasure nspecting during his recent visit to the works. In addition to the immense Canadian trade carried on by the firm, they daily received orders during the season from Europe consignments of their wheels. Dur-ing the time Mr. Edgecombe was at Brantford, two large European orde were received, one from Glasgow Scotland, and the other from Petersburg, Russia. In Australia 'Red Bird" has carried everything fore it, so that at the present time it is impossible to find a cycle meet in any part of the world where 'crimson flash" is not seen well to the front.
