it is longer. In thousands of cases its permanent ness is demonstrated by the fact that it does not peel off or sag like plaster. It resists fire. Durability means economy.

SON, to North Wharf friend for the information but he was sure that the audit act did not contain such information. He would ask his confidential source to read the act of 1909 and see if there was reference to the lieutenant governor in council.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that the treasury board must first report to the lieutenant governor in council and then the order in council was passed.

Mr. Copp said that such information was the first he had received and was also the first that had been given to the people of the country. He read from the report to show that the treasury board of the authority.

It has been claimed in this house and by the press supporting the present administration that the opposition had voted against the construction of the railway.
He had taken the attitude which he had always contended that while the project would involve great liability he would every safeguard in the bill. From the facts that were coming out daily it went to show that the fears of the opposition were well founded in regard to the railway. His own friends claimed that every safeguard had been taken in regard to this project, but if they had taken no such substantial action as they had done in guaranteeing bonds for the construction of the Southampton Railway they would not be protecting the province's interests at all.

In answer to an enquiry he had been told that the government had guaranteed bonds for the construction of the Southampton Railway for $15,000 per mile but had no information in regard to the cost of the railway per mile as to whether new rails were laid. They had taken a mortgage on this road but had absolutely no essential information, and just for sale of satisfying a supporter of this government.

Immigration seemed to be a subject of great interest throughout the province. If the government could do something to keep the people at home it would be much better in the interests of the province, if the government could find out how many sons of New Brunswick were abroad in foreign countries and endeavor to get them back to their homes. He was not aware of the way proposed to the idea of inducing new immigrants to locate here.

In addition to promises to keep the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary income and honest collection and expenditure of money this government had promised to make a survey of the crown lands and this had not been done. The government might continue to have over expenditures which had been the case in 1911. Instead of nourishing the hon. friend had spent it in reckless manner and when the people considered the great expenditures of their money he felt they would be suspicious and skeptical as to what would happen if his hon. friends were left in power.

The people of the province were not getting the service in public schools that the expenditure warranted and the public works department was being administered in an extravagant manner.

Seconded by Mr. Bentley, he moved the following amendment to the motion that Mr. Speaker leave the chair.

"Resolved, That this house views with alarm the growing evil of using the taxpayer's money to pay tributes to a political party thereby causing waste and extraneous expenditure."

"Further desires to place on record its disapproval of the very large and unwarranted increase in the public debt of the present administration and the inability of the government to prudently administer the provincial finances so as to keep the ordinary expenditure within the ordinary revenue notwithstanding the large increase in the subsidy from the dominion government and other increases in revenue."

Hon. Mr. Morrissey, Dr. Sornay and Mr. McLachlan also spoke and Dr. Landry moved the adjournment of the debate.

Bills Agreed To.
After Hon. Dr. Landry moved the sitting judgment of the debate until tomorrow afternoon, the house went into committee with Mr. Burchill in the chair, and considered the bill to amend the act incorporating the Tobique River Driving Company, which was agreed to with amendments.

Also a bill to amend the act incorporating the Buctouche Railway Company, which was agreed to with amendments.

St. John and Quebec Railway Company for of certain properties for assessment and taxes, which were amended and agreed to.
