

TWO AUSTRIAN SUBMARINES CAPTURED BY ITALIAN NAVY

Harbor of Pola Again Bombarded by French and Italian Hydroplanes.

A despatch from Rome says: The capture of two submarines is reported in an announcement on Sunday from the War Office. The statement follows:

"The enemy submarine Vc12, which the German navy ceded to Austria-Hungary, has fallen into our hands, and become a unit of our torpedo squadrons. Another enemy submarine the VT12, belonging to the Austro-Hungarian navy, also is in our possession. "Italian and French hydroplanes on Friday dropped bombs on the enemy's works at Pola. Enemy aeroplanes made a counter-attack, but were repulsed. One of our hydroplanes successfully fought three enemy aeroplanes. "Enemy aeroplanes bombed our torpedo boats at sea without effect. All our units returned to their base unharmed."

ITALIAN BATTLESHIP HIT MINE 675 MEN ON BOARD PERISHED

The Disaster Occurred a Month Ago, But It Has Only Now Been Announced.

A despatch from Rome says: It is officially announced that the Italian battleship Regina Margherita struck a mine off the Albanian coast and sank December 4. Six hundred and seventy-five men on board perished. Two hundred and seventy were saved.

The battleship Regina Margherita was laid down in 1898, and completed in May, 1904. She was a vessel of 13,427 tons, 426 feet long, and had a draught of 27 feet. Her usual complement was 730 men. The battleship carried four 12-inch, four 8-inch, twelve 6-inch guns, twenty 12-pounders, two 1-pounders, two maxims and four torpedo tubes.

BRITISH WIN IN PALESTINE

Anzac Mounted Troops Destroy Turk Position At Rafa.

A despatch from London says: The War Office reports: "On Tuesday our troops captured a strong enemy position consisting of six lines of entrenchments with six main redoubts and a central keep, covering Rafa, 30 miles north-east of El Arish, Egypt. The attacking force, composed of Anzac mounted troops and the Imperial Camel Corps, left El Arish on Monday, and the attack on the position commenced at 7 a.m. Tuesday. The fighting lasted until 5 p.m., when the position was finally carried.

"After the engagement a Turkish relief force was located, advancing from Shalal, 16 miles east of Rafa. This force was engaged at a point about four miles from the Rafa position, and was entirely destroyed.

"Up to the present, we have taken 1,000 unwounded prisoners and four mountain guns. The enemy killed and wounded in our hands amount to 600."

ROME CONFERENCE TURNING POINT IN WAR

A despatch from London says: The Times in an editorial on Wednesday regarding the recent War Council held in Rome, says: "The conference just concluded in Rome may well prove one of the turning points in the war. More than one vital decision was reached with complete harmony. The road to victory, though it may be long, is now running straight to the appointed end."

BRITISH CAPTURE POSITIONS ON FRONT OF NEARLY A MILE

Several Raids Also Resulted in the Bagging of Large Numbers of Prisoners.

A despatch from London says: The British official communication issued on Thursday night says: "A number of minor enterprises were undertaken last night with excellent results. South of the Ancre we entered the enemy trenches at two places in the neighborhood of Grandcourt, and took prisoners. Early this morning a local operation on a large scale north-east of Beaumont-Hamel was completely successful. Our troops carried an enemy trench on a front of three-quarters of a mile, and established our position. An enemy counter-attack this afternoon was caught in the open by our artillery, and broken up with loss. One hundred and seventy-six prisoners, including four officers, were taken in the course of the operations in this area. "Enemy trenches also were raided last night east of Armentieres, and north-east of Ypres. Many casualties were inflicted on the enemy."

MEN UNFIT FOR ACTIVE DUTY TO TAKE PLACES OF FIT MEN

A despatch from London says: The scheme of co-ordinating the training of Canadians in England with the requirements in France, is proceeding satisfactorily. Officers from corps and divisional schools have been transferred by the general staff to England, and many of them are specialists in certain lines of instruction. The Canadian military school at Shorncliffe is being reorganized. Col. Watty Burland, who has done exceptionally good work here, will command a double reserve battalion. Special instruction is now given to all men proceeding to France. A list has been compiled throughout all Canadian centres in England of men fit for active service. Such will be replaced by unfit men and others incapacitated at the front.

The task of raising the Canadian Patriotic Fund is not all serious work. It is illumined here and there by flashes of humor, and everywhere there crop out touches of human nature that add zest to the work. Take the case of a Quebec county councillor. His council had been asked to contribute a certain sum yearly, and an officer of the Fund called on him to secure his endorsement of the proposal. He listened to an explanation of the details, and then started to estimate what the new taxation would imply to him. Then he said: "All right, I'll vote for the grant. I find that it will cost me eight dollars, but I'd rather pay even twenty dollars than go to the war!"

NOTE IS CLEAR AND POSITIVE

Demands Restoration of Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro.

A despatch from London says: The Times' war editorial on Friday on the allies' note says: "Eminently courteous and friendly in tone, clear and positive in statement, closely reasoned, and animated by the lofty ideals of politics, morals to which the people of the United States have always paid homage, the reply of the allies to President Wilson's note must command the assent and approbation of the great nation who inherited, assimilated and developed the best principles and traditions of Western civilization. The German Government hastened to avail themselves of a phrase which they picked out of the President's note in order to curtail the information which he asked. They made no avowal of their views as to the terms on which the war might be concluded, and told him in substance he was on a mistaken road to peace. The allies do not pretend in the present position to state all their war aims in detail, but declare the general objects with more amplitude and precision than in any statement they have yet made to their own countrymen."

The Times then enumerates the terms of the allies, viz: The restoration of Belgium, of Serbia and Montenegro and complete reparation for the damage they sustained, and the evacuation of the invaded territories of France, Russia and Rumania, with such reparation as is considered justified by the stable regime and founded upon the respected nationalities and full liberty and security of all great and small nations.

The restoration of territories previously severed from allied nations by force or contrary to the wishes of their populations.

The liberation of Italians, Slavs, Rumanians and Czech Slavs from foreign domination.

The retirement of the Turkish Empire from Europe.

The expression "they must provide restoration of the provinces torn from the allies by force against the wish of the inhabitants" is a clear reference, says the Times, to Alsace-Lorraine.

The editorial concludes: "We feel confident the excellent impression which the allies' reply to Germany created must be confirmed and intensified by the more ample answer we make at the suggestion of the President."

"VICTORY LOAN" GRIPS J. BULL

Tremendous Response to Lloyd George's Appeal.

A despatch from London says: Great Britain's loan of victory was successfully launched on Friday. Stimulated by the speech of Premier Lloyd George in the Guildhall on Thursday, in which he appealed to all classes of society to place their capital at the disposal of the Government, the first investors began to pour their funds into the Bank of England on Friday morning. The Premier's declaration that "a well-directed check" was now as powerful as shell and shrapnel, met with an instant response. By noon half a billion dollars had already been subscribed. Early Friday the building leased by the Bank of England to handle the rush of war-loan bidders was crowded with a picturesque throng, which included many soldiers in khaki and some women. The doors opened earlier than at the bank, and from shortly after 8 o'clock until closing hours the entry was filled with applicants for the prospectuses, who are being distributed broadcast over the city. Even the East End has its share in the loan, one of the earliest visitors to the bank being a cormorant who wheeled away a pile of the pamphlets for the small dealers in his neighborhood. All over Britain application forms are being given out. The munition factories, in particular, are being systematically canvassed by the Government, which is asking the workers, both men and women, to use the new loan as an investment of their weekly savings.

Why He Supported the Fund.
