

Mr. Morrell: What's the strongest day of the week?
 Wheeler: Never gave it much thought.
 Mr. Morrell: Sunday — all the rest are weak days!

 executive was empowered to find the man after the Council voiced its opinion.

The Freshman class secretary, Treasurer, Jim Chapman, put in a plea for $65 to make up a deficit on their Freshman dance. They argued that they had been informed that the Freshman dance must be free, and so they lost money on it as they had planned to charge admittance up to the last day or so before the dance. Ralph Hay moved that they be granted the money and about eight more Freshmen seconded the motion. The vote was close but in favor of the Freshmen, so President Atyeo said, "Motion carried" while muttering loudly about "Rsp by Pop".

George Robinson introduced a request from the N. F. C. U. S. for assistance to a student who is to represent U. N. B. in an N. F. C. U. S. sponsored trip to Yugoslavia this summer. The council decided that it was a good idea and passed a motion granting him up to $200. There will be a later announcement concerning the lucky student.

Several class and club officers for next year were approved by the Council as were the positions of Doug Rouse as badminton manager, and Murray Andrews as track manager, Vern Mullen as Editor-in-Chief of the Brunswickan and Doug Rice as business manager. Mary Dohoney read a list of student who have qualified for S. R. C. awards which was also approved.

Since this was the last night for Seniors to let off steam there were verbal clashes between Eric Teed "The guardian of the Constitution" (with bulldogs), Murray Seely and John Baxter. The system of calling for managerial applications and the S. R. C. award "points" system were the subject, and there were lots of criticisms both personal and objective from all three sides. Charges of "irresponsibility" (which by the way is not in the dictionary) and office seeking for S. R. C. points were thrown across the floor. On such a note the S. R. C. adjourned with no heads broken.

Next year's S. R. C. under George Robinson will conduct the last meeting of the year next week.

Ottawa Alumni

 Such was the success of the meeting that plans were made for future gatherings. The method of organization adopted was the appointment of a steering committee. It is expected, however, that this committee will be temporary and will give place in the fall to a more formal type of organization.

Dr. Gregg was introduced by Senator Burchill who paid tribute to the way in which the University was coping with the task that was given it two years ago, when demobilization suddenly increased student attendance up the Hill to over three times its 1939 level.

In his address, Dr. Gregg said that despite the unprecedented expansion of the University a successful effort had been made to preserve the old traditions, the customs and the intimacy of New Brunswick's college on the hill. This success had been made possible, he said due to the spirit of freedom, tolerance and cordial good will that many had knit into the fabric of U. N. B.

Dr. Gregg then dealt with the short term policy, 1940-1950, under first the physical factors and second "the much more important human factors." Following that he went on to discuss the long term view beyond 1950 which he referred to as the post-veteran period.

To Alexander H. McKee went the honor of oldest graduate in attendance at the dinner. Mr. McKee graduated with the class of 1900.

A vote of thanks to Dr. Gregg was moved by Hon. H. F. G. Bridges '22, Federal Minister of Fisheries and seconded by A. J. Brooks '10, Member of Parliament for Royal.

Dr. Gregg was asked about the forthcoming Reunion and he replied by telling the meeting about the plans and preparations being made. He predicted a huge success for the function and expressed the hope that many from Ottawa would be able to return to the campus for the event.

Through The Mill

Finding the unfortunately, permanent column's policy of copy, never create, or create something no one would copy, repugnant to me, I have collected and proudly present original gems (dunno whose) for your consumption.

 Gentlemen,—After scanning your credentials with considerable interest I feel that you are quite acceptable to me. I am willing to offer my services for the future, to you.

I am 22 years old and will complete my course at the University of New Brunswick Forestry School in a few months. I will then take a month's vacation in Florida (at the Roosevelt Hotel in Jacksonville) where you may contact me only in cases of extreme emergency. I will not prolong my vacation beyond June 15th as I expect you will be very anxious to take me into your office.

In college I have ably participated in numerous activities. Since my first Freshman year I have been allowed to vote for my class officers and mark my own ballots. Once I was appointed on a committee of ten to decide what colour decorations to have at a dance. Thus my ability to make important decisions has not gone by unnoticed. For three years I have been voted "the best orange juicer and gum unwrapper the second basketball team ever had."

During my undergraduate summers I have gained considerable experience in the business world with such positions as hotel desk clerk, bell-hop and janitor. I might add that I'm considered a fair shot with a pistol.

My grades have not been too good I admit, but since we both know that examination results are no indication of intelligence we can easily avoid any discussion of same.

In view of my experience and my mature way of thinking and keeping company costs in mind I feel that seventy dollars ($70) a week would be a fair wage for a start.

I believe that I should tell you that I am writing other companies at this same time, so if you want me you had best hurry before someone else snaps me up.

Your Future President
 JACK PINE.

 spondence through the summer months.

The dead-line date for applicants will be advanced to April 14th in view of the fact that the publicity was so late in appearing. All applications should be addressed to the N. F. C. U. S. Committee on this campus and placed in the mail rack in the Arts Building. They will later be passed on to the selection committee for examination when the scholarships have been approved. Successful candidates, who are to be known as "Federation Scholars", will be notified of their acceptance before the end of the term or as shortly thereafter as is possible.

All students that are in anyway interested are urged to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity.

 DE. 6) and highlights include the installation of Lord Beaverbrook as Chancellor; the unveiling of the Poet's Memorial, featuring an address by the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey; unveiling of a plaque to the memory of Dr. Bryan Priestman by U. N. B.'s Veterans Club; the Reunion dinner, with the Alumni Oration by Chauncey D. Orchard, R.Sc., M.Sc., M. M. Together with many other Alumni and Alumnae functions, senior class festivities, and the Maritime Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet, Mr. Murray's prediction comes near to being an understatement.

J. Edward Murphy, 32-year-old Mayor of Moncton, N. B., is a graduate of U. N. B., class of '36. He succeeded G. F. G. Bridges, U. N. B., class of '32.

President Greet Ottawa Grad

Dr. Milton F. Cregg, V. C., exchanges greetings with Alexander H. McKee, during a recent banquet held by the U. N. B. Graduates Society in Ottawa. Mr. McKee, the oldest graduate present at the Ottawa banquet, was formerly secretary of the Department of Transport. He graduated from U. N. B. with the class of '03.
