

on as you were doing: I can't say how uneasy I felt about you after your visit to us. There was such alter easitude of body with its mental easitude of spirit. And if you had but the gift of the spirit you might have been a prosperous successful honourable statesman but you wouldn't

Dear Bee I can only tell you ~~so~~ badly the climax of misery with which we are faced. She is suffering from cancer. These things are slow in old people & she may live some time yet but that's the path which must be trodden. You said you wanted to share my griefs so I tell you of this one & ask your prayers
