

applies to the provinces of Ontario and Quebec; And now it is claimed there are 15,000,000 Canadians with their descendants in the U.S.A.

The Children have been taught in school for nearly 50 years that Canada has potential resources in Mineral & Forest equal to any of the larger countries of the World. And we who have patiently waited wonder why we have only gained slightly better than 5,000,000 people since Confederation.

It seems that if we had the Industrial development which our potential resources <sup>represented</sup> (the mine & forest, gas & coal development and water power harnessed) we should have at least 30 million people.

Why have governments overlooked the exodus of Canadian, and American settlers returning to the U.S.A.

Why have governments gone homestead crazy paying attention only to land settlement with an expensive immigration policy.
