

For Liver Disorders

And for all affections of the Stomach and Bowels, prompt relief and cure are afforded by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They easily correct slight derangements of these organs, and are of incalculable benefit in chronic cases.

I have been using Ayer's Pills, in my family, for over three years, and find in them an effective remedy for Constipation and Indigestion. We are never without these Pills in the house.—Moses Grenier, 72 Hall st., Lowell, Mass.

For years I have been subject to Constipation and Nervous Headaches, caused by Indigestion and derangement of the Liver. After taking various kinds of medicine, I have become convinced that Ayer's Pills are the best. They have never failed to relieve my bilious attacks in a short time, and I am sure my system retains its tone longer, after the use of these Pills, than has been the case with any other medicine I have tried.—H. S. Sledge, Weimar, Texas.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the safest and best medicine I ever used for Bowel Complaint. I have never known them fail to cure this disorder. They have been peculiarly effective, in my family, in all cases of Liver

And Stomach Troubles.

Ayer's Pills are prompt and mild in their action; they gently stimulate the liver, and always leave the bowels in a natural condition.—Phillip Caldwell, Beverly, Mass.

After sixteen hours of intense suffering with Bilious Colic, I took Ayer's Cathartic Pills. In half an hour the pain in my stomach and bowels subsided, and I quickly recovered.—R. S. Heathfield, 63 Chestnut st., Providence, R. I.

For nearly five years I was a confirmed dyspeptic. During the last three months of this time, my life was a burden to me. I had no appetite, became pale and emaciated, and was unable to work. I tried various remedies, but found no relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills. A few boxes of this medicine greatly improved my appetite, restored my liver and stomach to a healthy condition, and my food now digests perfectly.—Ernest Lewis, 43 Main st., Lewiston, N. Y.

Ayer's Pills have cured a case of Chronic Dyspepsia, here, which resisted other remedies, and had become a very serious affliction. The cure is remarkable, and has created a sensation in this locality.—S. K. Jones, M. D., Brighton, Mich.

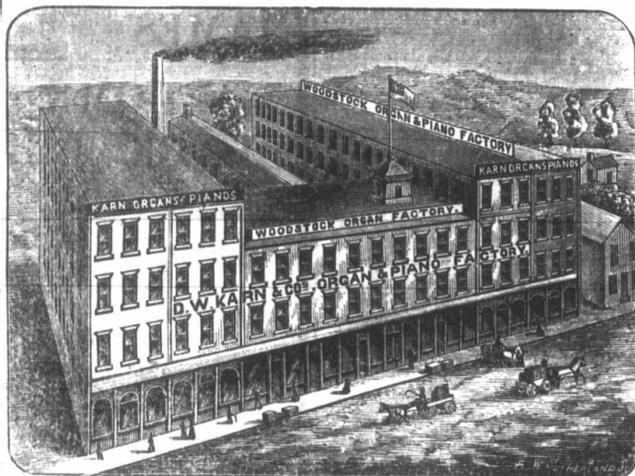

For a number of years I was greatly troubled with Dyspepsia. I became weak, nervous, had no appetite, and there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear. After taking a number of remedies, without obtaining relief, I began to use Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and, at the same time, commenced dieting. This treatment effected a complete cure.—Jeremiah W. Styles, Fort Madison, Iowa.

THE CLOTHES-PIN GARDEN.

One, two, three, four, broken clothes pins in the midst of the dead flowers and leaves in Benny Blake's garden! "How came they there?" I asked.

But Benny looked very sober, and, digging the toe of his little boot into the carpet, he said in a low voice:

"I put them there, auntie."

"What for, dear?"

"Cause," said Benny. "But it is a very great secret with mamma and me," he added.

"A nice one, I hope, dear?"

"Not—a—very—nice one," replied Benny. "I've had lots and lots nicer." When he said this his voice was sober as well as his dear little face. Of course I did not try to find out the secret. I heard nothing more about the clothes-pins until this summer when we were at the sea-shore together.

One day Benny made a sand garden, with shells and stones for a wall. In it he put some wild flowers he had gathered that morning. When it was in full bloom he led mamma to it, saying, with a very happy smile on his face:

"These are ever so much nicer than old clothes-pins, aren't they—the flowers are?"

The tears came into mamma's eyes as she kissed the dear face. Her voice trembled when she answered:

"So much nicer, darling."

"The next day I was told the secret. Benny had one dreadful fault—sometimes he would tell a lie. So every time he told an untruth mamma had him put a broken clothes-pin next to her choicest blossom in his own garden. All summer he had to see them, and when the winter snows came there were one, two, three, four, little white mounds which he could see from the window. Monuments to four lies!

Now you can understand why he was so happy with the flowers in his little sand-garden, and why the tears of joy came into mamma's eyes.—M. Kingston, in Our Little Ones.

She was saved from days of agony and discomfort, not by great interpositions, but by the use of the only sure-pop corn cure—Putman's Painless Corn Extractor. Tender, painful corns are removed by its use in a few days, without the slightest discomfort. Many substitutes in the market make it necessary that only "Putman's" should be asked for and taken. Sure, safe, harmless.

PAID FOR IT.

On board a steam-packet last summer was an old man, who seemed determined to attract the attention of the passengers. He had some stock jokes and a grotesque way of retailing them. In the course of his fluent talk he spoke of the clergy and their work; he gave his reasons for not thinking much of them, they were "paid for it."

Before we landed, the intention of all his nonsense was made known. Having got the people around him, he took out a lot of papers containing the songs which he had mixed up with his talk. He handed them round and was "paid for it."

Some people are eager to tell what religion costs, and how much money might be saved, if the clergy were not "paid for it."

They are very zealous; is it because they are "paid for it?"

THE COCAINE HABIT.

THE WORST SLAVERY KNOWN—NEW REVELATIONS OF POWER.

Cincinnati Times-Star.

When cocaine was discovered the medical world exclaimed "thank heaven!"

But useful as it is, it is also dangerous especially when its use is perverted from the deadening of pain for surgical operations, to the stimulation and destruction of the human body.

Its first effects are soothing and captivating, but the thralldom is the most horrible slavery known to humanity. J. L. Stephens, M. D., of Lebanon, O., was interviewed by our reporter yesterday at the Grand Hotel, and during the conversation the doctor said: "The cocaine habit is a thousand times worse than the morphine and opium habits, and you would be astonished," he said, "if you knew how frightfully the habit is increasing."

"What are its effects?" "It is the worst constitution wrecker ever known. It ruins the liver and kidneys in half a year, and when this work is done, the strongest constitution soon succumbs."

"Do you know of Dr. Underhill's case here in Cincinnati?"

"That leading physician who became a victim of the cocaine habit? Yes. His case was a very sad one, but the habit can be cured. I have rescued many a man from a worse condition."

"What, worse than Dr. Underhill's?"

"Indeed, sir, far so. Justin M. Hall, A. M., M. D., president of the State Board of Health of Iowa, and a famed practitioner, and Alexander Neil, M. D., professor of surgery in the Columbus Medical College, and president of the Academy of Medicine, a man widely known, Rev. W. P. Clancey of Indianapolis, Ind., from personal experience in opium eating, etc., can tell you of the kind of success our form of treatment wins, and so can H. O. Wilson, formerly of Cincinnati, who is now associated with me."

"Would you mind letting our readers into the secret of your methods?"

"Well, young man, you surely have a good bit of assurance to ask a man to give his business away to the public; but I won't wholly disappoint you. I have treated over 20,000 patients. In common with many eminent physicians, I, for years made a close study of the effects of the habits on the system and the organs which they most severely attack. Dr. Hall, Dr. Neil and Mr. Wilson, whom I have mentioned, and hundreds of others, equally as expert, made many similar experiments on their own behalf. We each found that these drugs worked most destructively in the kidneys and liver; in fact, finally destroyed them. It was then apparent that no cure could be effected until those organs could be restored to health. We recently exhausted the range of medical science, experimenting with all known remedies for these organs, and as the result of these close investigations we all substantially agreed, though following different lines of inquiry, that the most reliable, scientific preparation, was Warner's safe cure. This was the second point in the discovery. The third was our own private form of treatment, which, of course, we do not divulge to the public. Every case we
