What the Busy Outside World Is Doing.

Klondikers Robbed—16,000 Alaskan Sealskins on One Boat—New York Banks Call on Seattle for Gold.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—A mass meeting of Bohemian residents of Chicago was held today to denounce those responsible for issuing a circular recently, in which it was stated that Bohemians are in the custom of forming secret clubs among themselves for the purpose of inducing suicides. The circular, it is said, have been sent broadcast over the country.

Today's meeting was attended by nearly 1000 Bohemians and each speaker in denouncing the authors of the circular was enthusiastically cheered. All the speeches were in Bohemian. Frank B. Zdrubek and James E. Cross were the principal speakers. They addressed the meeting on behalf of the Bohemian secret societies and claimed that the Bohemians had been greatly slandered and injured through the issuance of the circulars.

Seattle, Oct. 20.—Edith Lawrence, a variety actress charged with grand larceny from Walter Sweetman, a returned Klondiker, was acquitted in the superior court yesterday before Judge Jacobs. The state's evidence was merely circumstantial, and the jury returned with the verdict in ten minutes after leaving the courtroom.

It was claimed that the woman drugged Sweetman at Madison park and robbed him of $95. They were drinking together.

Seattle, Oct. 1.—A Lowell, Mass., humorist, in a serio comic vein suggested that all Irish-Americans out of a job get their guns and proceed to South Africa to assist Oom Paul in walloping the common enemy. Consternation is now reported among the uitlanders in the Transvaal because of a rumor that 10,000 armed Irishmen are coming from America to help the Boers down the British. This illustrates how far and fast a little joke traaveleth.

Seattle, Oct. 20.—The English government has agents in Kentucky buying American mules, and others in the iron regions making contracts for light iron girders and bridging sections, to be used in field and campaign work. The orders for bridge material comes because expedition is necessary. The world recognizes the shop to deal with in an emergency.

Ardmore, I. T., Oct. 19.—Chickasaw legislature, in session at Tishomingo, passed the bill today raising the fee for marriage licenses from $50 to $1000. The measure is aimed at white men who marry into the tribe to profit by the annuities and lease money drawn by female Chickasaws.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—The steamer Del Norte has arrived from Alaska with 16,812 sealskins, consigned to the North American Commercial Company. They were taken under license and will net the government a heavy royalty.

New York, Oct. 20.—The Vanderbilt estate will pay the government $3,700,000 in war revenue taxes, and to New York state $1,500,000 inheritance tax. It is indeed, an ill wind that blows nobody good.

New York, Oct. 10.—The New York banks are congratulating themselves that a couple of millions of Klondike gold is to be sent from Seattle to their relief.

Lisbon, Sept. 16.—Experiments made at the Pasteur institute here identify the Oporto epidemic microbes as those of the bubonic plague.

Mail Matter.

Postmaster Hartman was seen by a Nugget man regarding the 28 sacks of mail buried in the wreck of the Stratton at Selwyn:

"Was it incoming mail?" was asked.
 "O, yes; it was mail for Dawson."
 "Are you taking any steps to recover the bags?"
 "Yes. Through the police."
 "You are offering special inducements to the police are you not?"
 "Yes; $10 a sack. The diver who wanted the job couldn't undertake it without his man to work the apparatus on top. The man is on Jack Wade creek and can't be reached on account of the open water between here and there. Everything seems to be open but just in front of Dawson. The Anglian has left her winter quarters to make another mail trip to Whitehorse. She telegraphs us that she is meeting no ice at all. We are trying to get her to visit there for mail connections over the open lakes, and bring it on down as far as she can come. The Anglian took up 34 sacks of mail. The lakes are all open, but a part of Tagish, I believe. Our Indian dog driver who was to accompany the mail carrier, returned Monday from a "scouting" trip and reported the ice to end at Ogilvie, at Sixtymile river. He went through the ice in several places and no attempt will be made by us to transport the mails."

That Go-As-You Please.

The Taylor-Thoerner-Risner-Earl go-as-you-please contest is attracting widespread attention. The irrepressible Taylor is out with another challenge which takes in every man in Dawson, outside of the three who have already signed articles. Taylor offers $1000 to any man he can't beat, and $250 to any man whom he can't beat at least 10 miles in the six-day race, the days to be of four hours.

The boys can be seen any day at the gymnasium, exercising for wind, and show any amount of confidence that they can hold Taylor down to his knitting. Nevertheless Taylor smiles and smiles and issues challenges broadcast with all the abandon of an old timer. Many of the sports thinks that in the athletic Thoerner, he of the challenges has met his match. Thoerner was successful once in an important pedestrian contest at Munich, Germany, and believes himself to be in better shape even than then.

Remembered Their Emperor.

Last Friday, was the 51st anniversary of the birthday of Emperor Meiji of Japan, and it was royally celebrated by the Japanese residents of Dawson. A hall on Third street was secured and furnished for the occasion. There are 24 male Japanese here and each subscribed $15 to defray the expenses; all were at the banquet, which was served at 9 o'clock. It is doubtful if the emperor and his suite enjoyed a dinner which was more expensive per plate than was that of his loyal subjects in Dawson. The table was loaded with every delicacy to be had in the local market. Wine and toasts followed the meal. Y. Kwahami responded to "Our Emperor;" George Kersehow spoke of "The Empire;" Henry Meatsumoto toasted "The Empress;" "Peace and Progress" was the toast of Henry Kojimoto. A number of others made speeches, and the enjoyable event was continued till the early morning hours of Saturday.

Gold Commissioner's Decision.

In the gold commissioner's court the case of Hansen vs. Parkes was decided in favor of Hansen. Parks staked a hillside off No. 19, on the left limit of the Klondike and afterwards moved his stakes. Decided that he could not hold the ground so staked.

In Charleston vs. Thompson, the first-named staked on the left limit of No. 84 below lower on Dominion and was held off until Thompson staked and recorded. Mr. Senkler cancels Thompson's grant and issues one to Charleston.

The case of Christianson vs. Patterson was dismissed, the plaintiff not appearing.

Halloween.

A lively halloween party was given at the home of Mrs. M. P. West on Tuesday night. A goodly crowd was present and jollity reigned supreme. Among the notables were Mr. Ogilvie, Dr. Brown, Capt. Jack and Dr. Mosher. The company was congenial and all enjoyed the occasion. "Bite apple," "forefeits," "button, button, who's got the button," and other amusements passed the time quickly away, the proceedings being relieved of monotony by a handsome lunch, followed with a lavish supply of nuts and candy. The jollification was kept up until early morning.

Aphorisms.
 Happiness is not the end of life; character is.—H. W. Beecher.
 Make not thy friends too cheap to thee, nor thyself to thy friends.—Fuller.
 Truth makes the face of that person shine who speaks and owns it.—South.
 Incredulity robs us of many pleasures and gives us nothing in return.—Lowell.
 Waste of time is the most extravagant and costly of all expenses.—Theophrastus.
 It is not helps, but obstacles, not faculties, but difficulties, that make men.—W. Mathews.
 If a good face is a letter of recommendation, a good heart is a letter of credit.—Butler.
 Lands mortgaged may return, but honesty once pawned is ne'er redeemed.—Middleton.

MY FATE.
 I'm in love with a dear little girlie;
 As proud as the bride of an earl.
 Her teeth there is nothing more pearly;
 Her hair all in wavelets and curl.
 For charms she's the queen of the witches;
 For this sweet little girl I would die.
 More precious than jewels or riches,
 Are those smiles for which courtiers vie.
 And often I start up from dreaming;
 My heart in the sorest distress,
 To find but the emptiest of seeming,
 When I thought it an actual caress
 And my arms they are weary with yearning
 For this sweetheart in "Evergreen" state.
 And southward this heart is e'er turning
 To the girl of whose sweetness I prate.
 Now I'm married for years, six or seven,
 And she knows of the love that I bear—
 This angel, whose beauty's of Heaven;
 The devotion I give to the fair.
 But, bless you, she's not at all jealous;
 She smiles without hinting of blame.
 It's my daughter—my baby—my precious,
 And she charms my poor wife just the same.

"Andy" Jr.'s Birthday Party.
 "Uncle" Andy Young never does anything by halves. Whether it is selling The Nugget on the streets of Dawson or entertaining guests at a swell banquet, Andy throws his whole spirit into the occasion. Sunday last was the birthday of Andy, jr., and Uncle Andy prepared for his son a celebration that will long be remembered by those who were sufficiently fortunate to participate in it. The menu was prepared by J. W. Brown, the well-known caterer who certainly did himself and the occasion proud. A glance at the menu which follows will tell the entire story.
