The Call.
(By Dr. Frank Crane.)
You have as much sense as the next man. Use it. Rely on it. And it will grow.
You have two good hands, two good eyes, two good ears, your lungs and lights are in good working order, you have just as good a physical machine as Vincent Astor. Use them.
You have as much faith as Francis ever had, if you don't use it, you have as much hope and courage as Mark Twain. Use it.
You have as good an education as Rockefeller had.
You can read the same newspapers, magazines, and books as Mr. Howells read.
You can see the same pictures in the galleries that Charles Dana Gibson can see.
You have as many funny experiences as George Ade.
You have a pen and as much paper as Rudyard Kipling.
There's as much adventure calling you as ever called General Funston.
You have twenty-four hours a day, just the same as Woodrow Wilson.
What's the matter with you?
Why don't you make good?
All the wide seas want ships; where is yours?
The quarries are full of stone waiting to go into houses, the mines are gorged with ore, the forests are thick with building material.
Bridges need built, leg. inventions are piling to be born, the world is hungry for interesting books. Build, invent, write!
Every magazine editor is searching diligently in his mail for the real story; send one in.
Every business house is crying for salesmen, every woman wants a good husband, children want teachers, the demand for the right man everywhere is tremendous.
What do you mean you have no chance?
Opportunity's knuckles are all a-knocking at your door.
Farmers can't find laborers, housewives can't find cooks, theatrical managers can't find the right plays.
The scarest thing in the world is a man, a real man.

Red Cross Week in Nova Scotia July 8-15

July 8th 15th is Red Cross week in Nova Scotia. That week the great crimson banner, symbol of all messengers of merciful ministry, will fly over the province to rally to the support of all for which it stands—every man, woman and child in Nova Scotia will be invited to contribute to the Red Cross fund. The Red Cross fund is the most far-reaching, all embracing of the war funds. It stands for ministrations to our fighting men and for aid to war sufferers, almost infinite in kind. The Red Cross has become a phrase with which to conjure throughout the civilized world (save in recent Germany). Even the appeal of its red and white insignia, will Nova Scotia do her part? We will believe she will—we are confident that she will.

July 8-15 then is the week during which you are asked to place something into that treasury of which it may be truly said, that it is the Lord's.

A British munitions works' canteen that feeds between 8,000 and 10,000 employees is kept well supplied with food stuffs grown and pigs and sheep raised on the premises. Most of the farming is done by women.

Pointed Paragraphs.
"Politeness is the graduation upon which all are sherpented."
There is nothing wrong with a girl who doesn't know that a young man is in love with her until he mentions it.
A scientist has discovered that hens lay eggs in the daytime because at night they are roosters.
Chaucer writes its name on a man's nose in indelible ink.
Money talks when it is put up as a guaranty.
To please a hen give her a chance to run across the road in front of a fat cow.
A woman never feels dressed up unless she feels comfortable.

Mascots.
Our boys 'Over There' have found new mascots. As they are fighting for Democracy and Humanity, so are they praying that they preach and fight for. The mascots are French waltz tunes destined by German devilshood. Every company of American soldiers is allowed to adopt one or two. These orphans are led, clothed and sent to school. Total cost of each soldier is approximately 25 cents a month and each company is enthusiastically doing its share.—The Wall Street Journal Straws.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from ovarian troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Black River Falls and they wanted me to have an operation, but I refused. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I did not need the operation, and I am telling my friends about it. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Black River Falls, Wis. It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Miller that has made this famous food and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, nervousness, headache, or any other ailment of the female system should not fail to get this food and herb remedy. It is sold by all druggists and by the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Milled's Linctum Cures Distemper

Nervous Breakdown.
THE BLOOD IS OUT OF ORDER OR NERVES ARE IN A STARVED CONDITION.
The nervous system is the governing organ of the whole body, controlling heart, lungs, digestion and brain. It is not surprising that nervous diseases should cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous disease are noted by irritability and nervousness, in which the victims are distressed by their nerves. It is a common immediate attack.

It will prevent a complete breakdown. The victim, however, need not despair for even severe nervous disorders may be cured by improving the conditions of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood that this medicine has cured extreme nervous disorders after all other treatment had failed. The nerves thrive on the new blood made by these Pills; the appetite improves, digestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the former nerve-shattered victim, and he generally takes on a cheerful aspect. Every sufferer from nerve troubles, no matter how slight, should lose no time in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, thus regaining their old-time health and comfort. Mrs. Victor Booth, Parry Sound, Ont., offers proof of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in nervous troubles. She says: "Some years ago I was taken ill with typhoid fever. The attack was not a severe one and after a few weeks I was around again. But I did not regain my former strength, and my nerves began to give me trouble. The trouble went on from one stage to another until finally Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were developed. I was under the care of our family physician but my condition appeared to be growing worse. It was at this stage I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking a couple of boxes I could see they were helping me. I continued to take the pills until I used eight boxes when my health was fully restored, and I have since continued to enjoy that blessing. I have recommended the pills to others and I have seen them in the house, having

Milk and Corn Meal.
Use milk and corn meal in as large quantities as possible during the summer months, is a food conservation suggestion of the United States food administration. The summer season is the season of abundance, and even at the present price is not an expensive food, considering its splendid nutritive and sustaining qualities. Of corn meal there is also an abundance, and its more general use by the housewife will prove a most important factor in reducing the flour consumption, the most essential portion of food conservation to-day. Milk and corn meal are good and wholesome and their use along with larger quantities of vegetables will permit of a substantial saving both of flour and money for export. Every individual of understanding must realize that the food regulations and the suggestions of food experts are efforts to bring about necessary conservation without resort to drastic rationing regulations, such as now exist in all of the European countries. The way to help tide over the time until the next crop is harvested is to pay close heed to the advice of those in authority and get along without the things that are on the conservation list.—Ex.

Be Ready For Emergencies
The best way is to always keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, ready for emergencies. Then when colds or coughs suddenly they can be promptly cared before they have time to reach an acute and dangerous stage. To meet this requirement we have put the syrup up in family size bottles which contain nearly three times as much as the 25 cent bottle and sell at 60 cents.

Seaweed Hay.
One of the most important discoveries which French scientists have found time to make since the war began has been announced by chemists of the Ministry of War—a method of treating seaweed to make it a forage said to be nearly equal to oats and hay, when fed to horses. Experiments were begun as the result of the threatened shortage of oats and at a time when it seemed possible that the Uboat campaign of the Germans might cut off imports entirely. The seaweed, which grows abundantly along the coast of Brittany, was washed to extract the salts, and when analyzed was found to contain less than half as much carbonic matter but more protein than ordinary hay. Tests were made by feeding to a troop of cavalry horses, which gained an average of nearly thirty pounds each in two months, while animals fed on oats merely kept their own.—Portland Oregonian.

ALFRED STOKES,
General Sec'y.

The saying credited to Napoleon, 'that the British seldom won any battles but the last one,' is being widely printed in these days, and one of the reviewers supplements it by words credited to Wellington. When asked if he considered the British troops braver than those of any other nation he is said to have replied: 'I do not know that they are any braver but they remain brave about five minutes longer.'

In Private Homes.
While the regulations governing public eating places and the orders of the Canada Food Board prohibiting or restricting the manufacture of certain varieties of biscuits, cakes, etc., which involve wasteful use of wheat, sugar and shortening are not compulsory in the case of private households, they are being observed voluntarily in thousands of homes. These regulations have not been issued for amusement, but because there is a real necessity for their enforcement. They are to the fullest possible extent. Consequently, their observance is a test of patriotism and good citizenship.

A moral obligation and responsibility rests upon every citizen to follow these regulations just as closely as circumstances possibly will admit, and to use his or her influence to secure more general observance in private homes. If every Canadian realizes a personal duty to be food controller, there will be an eagerness to adopt the suggestions and advice of the Food Board and not to shrink that food service which is necessary in order to feed those who are bearing the brunt of the fighting and suffering.

Sunday Battles.
Some of the fiercest engagements of the present war have been fought on Sunday, the so-called Day of Rest, for the Hun, with all his cant, seems to like that day for a bombing raid on some defenceless town, as well as for such bigger operations at the front, possibly on account of the old adage about the better the day the better the deed.

The fiercest of the battles in the Wars of the Roses was actually fought on Palm Sunday. This was the Battle of Tewkesbury in 1471, and two years later the Battle of Barnet was fought on Easter Sunday.

What is known as the glorious First of June, the big naval battle won by Howe, was on a Sunday; the 'soldiers' battle' of Inkerman, also, while the Indian Mutiny actually broke out on a Sunday.

Both Bull Run and Pittsburg, two of the worst defeats in the American Civil War, were fought on Sunday, while the Peninsula War saw its last general action at Toulon on a Sunday. It was on Sunday evening that Wellington issued that famous order: 'Cid Rodrigo must be carried by assault this evening.'

Canada Has Developed Into Full Nationhood.
Mr. Root showed his customary keen perception of the historic significance of events when, at Toronto a short time ago, he said: 'We bow to this warrior country.' Our own half-million soldiers in France certainly stand at their proudest salute when the half-million of Canadians who preceded them there pass by. The response of Canada to the call of this war was not merely the response of obedience to the British Empire. It was a brave, an instant, a most spirited answer to the call of civilization, liberty and that enduring peace of the world which can be based only on the triumph of right over wrong. Canada did not falter, nor bargain, nor question. She responded with her noblest manhood, and the blow which she has struck against a power which has proved to be our enemy will be remembered as the greatest blow since the American Civil War, when we fought on the Peninsula War saw its last general action at Toulon on a Sunday. It was on Sunday evening that Wellington issued that famous order: 'Cid Rodrigo must be carried by assault this evening.'

Gaza Historic City.
FIGURED IN WARFARE LONG BEFORE THE BIRTH OF SAVIOUR
The capture of Gaza by the British brought forward into the light of public interest an old, old city, scene of a thousand battles, veteran of a hundred wars, to whom, it such be possible, even the terrible Armageddon of to-day must come as only one more struggle in a long life of war. Incidentally, the fall of Gaza went far toward opening the road to Jerusalem to the English.
Gaza had not been taken by men of western Europe since it fell to the armies of Napoleon more than a century ago. It has always been recognized as a key point in any campaign in the Holy Land. Although it is hardly more than a big village today, surrounded by dead sand dunes, only redeemed from complete barrenness by a surrounding grove of banana trees, it was one of the principal cities of the earth.
Such indeed it was, in time past. In the days of the glory of the Philistines it was one of their principal cities, and that was many centuries before the birth of Christ. The Philistines took Samson to Gaza; and this was the city where that muscular hero tore down the gates. Even today there is a tomb in Gaza which is pointed out as his tomb; but speaking both literally and figuratively there is 'nothing in it.'
Gaza seems to have fallen to the British quite easily. In older times it was wont to put up a stiff resistance. It baffled the full strength of Alexander the Great for 151 days. Later it was twice destroyed in warfare. The hosts of Islam captured it eight centuries ago, and held it, except for the brief triumph of the French, until the British victory.

Used For Shaving.
Many men are troubled, more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or irritation caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.
Sufferers from irritation in shaving should use Dr. Chase's Ointment.
