

DISCARDS HIS WIFE FOR HIS AFFINITY.

Artist Earles' Neighbors Object to His Action and 500 Mob Him. Had Prepared Tar and Feathers for Him--He Tries to Justify Himself.

New York, Sept. 6.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle was mobbed by 500 angry fellow-citizens of Monroe, N. Y., and his carriage upset by them when he returned from New York after sending his discarded wife and son to Europe on the Ryndam.

But they did not abandon their purpose to make Monroe too hot further to hold Frederick Pinney Earle. Be-lated wayfarers out in the country a bit, not more than a mile from the Earle estate, on toward 11 o'clock, might have seen light streaming from a barn, and had they entered they would have found more than 100 of the farmers and not a few of the village folk assembled in meeting; and had they remained long enough they would have seen the passage of a resolution which calls on Frederick Pinney Earle to betake himself, bag and baggage, from Monroe and never return more.

At the Wharf. Mrs. Ferdinand P. Earle, the discarded wife of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, artist, vegetarian, sonneteer, advocate of the freedom of love, socialist and all-around poseur, sailed for Boulogne-sur-Mer at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Holland-American liner Ryndam with her two-year-old son.

Before They Got Him. Monroe waited last night for the man who was to be his wife for an "affinity" with all the avidity of a crowd awaiting the coming of a popular leader. A reception committee had arranged everything in advance. The road down which Earle would have had to drive to reach his magnificent home was blocked by a stout rope; near at hand in a field was a bucket of tar and a pile of straw, and a crowd of men were ready to be touched into the blaze.

As each train pulled into the place the crowd would circle around the cars, guarding each exit, and scan each descending passenger in hope of coming across the man who sacrificed his wife. It was an irreverent crowd. Hatred little of artistic temperament or affinities. Time was when those gathered there were wont to do Earle at least respectful homage. But to-night they eagerly demanded of the conductors:

"Have you got Whiskers on board?" "And of the passengers who sighted they inquired:

"Is false-face coming? We have a little reception arranged for him which it would be a pity for him to miss."

Adown the road, to the dark turning where the rope was stretched across, pickets were stationed to give the signal of Earle's approach. But he came not. A wiser, if not a better man, he determined to remain in New York, confident that the night air of Orange County was not good for his health; and after waiting until the last train came and left, the villagers gave up the demonstration they had prepared.

THE M'KINLEY MONUMENT DEDICATED IN BUFFALO.

The 13th and 7th Regiments Assist in Ceremony --Grand Military Spectacle.

(Buffalo Courier.) The presence of Governor Hughes in Buffalo; the parade of the military organizations; the dedication of the McKinley monument (in which the 13th Regiment of Hamilton and the 7th of London took part); and a night run of the fire companies, which was in the nature of a mad race through Main street, made up the spectacular events of yesterday's Old Home Week celebration.

Had it not been for Jupiter Pluvius the crowd would have been as large as that of the day before. But threatening clouds kept many at home. As it was, thousands of persons thronged the streets, and stood in the rain to witness the parade and the dedication of the McKinley monument.

The Man In Overalls

Dundas Liberal picnic on Tuesday next. Take it in. "The Usurpers" next week.

You can't afford to miss the big Liberal picnic at Dundas. We're all going. The Industrial Committee must have been surprised when it heard that a new industry was coming here. Perhaps the committee thinks it has expired by effluxion of time.

Frank Walker favors the Lakeside Park scheme. But what does Capt. Hemphill say? The electric pump-deputation was busy on the other side pumping the pump expert.

The great thing for the builders of the mountain drive to do is to see that they lay the dust. That's the main thing. The Reformers of the Province may as well mobilize for the fray, which cannot be far off.

Rather than wait, some of the October brides are marrying in September. What's the hurry? You can save time and money and a lot of other things by reading the ads in to-night's Times, always interesting and always profitable.

Because Mayor Stewart did not get a chance to fire off his speech at the Buffalo people was no reason why it should not have been published. Was it, now? You can't say that the new saw works is an old saw.

Mayor Stewart's Buffalo speech was a sort of song without words. Vote for the ward system, no over-drafts, and honest aldermen.

Just because Mayor Stewart forgot to deliver his Buffalo speech you need not imagine that he was too full for utterance. The altered route—the march of the 13th.

Col. Hendrie's new title should be on exhibition in one of the store windows. It may have been an unspoken speech, but there were no unthought thoughts in it.

The strained relations between the Beach Principality and the rest of us may result in diplomatic relations being severed. Because the Spectator did not have the pleasure of publishing the Mayor's Buffalo speech—being scooped—it got mad and declared that the Mayor never delivered it. Next thing it will be denying that he could write it.

Aylesworth and Graham are the double header for the Liberal picnic at Dundas. Can anybody tell us when we are to get our York Loan money?

"Lights out" at 10 o'clock may be Commissioner Van Allen's next Beach order. The Spectator would have been mighty glad to publish the Mayor's speech, but as usual its bright young men were too slow.

It may yet be cheaper to keep a cow than to buy milk. By wireless from Milwaukee: "Beautifully ripened brew of beer just tapped. Electric pumps working finely. Send word to touring deputation immediately; they shouldn't miss this—G. Raftor Faucet."

Tuesday, the 10th—that is next Tuesday—the picnic of the Liberals will be held in Dundas. Don't forget. PERSONAL.

ENVELOPE SYSTEM THEY CONSIDER BAD.

Opens Way to Crookedness, and North Enders Want It Investigated.

Not Yet Done With Henry Case---Bridge and Railway Route Discussed.

A very wide range of subjects was discussed at the regular meeting of the North End Improvement Society last night, and it was almost 11 o'clock when the meeting was brought to a close. Mr. Edward Porter, president, was in the chair, and the other officers were on hand, as were also Ald. Jutten, Ald. Kennedy and Ald. Farrar.

How to dispose of the sludge from the sewage works was discussed, and some suggestions will be made to the Sewers Committee, which, the members think, will, if acted upon, materially help that section.

Of course the John Henry case came up for consideration. The meeting strongly disapproved of the effort being made in municipal circles to prevent the truth coming to light. The members took the stand that a responsible body having made a complaint, it is entitled to full consideration. The meeting also condemned the action of the aldermen in transferring the case from the Fuel Committee to a committee which had nothing to do with it.

Commenting upon the estimate of the value of the coal sheds mentioned by Ald. Allen, $1,500, one of the members made the statement that he would be delighted to get a contract to build just such sheds at $750. He would soon be a rich man at that price.

In connection with the Henry case the whole system of paying by envelopes was discussed. It was pointed out that the system opened the way to crookedness, and, even if there was no intentional dishonesty in cases that have recently come to light, the system should be carefully investigated.

The society again expressed its disapproval of the extra track across Barton street on Ferguson avenue, but regretfully admitted that nothing could be done in the matter.

PRESS CONSIDERS SITUATION IN MOROCCO IS VERY GRAVE.

Moors Brave and Insistent and Gen. Drude Has a Hard Time Keeping Them in Check.

Paris, Sept. 7.—The Petit Parisien declares to-day that another complication has arisen in the shape of grave disquiet among the Senusassen tribesmen near Oudja and the Algerian frontier. Oudja, which is in Morocco, has been occupied by a French force for some months. The military authorities, the paper declares, are most anxious and are preparing to send in troops from Algeria.

The newspapers to-day have adopted an altogether graver tone in discussing the Moroccan situation. The more comprehensive reports of the engagement of Tuesday show it to have been much more serious than was first stated. The correspondent of the Matin at Casa Blanca telegraphs as follows:

The engagement of Tuesday gave some idea as to the obstacles that an expedition into the interior have to encounter, and the number of men needed. The march made by the French troops on Tuesday was the longest one yet, and marks the utmost that General Drude can possibly do with the force, yet this strong force, made up of picked men, whose armament can be described as crushing as compared to that of the Moors, was heavily engaged throughout the entire encounter. It was compelled to give ground in three places at once, and it was turned by Moors who got within a quarter of a mile of the camp. It can now be said that the wild energy of the foreigners is due to ignorance of our forces. On the contrary they returned to the fray with greater courage and increased numbers after each engagement.

Important Statement. Paris, Sept. 16.—A most important change, the Associated Press is informed, has occurred in the political aspect of the Moroccan question. Franco and Spain have the intention to occupy the littoral ports of Morocco with their own forces and establish police organizations. This contemplated action results from the official announcement of the Moroccan Government, through the War Minister, El Gabbas, that it is unable to guarantee the safety of the European instructors of the international police forces, which under the terms of the Algeciras convention are compelled to organize the international police, was submitted to the signatory powers, including the United States, and they all agreed that the situation demanded that France and Spain police Morocco themselves. Franco had planned to occupy Mazagan, Mogador, Sali and Rabat, and Spain to occupy El Arish and Tetuan. France and Spain together will occupy Casa Blanca and Tangier.

SUCKER DOING THE WORK WELL.

MAYOR STEWART IS PREPARED TO GAMBLE ON THAT. City Can Get a Fixed Rate for Power, He Declares, Even Though It Requires an Order-in-Council—Separate School Taxes.

Mayor Stewart declared to-day that he was willing to bet his bank roll that not a speck of objectionable matter could be found in the bottom of the filtering basin, for the one hundred and fifty feet where the sand sucker has been at work. "It is a fine job as far as it has gone, and although it will be rather costly, I think the sand sucker will do the work, if given a chance," he said. The Mayor says that the story that the sucker stopped work yesterday because something was wrong with the machinery was a false alarm. He was down at the basins last night and was informed that it was necessary when a strip was cleared to stop work and move the sucker. A startling story reached the Mayor to-day that the dredge was falling apart, and that several pieces of the machinery were up in Engineer Bain's shop for repairs. The Mayor had no hesitancy in denying this, because he was assured last evening by all those in charge that the sucker had worked without a hitch since last Saturday. One thing the Mayor insisted on was the shutting of the intake and plugging the conduit while the basin is being cleaned. He says it was all right when the sucker was working in one corner of the basin, but that there would be danger of some of the stuff being carried in by the current with the pump at work near the conduit. The stuff taken out of the basins looks like porridge, he says, and has an objectionable smell. He doubts if all the stuff taken out of one of the basins would fill an ordinary sized room and the weeds are not nearly so numerous as some of the critics of the basin have tried to make out.

Mr. M. J. O'Reilly has taken out an appointment for reference in regard to the matter of taxes for the Separate School Board and the City of Hamilton for September 9th, before Judge Squires. This matter was discussed by the Finance Committee which considered that the Separate School Board had received all the taxes it was entitled to. The dispute is over some Separate School supporters who claim to have been wrongfully assessed as public school supporters. The aldermen thought the Court of Revision was the place where it should have been decided. It was agreed, however, to leave the matter to Mr. Waddell to thresh out with the Board's solicitor.

Mayor Stewart says he has the assurance of the powers that be that Hamilton can make a contract with the Hydro Electric Power Commission for power at a fixed price, even though an Order-in-Council might have to be passed to do so. Mayor Stewart does not explain, however, how an Order-in-Council can override a statute of the Provincial Parliament.

The city will likely have to do the work of repairing James street, from Rebecca to King street, so passed, as the traffic is so heavy in the day time.

School Suits Reduced. Three hundred suits, suitable for school boys, ages 10 to 17 years, go on sale to-morrow morning at Oak Hill for $2.85 and $3.85. The prices were $4.00 and $7.50.
