Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacturing Co. Monoclinic-acetate of Salicylic acid (acetyl salicylic acid—A. S. A.). While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Bartibogue Man Got The Best of Two Bears

Vincent Conell, of Bartibogue had a thrilling experience in the woods back of his home on Saturday. Starting out in the morning in quest of game he brought along his 35 rifle and six bullets. He shot a big bull moose and a fox using four of the bullets and after dressing the spoils started on his way home.

A short distance from the place where he had made the killing Conell came across two fresh bear tracks. He followed and came up on the two of them, a big bruin and a female just as they were going into their den. He fired and wounded the big fellow who ran into the den turning and bawling with pain, charged back at Conell but fell dead at the hunter's feet.

The female also showing signs of fight, advanced towards Conell who fired his last bullet into her and grabbed his axe. The last shot was all that was necessary and the female fell dead in her tracks.

Mr. Conell is an experienced guide and a crack shot.

NERVES AND FAINTING SPELLS

Sent Woman to Bed. Great Change After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sarnia, Ontario.—"After my girls were born I was a wreck. My nerves were too tender for words and I simply could not stand or walk without pain. I suffered with fainting spells until I was no longer any good for my household duties and had to take to my bed. The doctor said I should have an operation, but I was not in a fit condition at that time. My neighbor said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I am sure it will do you good and will save those doctor's bills. So I was advised by my husband to try it after I told him about it. I am very thankful to say that I was soon able to take a few boarders for a while as rooms were scarce at that time. My baby is 17 months old now and I have not yet had an operation, thanks to your medicine. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to a few people I know and have told them the good it has done me. I know I feel and look a different woman these last few months and I certainly would not be without a bottle of your medicine in the house. You can use this letter as you see fit, as I should be only too glad for my suffering as I have to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. ROBERT G. MACGREGOR, R. R. No. 2, Sarnia, Ontario.

A recent canvass of women users of the Vegetable Compound report 98 out of 100 received beneficial results. This is a remarkable proof of its merit. C

BOSTON DEMOCRATS LOST MAYORALTY

For the third time in a quarter of a century, Democratic Boston has elected a Republican mayor. Malcolm E. Nichols, who resigned as collector of inland revenue, to enter the mayoralty race, had a 22,100 lead over his nearest Democratic rival, Theodore A. Glynn, city fire commissioner, on return from 338 of the city's 339 precincts.

Mayor-elect Nichols polled 64,233 votes, and Glynn had 41,933. Joseph H. O'Neill, banker, who finished third in the ten-mar race for the mayor's chair, polled 31,500 votes.

Glynn, supported by Mayor Jas. M. Curley, was unsuccessful because of O'Neill's presence in the race. The latter was induced to run by the anti-Curley faction of the Democratic party.

The election, conducted on non-partisan lines, was the climax of the most tangled campaign in the city's history. The large number of candidates was due to the fact that Boston does not hold a primary contest to select its municipal candidates, and the names of all office seekers able to secure 3,000 signatures on nomination papers go on the ballot on election day.

In the neighboring city of Cambridge, Mayor Edward W. Quinn was re-elected mayor for a fifth term of two years, defeating Councilman Ralph W. Robart, by 2,046 votes.

In Lynn, Ralph S. Bauer, former president of the Lynn Chamber of Commerce, was elected mayor by more than 3,000 votes over John V. Phelan, lawyer.

Sumnerfield chose its mayor L.M. Conwell, Republican in one of the closest elections in the history of the city. He defeated John J. Murphy, Democrat by 1,040 votes.

New York, Mrs. Ruth Pratt, prominent society leader and welfare worker, was elected an alderman from the "Silk Stocking" district in upper Manhattan. Running on the Republic ticket, she defeated her Democratic opponent James O'Gorman, Jr., son of United States Senator O'Gorman, 2,831 votes.

Indianapolis.—The Republican party elected its city ticket in Indianapolis, headed by John L. Duval, for Mayor, and wrested Evansville, Lafayette, and other important cities from Democratic control in yesterday's municipal elections. The Republicans lost the South Bend mayoralty which they had held.

Panama Bathing Beauties

Twenty of these twenty-two children are girls whose ages range from seven to fourteen years, and they are not mere bathing beauties. From their infancy they have played in and around the water at Panama, and they now give regular exhibitions of their aquatic skill. The girl on the left of the rear row is a back-stroke and crawl champion of the Panama Canal Zone and she is to take part in the Olympic Competitions. The photograph was taken after an exhibition before the passengers of the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of Canada, now on World Cruise.

Breaking New Ground in the Rockies

The fastnesses of the Rockies abound in virgin territory never touched by the foot of man and one of the latest of these to be traversed is the Mistletoe Glacier where a new ice cave has been discovered this year of which the photo above gives a good idea. It was found by Chris Haemmer, one of the Swiss guides stationed at Glacier B. C., and the ascent to it was made in September by 17-year-old Paul McIntyre, an annual visitor with his family to Glacier, the guide and W. J. Oliver of Calgary. Mr. Oliver describes the adventure as follows:— "It was a glorious day, Mount Sir Donald was crowned with a circular cloud like a halo; the vegetation was at its peak and with the early morning dew the valley was filled with a delightful fragrance. After walking through massive timber we gradually emerged into jackpine, brush, and on to the tongue of the Glacier. Here were the headwaters of the Mistletoe River winding its way down the steep valley from this huge Glacier. Our progress from this point was somewhat slower, our good trail had been left far behind; the first 1,500 feet was over rock and moraine, crossing freshets and miniature waterfalls from the ice above. As soon as we reached the ice we adjusted the crampons to our feet, these crampons are made of iron and are similar to a small bobblehead each having 12 spikes distributed evenly over the surface and about 1 1/4 inches long. "Travelling along these huge crevasses is very thrilling, at times there was only a walking surface of 2 feet and on either side of this narrow ledge of ice were drops from 1,200 feet. Chris Haemmer the Swiss Guide led the way and roped to him was Paul McIntyre and self. Our course over the ice field was continually brought to a halt on account of a huge gulch in the ice being too wide to cross, we would then have to travel either up or down until our guide could locate a place narrow enough to cross. Finally we located the ice cave after travelling along the base of one of these huge crevasses, it proved to be 10 feet high and 20 feet long, the sides were worn like the sands after an ebbing tide and with the strong sunlight that was coming in at its entrance these pieces of jutting ice scintillated like huge diamonds. Right in the centre across the valley, framed by this wonderful oval cave stood the Swiss Peaks and Mt. Hermit. "Leaving here we travelled on to the ice seracs near the top of the Glacier and it made the unaccustomed stand in awe to see the Swiss Guide and Paul McIntyre run around these ice columns and up and down the sides of their steep ice banks like children at play."
