

Cape Breton Anglers.

WHIP NEWFOUNDLAND STREAMS.

Dr. Sullivan, of New Aberdeen, Nova Scotia, and Dr. Tompkins, of Dominion No. 1, who were spending the past several days whipping the famous salmon pools in the ancient colony, as well as fishing, on friends in St. John's and other places were passengers returning on the steamer Kyle this morning, according to the North Sydney Herald of July 28. The principal rendezvous of the party while in search of the "finny denizens," was at the famous "Tomkins stream (Afton). Going to the continued drought, salmon were hard to get, that is of the "sporty" kind. However, Dr. Tompkins showed his ability as an angler, and landed three beauties, averaging 18 pounds each, as well as bagging about one hundred beautiful trout. The outing was somewhat marred by Dr. Hood, who made his first visit to the ancient colony, taking ill, necessitating a curtailment of the party's stay in Terra Nova. Dr. Hood will enter St. Joseph's Hospital, Gloucester, where he will undergo special treatment.

War Memorial.

A unique feature of the visit of the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland and Labrador to this side of the island was the dedication of three monuments to soldiers of the coast who had made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War. These monuments stand in enclosed places selected for the purpose and protected with substantial paling fences. The first to be dedicated was at Norris Point, in memory of Private John Mackay, who served in the 1st Newfoundland Regiment. The second was at Parsons Pond in memory of Naamen Joseph Payne, who was killed in action in Flanders. The third was at Port Saunders in memory of Reuben Oliver Perry, who died of wounds, and Ambrose Ellis, who was killed in action. The Rev. George Malmgren, of Bonaville, who served as chaplain in each case, requested the Bishop to dedicate the memorials. The presence of one who was actually present and saw one at least of these gallant and heroic part. At Parsons Pond the Bishop himself paid a tribute to the brave lads whose memory is perpetuated there. Unfortunate downpour of rain made all but the actual blessing of the stone impossible out of doors. But at Norris Point and in perfect weather, and at Port Saunders a number of people came from Woody Point and Lomond to take in the dedication. Western Star.

With the Rod.

The Lower Humber is said to be in good condition for fishing. James Reid caught a 20-lb. salmon and two grilse at the Falls Pool, Hughes Brook, last week, using trout bait. C. and N. Fisher returned home from Serpentine River last Thursday having caught half barrel of salmon and a half barrel of sea trout. Mr. Howe, of Brooklyn, N.Y., who was fishing on South River, has returned home. He had some very good fishing and landed a 35-pounder. Dr. Wetmore, of Indiana, F. H. Mahood, of Ala., and G. Stewart, of Ohio, who spent a few days on Upper Humber, came down on Friday, having caught four fish. They report the water very low but rising. They also report having seen many salmon dead in the river, killed in their endeavor to go over the falls, owing to the lowness of the water—Western Star.

Bowdoin in Collision.

Prof. MacMillan and party did not get away on schedule time from North Sydney on their dash to the West-Bathin Land, says the North Sydney Herald of July 26. The party intended sailing early this morning but a little mishap yesterday afternoon interrupted with the plans of the exploring party, and the sturdy little schooner Bowdoin is still at tonight's wharf, pending some reply to a telegram sent by Dr. MacMillan regarding the insurance on the craft. Yesterday afternoon while the steamer Stella Maria was attempting to dock at Farquhar's wharf, she crashed into the schooner. While no serious results followed, the little exploring ship received quite a jar, which made it necessary to report the matter to the insurance underwriters.

"Sincerity in word and deed, that is what makes friends, wins customers, grows business, insures success. We make no claim we cannot substantiate, we declare no values we cannot show."

Our claim is that Phorstone Cough and Cold Cure is the best preparation for all kinds of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and various lung troubles, and to substantiate our claim we can produce the proof by the sales we are making. If Phorstone's Phorstone was not what we claim it to be why should people be continually asking for a bottle and wholesalers purchasing it in gross quantities. Phorstone is only one of the many preparations we manufacture and have succeeded in obtaining a very large sale for owing to its medicinal qualities.

An Annual Visit.

Among the passengers that arrived by the S.S. Roseland was Adjutant H. A. Hurd, financial representative of the Maritime Provinces for the Salvation Army. The Adjutant is a native of Newfoundland. He first left here in May 1897. The longest stay he has been away at one time is three years, but for the last ten years he has made annual visits here to his old home. The Adjutant has been five years in his present position. He has visited almost every city and town in the Maritime Provinces, having made over one hundred and fifty trips on the railroad last year. Adjutant Hurd will remain till the Roseland returns from New York. He will visit as usual, British Bay Roberts, Harbor Grace and Carleton Place before returning to Moncton, N.B., where the Adjutant with his wife and family have resided for the last five years. Adjutant Hurd will conduct a special service at No. 2 Citadel, Adelaide Street, on Sunday afternoon.

THE BOW-WOWS.

We old boys look around us, upon the younger set; the things we see confound us, and put us in a sweat. The young are vain and giddy, blowing in their mon, and Benjamin and Biddy have naught in view but fun. There's no high aspiration, the younger bunch among; and we, in indignation, forget the young are young. When I was one and twenty, and Jane was seventeen, we wanted fun & pleasure, and then some more. I went, and we went pleasure riding, behind my old bay mare; romance was then abiding around us everywhere. But now I'm old and dotty, and when the young whiz by, I think their conduct naughty, and heave a heavy sigh. "To what is this world coming," I cry aloud; "gad-sooks, when kids in cars go humming, instead of reading books? Oh, whither are we drifting?" I murmur, with a tear, when I see youngsters lifting their signs of childishness. I am all unstrung, and I am still forgetting that young folk must be young. This world would swim in glory, and all things would be gay, if little boys were hoary, and little girls were gray. But youth must have its inning, its laughter must prevail, and age must have its spinning of legends sad and stale.
