In South Victoria, there instance that any specific act has been corrupt. The opposition press has confined itself to a sweeping general assertion that the administration has been corrupt. It is fair to say, however, that no member of the opposition ever rose in his place in the house and made such an assertion, even in the vaguest and most general terms. Now, it seems self-evident that if the administration is corrupt the corruption would be found in the department of lands and works, where the only opportunities exist for anything of the sort being practised, but it is a noteworthy thing, and something that ought to be remembered by the people of British Columbia, that in no single instance has the most reckless or reckless or reckless critic of the government been able to find a solitary instance out of the able to find a solitary instance out of the many thousands dealt with by this department while under the supervision of the Hon. G. B. Martin, concerning the honesty and good faith of which the faintest shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play from the shadow of suspicion has been British Columbia for fair play aroused. It may be said that to make such a claim as this is only to take credit for common honesty. But in view of the scandals brought to the surface in the other provinces and in the Dominion, it is a remarkable thing that, cager as the opposition has been for grounds of attack in this province, they have been able to discover nothing vulnerable in regard to this department. In speaking of the scandals in the other provinces and the Dominion above all considerations in connection with politics meets with very hearty approval. The sentiment is grow-have been additionally the province and the

The opposition to him has been extremely bitter and of a grossly personal kind.

The way is a grossly personal kind. There is no occasion for me to tell any one who has ever had a long illness how to a realization of the injustice that is being done us as a province, and this to a realization of the injustice that is being done us as a province, and this being done us as a province, and this to a case of coming up on Tuesday and going back on Wednesday, as at present, and if instead of making a trip both up and down on Saturday, he made it on past month or six weeks in regard to a statement made by him on the floors of the house highly creditable to his principles as a British Columbian, which disadvantage.
