RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE HALIFAX. Officer of the Manager, Halifax Hotel, Halifax, N. S. Jan. 20th, 1918.

A. A. Andrew, Esq., Mayor, Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Mr. Mayor:—

Thank you very much for your prompt attention to our many requests, which is appreciated by the Committee and myself.

Had it not been for the kind co-operation of the different Mayors in the Maritime Provinces, I do not know where we would have been in this.

The writer personally is very grateful for your kind assistance and attention to his requests.

Yours very truly,
R. S. LOW,
Colonel,

Manager Reconstruction Committee.

Despatch reports that "Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Romanoff have escaped from their Siberian prison." Hope to hear of Mr. and Mrs. William Hohenzollern next.

NO LARGE BUNDLES OF PAPERS FOR ENGLAND.

The Postmaster has received the following letter re the mailing of large bundles of papers to the United Kingdom:

P. O. Inspector's Office, St. John, N.B.

To Postmasters: Dec. 28th, 1917.

In a proclamation issued by the British Government the importation into the United Kingdom of

"Daily, Weekly and other periodical publications imported otherwise than in single copies through the post" has been prohibited.

This British restriction on periodical publications must be rigidly and uniformly enforced, and no publications which do not comply therewith will be forwarded to the United Kingdom.

You will therefore govern yourself accordingly.

H. W. WOODS,
P. O. Inspector.

To be sure the department stores tell you if their goods are not satisfactory you can return them. Sure! But you have to pay express or freight and you decide to keep them. If your home merchant's goods are not satisfactory you can take them back and it costs you nothing.

YOUR CLOTHES

Should be the best that money can buy.

Clothes do not make the man, but they make you presentable, and he is often judged by appearances.

You need never be ashamed of your clothes if we make them.

Call and see our line of Blue and Black Serges, absolutely guaranteed.

BERNIER THE TAILOR

SLIGHT WRECK. The C. G. R. wrecker went to Beresford today where there was a slight wreck.

LOST BUFFALO. Lost a Buffalo between Chas. Adam's and McDonald's Drug Store. Will finder please leave at McDONALD'S DRUG STORE. Jan. 24-1-pd.

PRESENTATION. Recently friends in town presented Inspector T. Mann with a handsome Persian Lamb cap and collar as a slight token of appreciation of the way he has enforced the Prohibition law. Inspector Mann was taken greatly by surprise but thanked the donors for their kindness.

POLICE COURT. Police Court matters have been very quiet during the past month, nearly all the cases dealt with being the Military offenders. One arrest was made this week of a meat peddler for doing business without a license. He paid for a license and was allowed his liberty. During the month of December and January not one drunk has been arrested. There has been no recent violations of the Prohibition law and the inspector says very little liquor refreshments are being imported. A few packages have been seized at the express offices because the necessary particulars were not on the addresses.

IMPORTANT FOREST CONVENTION IN MONTREAL. ON THE 8th OF FEBRUARY

On the 8th February next at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal a very important Forestry Convention will be held under the auspices of the Quebec Protective Association representing the four mutual Forest Protective Associations which are now organized in the Province of Quebec and which look after the Fire Protection of over forty-eight million acres of timberlands. Important Forestry Protective Problems which will be discussed at the Convention will be presented by experts and practical Foresters from all parts of the Dominion and the United States, and there is no doubt that these problems will greatly interest those who will attend that Convention.

The Forest Protection problem has taken a very large place in the Province of Quebec and the Association's actually in operation have given good results. An invitation was extended to all those who are interested in Forestry problems and forestry products, to be present on that occasion.

BACK-YARD FLOCK. The greater hope for increased production at the present time lies in the back-yard flocks. There is no reason why every city, town and village should not be well supplied in great part at any rate, self-supporting from an egg stand point. There are hundreds and thousands of dollars worth of good feed thrown in the garbage pails every day. The waste going on even yet in our cities is simply appalling. The kitchen waste from the ordinary family of five or six people may be fed to best advantage to a flock of about twenty-five birds. This is more than many will want to keep, but a flock of this size will only require a house about twelve feet square even a little less will do, no yard room is necessary and the eggs produced should keep the house supplied and still leave enough to sell to less thrifty neighbours, to pay for all the supplementary feeds which it is necessary to purchase.

What is more tempting to the appetite than an absolutely new laid egg from a flock that has been cleaned up? Once used to home produced tent to depend on store eggs. If you don't believe this, try it.

Under present conditions, increased production should not be brought about by increasing the number of poultry farms, but rather by increasing the size and number of farm flocks, calling closely and keeping nothing but good producers and last of primary importance, by the increase in number of back-yard poultry plants where flocks may be kept largely on feed that would otherwise be wasted.

POULTRY PRODUCTION. At this time when economical production is of first consideration, the question of whether production should be increased by encouraging the number of poultry farms or by increasing the flocks kept on farms and in backyards in the towns and cities, becomes of special interest.

Poultry Specialist. That the poultry specialist usually gets better results than the farmer, goes without saying. He gets better results because he has to; if he did not he would soon be out of business. He has nothing but his poultry to depend on; he must show a profit. It costs him so much more to feed poultry than it does the farmer that his only salvation is in increased production. He must get it or fall by the wayside, one of the failures in the poultry business.

With the present high and the ever ascending prices of feed, it is becoming more difficult for the specialist to show a satisfactory profit so that we must turn for increased production to sources where the feed problem is not so acute. This brings us to the mixed farm where a flock is kept as a side line and to the town-dweller.

Farm Flocks. Every farm in the country should carry a flock large enough to make the best use of the unsaleable grains, vegetables and waste milk. There are few farms that could not to great advantage carry a flock of at least one hundred hens. But the flock must be put on a business basis. One member of the family preferably one of the younger members should be given full charge. Careful records should be kept and all waters promptly disposed of. In this way the production may be greatly increased without any corresponding increase in cost.

Most of the work will be done by one of the younger members of the family. It will interfere very little with the general farm work. It will generally be necessary to purchase some feeds to supplement those available on the farm, but by so doing much of the lower grade products may be sold to produce a greater profit than if sold or fed to any other live stock.

NOT ON THAT LINE. This week's story from the front. After two years in the mud and trenches of Flanders, Pte. Thomas Atkins got his leave at last, and made what he conceived to be the best use of his holiday by getting married. On the journey back, at Southampton, he showed to the inspector his marriage certificate in mistake for his return railway pass. The official, who chanced to be a Scot, studied it carefully, and then said: "Eh, mon, you've got a ticket for a long, wearisome journey, but no on the South Western Railway."

A MORNING TRAGEDY... "What's the matter, old man?" he said, as they met the next morning. "You look blue." "I feel blue." "But last night you were the jolliest member of our party." "I felt jolly." "You said that your wife had gone away for the first time in three years, and there wasn't anyone to say a word if you went home and kicked over the hall clock." "I remember it." "You said that if you stayed out until 4 o'clock there was no one to look at you reproachfully and sigh and make you feel mean." "Yes, and I stayed out until then, didn't I?" "You certainly did." "And I gave a warwhoop on the front doorstep!" "Yes, and you sang a verse from a comic opera song and tried to dance a jig." "Yes, and my wife missed that train. Now, please go away and let me alone!"
