WINE AND BEER AT THE ISLAND

putation of Clergymen and Othe terview the Commissioners in Oppo-sition to the Proposed License. Clergymen, ladies and citizens of pro-ounced anti-liquor convictions filled ond Hall to overflowing yesterday afternoon. They had met to take con bined and aggressive action in opposing the proposal to establish a wine and heer license on the Island. Dr. Fisher was elected chairman, and an hour was spent in the formulation of resolutions.

A lengthy document was drafted in which it was urged that the granting of the license would make the Bland less comfortable, attractive and safe for ladies; that it would be unfair to grant the desire of persons to make money, thereby depriving the people of the rights and privileges they enjoy at this resort; that the application does not comply with the requirements, and would therefore he illegal; that the citizens have spent a great deal of money in heautifying the Island, and it would be an outrage to convert it into a heer garden.

Descended on the Commissioners. pined and aggressive action in opposing

On motion of Drs, Potts and Dewart, F. S. Spence, Rev. Dr. Galbraith, Rev. O. C. S. Wallace and Rev. Dr. Potts were elected to convey these resolutions or the commissioners.

In reply to a question, Mr. W. H. ockhart Gordon said the Island Assoiation was divided on the question and, miortunately, the majority was on the ther side.

At the office of the Commissioners,

At the office of the Commissioners, F. S. Spence read the resolution.
Rev. O. C. S. Wallace spoke from a moral standpoint. The women and children who went to the Island to spend an afternoon should be protected from the rowdyism outflowing from the legalized sale of liquor. Young men, too, should be spared from an increase in temptation, at a time when, on pleasure bent, they are more susceptible to evil influences. Danger, too, would arise while returning from the Island in the evening, when, should a few people lose their heads, which would be almost inevitable, in case drunken men were on board, a great catastrophe might follow.

Rev. Dr. Galbraith read a letter from Mr. W. H. Pearson of the Consumers' Gas Co., in which that gentleman denied attaching his signature to the petition that the signature was that of Mr. W. H.

ection with this liquor business there have been a great many, crooked things," said Dr. Galbraith, "and I think this has the appearance of being one of them."

After Dr. Potts had spoken shortly,

After Dr. Potts had spoken shortly, reminding the commissioners that they were representatives of a prohibition Government, Rev. G. K. Adams read a resolution passed by the Methodist Ministerial Association praying that the license be not granted.

Rev. Dr. Dewart thought that unless the Commissioners could grant the license upon moral and patriotic grounds they should refuse to entertain the application.
