AT COST,

ODS BE REET.

not finding it con is business, I'm naining STOCK. iry other articles Public Accrion en at private sale, is to avoid auction, ties if possible, will be given in Sale, OTE of HAND or Volume 7.

ind it to their in DATE the same HAS. KEIVE.

19th, 1840. 25, 1840.

)ODS.

From London.

Merinos. Norwich bazmes, black Silk tecked, and figured ta Coth, Charly & sses, Fancy Mouented Lama Squares, ia with Ve'vet Borolen Pland Shawls; Nets; white Blond Quilling, liste lace d Gimp Edgings; lire, ground Gimp, , Purse Twist, Laored Lace Gloves, Kid & Silk Gloves, d black Kid Cloves, d Stik, sewing Silk, silk, Cham, & Cont Braid, Cotton night and Lambs Wool Ladies White, ne Hose, G nilemens ise. Regatta Shirts, Frewitz, Phieri hing s; colored embro d. I worsted, white and ronges; Whaleb ne, aces, Carret Lace, Ribbon, Charty Bed ad st el Top Thimtkram, Ladies white s. Artificial Flowers, oth Caps, Ladies & Bonnets, Umbrellas, two trunks Lulus

Brig From London, nt John, assortment of Latin. L' Sarsnet, & Ginz: Plain figured and Persians, in vari celona, Brussels, Banon Corah Silk Hanc-Seige, Hai, Dress, & le embossed and bloud Handkerchlefs; bloud mbossed Scarfs; checked Heenain Squares, Razors, Knives and and Pen-knives; Sail hand, c-oss-cut, and ove fue lighters with coth; hair, cloth, and and red lead Pencils, and Violincelli strings.

From Belfast,

Black and solored Linen bread, SUPPLY,

the British American. ald, from Liverpool, and & S. M. GILMOR.

EPARTURE OF

ve from at 12 a. m. aint George, by Coach

ordays at 7 p. m. am-Mondays, Wednesloach-Tuesdays, Thursarts for aint George, by Coach—days, & Fridays at 7 a.m Tuesdays, Thursdays, Coach-Mondays, Wed

ays at 10 a. m. VISIONS.

er Jane Kelly, from Bostons e's Wheat Floor, o Rye.

will be sold on reasonable BABCOCK & SON.

he Standard,

FRONTIER GAZETTE.

Number 41.

SAINT ANDREWS, NEW BRUNSWICK, FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 16, 4840.

tely entered a confectioner's shop in Galveston, Texas. The weather being uncommon-ly sultry, probably suggested the idea of an ice cream. Having helped himself to a dozen loranges, several jumbles, and other nicknacks, and showing no disposition to pay the damages, the young lady who stood behind the counter called for assistance. His usual capacity of jaw, however, enabled him to dispose of the stolen articles securely before assistance arrived. The scally fellow was captured soon after, and was treated rather more harshly than many fellows are who decline harshly than many fellows are who decline harshly than many fellows are who described him to his entering the shop he had seized and devertible and the state of the stolen articles securely before assistance arrived. The scally fellow was captured soon after, and was treated rather more harshly than many fellows are who decline harshly than many fellows are who decline harshly than many fellows are who decline have the stolen articles securely before assistance. His usual captured soon after, and was treated rather more harshly than many fellows are who decline harshly than many fellows are who decline harshly than many fellows are who decline have the store the stolen articles securely before assistance. The scally fellow was captured soon after, and was treated rather more than the little children. Hope were the stolen articles securely before assistance arrived. The scally fellow was captured soon after, and was treated rather more than the little children. Hope were the stolen articles are the scalled at £2,945,900,000. The value of all sorts of public prechables than merely to keep up the race — to enlarge our shades and filled in the ration of store of furnitare, apparely plate, specie, money in chancer, mank at feel at £2,945,900,000. The value of all sorts of furnitare, apparely plate, specie, money in chancer, savings and loving tender the saving for what the base give to the store that a £2,945,900,000. The value of all sorts of furnitare, apparel harshly than many fellows are who decline paying for what they obtain. Previously to his entering the shop be had seized and decoured a fat pig in the street. His visit to the confectioner's was perhaps in search of a description of the most no come for table, and he got desert sure enough!

A physician at Bath advertises for a wife, and says he adopts these means "to avoid the tedium of courtship!"

Dr. Lingard recently presented to the R. Rev. Dr. Brown, Catholic Bishop of Lancanshire, the identical ring which was worn by never came to take it away, that he was one of the most no come for table person he ever knew in his life!

For the Saint Andrews Standard. THE MAID OF THE ROCK.

On rocks that jut into the sea,
A dwelling invitingly stands,
To mariners pleasing to see,
Returning from tropical lands.
There lashed by the winds and the tides,
Secure on a natural block,
Content with her father resides The beautiful Maid of the Rock

Of modes and of fashions bereft, Yet neat in the clothing she wears, Her parent, the sole that is left, She comforts, condoles, and reveres. Wild flowers, her dwelling adorn, In summer a plentiful stock,
To gather them fresh in the morn,
Amuses the Maid of the Rock.

With duty, and prudence combin'd, Her wishes all centre at home; By reason her hopes are confin'd By the neighboring woodlands, her roa With manners retiring and mild, She'll rise with the villagers clock, Confessedly nature's own child Is this lovely Maid of the Rock.

From rectitude's path never swerves, But duties, with pleasures connect, Her service to God she observes,
Whose mercy produced the effect.
She will with the destitute share,
And hasten should refugees knock,
Their shelter and food are her care,

So kind is the Maid of the rock

She's gentle and fond as the dove, look will alone create love, And every creature's her friend. May none ever taint her pure mind, Or give to her virtue a shock, While she in her station's resigned,

-When we witness the

we compare our own lives with the unbounded

How happy's the Maid of the Rock. October, 1840. Ladies to the Rescue!-The Pensacola Gawhich threaten the springing zette of September 12th, relates a most amuour thoughts, the danger of drought or of story of the delivery of a low from the jail in that is with good reason, that, in our daily prayers, we ask our "daily bread," of God,

A Cultivated Acre.-Mr. Drew, editor of The Right End of the Yarn - A poor

of onions, and other vegetables, and plenty of fruit, &c. as before hinted. Such is the production of a small farm well tilled.

A Fine State of Society.—An alligator lately entered a confectioner's shop in Galvestely entered a confectioner's shop in Galveston Texas. The weather being uncommonstant of the production of the many of the never disturbed nights and days, of the tranquil, unanxious hearts where children are not! I care not for these thangs.

God sends children for another purpose than ships, canals, railroads, mines, horses, tumber, and the first of the standard of the many of the meant of the trim tember 19.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all property in G. 18.

Capital of Great Britain.—The grand total capital represented by all capital represented by al

A Bite. An elderly agricultural gentleman appealed at Greenock against the amount of his assessed taxes. I am charged, said he to Bench. 'Eight shillings for a watch dog, I have only a cocker—a little thing.' 'Indeed' says the advocate for the crown, then, in place of eight you must now pay fourteen shillings.

What for it's but a little annual? 'Aye, was the reply, but it is a game dog—a cocker—and from the fourteen shillings I am 'sorry I can't make the slightest abatement. The discomfitted agriculturalist paid his taxes.

Living to Lose .- Who is there that lives past twenty, that does not live to lose? First goes by youth, down into that deep sea, which gives us back none of the treasures that it gives us back none of the treasures that it swallows mp. Youth goes down, and innocence with it, and peace is then drowned too. Some sweet and happy feelings that belonged to youth, like the strong swimmer from a shipwrecked bark, struggled awhile upon the surface, but are engulfed at last. Strength, vigor, powers of enjoyment, disappear one by one. Hope, bnoyant frope, snatching at straws to keep herself afloat, sinks also in the end. Then life itself goes down, and the broad sea of events, which has just swallowed up another argosy, flows on as if no such thing had been; and myriads cross and recross on the same voyage the spot were others perished the same voyage the spot were others perished scarce a day before.

The Thought of Another World.-It is not in the hey-day of health and enjoyment-it is not in the morning sunshine of his vernal day, that man can be expected feeingly to remember his latter end, and to fix his heart upon eternity. But, in after life, many causes operate to wean us from the world; grief softens the heart; sickness searches it; the soms of hope are shed; death cut down lower of the affections; the disappointed man turns his thoughts towards a state of existence where his wiser desires may be fixedwith the certainty of faith; the successful man feels that the objects which he has ardently pursued fail to satisfy the cravings of an imortal spirit; the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness, that he may save his

The Caledonia, Steam-ship .- This fine vesour thoughts, the danger of drought or of moisture, of parching heat, or of untimely cold; the blights which may taint the ear:

the worm which may consume the root; and all the other alarms which the husbandman feels to fear; we cannot but be aware that something more than the industry of man is required to make him happy or properous, and that is with good reason, that in our daily prayers, we ask our "daily bread," of God, sel, the third line of the royal mail steamers prayers, we ask our "daily bread," of God, since no day in the year can be found in which His blessing is not needed, either to preserve the seed, or to prosper the tender stalk, or to fill the ear, or to rebuke the mildew or the storm, by which the maturer crop is endangered, And even when the food of many lays is waving before our eyes, we cannot chose but feel an anxious joy, solemn, and in some degree, a mournful thankfulness, when we compare our own lives with the unbounded we compare our own lives with the unbounded to the custody of the Marshal, the Atlantic hitherto unequalled speed. As these vessels, though turned out by different being over these vessels, though turned out by different being over the seed, or to prosper the tender stalk, or to fill the ear, or to rebuke the mildew or the storm, by which the maturer crop is endangered, and succeeded in taking the, prisoner by force out of the Marshal's custody and setting him free. The Marshal was absent on some time ago gave of the Britannia, supersection of the stoutest threw down the guard and held him, others unlocked the door and shoved the prisoner out, much, it is said, against his own ference being merely in their carving and dewe compare our own lives with the unbounded mercy of God; when we rollect how little and how seldom we have thought of him who sarcth for us continually; and when we we remble; lest mercy, and that the improper use or left the town. This act is excused on the caving both on her bow and stern exhibits remble; lest mercy, and that the improper use which we too often make of plenty should remark of plenty should remark of plenty should remark of the Acadia, which was expected by the Acadia and desire that the boy should return to remark turn our abundance into hunger.

This act is excused on the caving both on her bow and stern exhibits good taste and execution. As the Caledonia had any desire that the boy should return to France, and were performing an unwilling duty in arresting him. the pierheaders, including the news caterers, who were look-ing for the Acadia. Mistaking Maine Cultivator, "improves" a single aged-woman of Liverpool, who had long earnof ground with such good husbandry, ed her livihood by knitting, one day coming to meet her. Two get alongside, and the roots raises sufficient for his family, of to the end of her worstead ball or cluir, found sharp fellows in their did not discover the one of or other produce to buy it with offer actions, the where-with to fatten the east so bake with it eful articles, it is although to enomerate; and nakes his own but have been so the east of the put on to it of actions and delay the put on to it of actions and delay the put on to it of shels of sound corn, sixty of several sixty of the several sound dears that are always running after soldiers, too. It's the nature of the critters about an hour before the starting of the Cale other produce to buy it with it to be wound on a piece of old newspaper, which shell of newspaper, which shell of newspaper, which she had the curiosity to read, when to her astonishment and delight, she discovered at the curiosity to read, when to her astonishment and delight, she discovered at the main, until they were asked from the steamer whether the Acadia however the flag at the main, until they were asked from the steamer whether the Acadia however did not exceed the period of her anticipated as last as complete to the mean, until they were asked from the steamer whether the Acadia however did not exceed the period of her anticipated as last as complete to be winted did not discover the initiate display's a fine out on the flag at the main, until they were asked from the steamer whether the Acadia however did not exceed the period of her anticipated as last as complete on some provided as last as complete to the flag at the main, until they were asked from the steamer whether the Acadia however did not exceed the period of her anticipated as last as complete on some provided as last as complete to her actions, which she had the curiosity to read, when the results and because the main of the results and been telegraphed! The Acadia however did not exceed the period of her anticipated arrival, for she reached the main of the results and been the main of the results and been the main of the results and the main of the William Garnett, Esquire, to be appointed an appraiser of dutiable Goods at St. And-

IN COUNCIL, October 2, 1840. The answers to the petitions of the under-

John M'Cann, referred to the Justices of the next General Sessions of the County of Charlotte to report whether it will be advisa-ble to lease the lot and also to report as to its William Porter, allowed, on payment of £91 17s, 6d A. G. Foster, (respecting Bond,) not com-

A. G. Foster, (respecting 600 tens timber.) deferred for further consideration. John Porter and G. M. Porter, Ordered,

That the sum of £161 17s. 6d. be received and placed to Petitioners general credit; and the payment of the Bond be extended to the 1st of January, 1841. K. G. Robinson, not complied with.

Joseph N. Clarke, complied with, on payment of all arrears. The Petitions of the undermentioned persons for licence to cut Timber and Logs on Crown Lands, are complied with on payment of the duty before the 7th day of December

Wm. Albee, River St. Croix,
John Wilson, Lake George,
G. M. Porter, Palphrey Tract,
G. McKay, Jr. Canoose,
G. Porter, (No. 1111) Eel River,
A. Williamson, Magagnadavic,
The Petitions of the undermentioned perons for licence to cut Timber and Logs are not complied with Wm. Todd, Jr. Palphrey,

N. Lindsay, Palphrey,
J. Hitchings, Digdeguash Brook,
Wm. Grant, Palphrey,
George Porter, (Marks Block,) Eel River, C. Robertson, Palphrey Tract, James Taylor, Palphrey, J. H. M'Allister, Shugomock,

Woman's Influence .- Like the olive tree said to fertilize the surrounding soil-there are some few ministering angels in female guise among us all and about our path, who sweetly serve to cheer and adorn life. Our amusements are insipid paless they contribute to them; our efforts of noblest ambition feeble, unless they applaud—its rewards value-less, unless they applaud—its rewards value-less, unless they share them. There are too, some rude spirits in the world whose bolder nature female influence admirably serves to refine, and perhaps it is not an extreme culo-gium of the poet—that, without that influence, many a man had been "a brute indeed." The concurrences of both sexes is as necessary to the perfection of our being, as to the existence of it. Man may make a fine melody, but wo-man is also required to make up harmony.

Take care how you agree to pay money for your stock, your provisions, your rent, or your fuel, and take dog skins for your work. One hand must wash the other, as poor Richard says, or both will go to jail dirty. Every man's trade ought to bring him money enough

Business .- If we are to judge from appearences, the fall business has commenced with the usual briskness. A large amount of produce has been received -our whaves and storehouses are in requisition, and the staple articles of flour and tobacco meet with a steady A great mimber of new dwellings are going up and tenanted as fast as completed. Feli's Point at this time display's a fine