

THE BOOK PAGE

"That is a good book which is opened with expectation and closed with profit."

From the Fleming H. Revell Co., New York, Chicago and Toronto:

THE HOLY LAND IN GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY. By Townsend McCoun, A.M. Two vols., illustrated by 154 maps; $2. Vol. I. treats of the Geography, and Vol. II. of the History, of the Holy Land, in each case with peculiar conciseness and precision and in the light of the latest scholarship and research. The localities of chief interest are given in separate maps and in detail, and each section of the Bible story, from the Creation onward, has its own appropriate map face to face with it. For the minister and teacher the books are of unusual value. We have seen nothing handier or more instructive, whether for the study or the class. A fresh map for almost every lesson is an aid not to be despised in holding the attention of the scholars. The whole make up of these volumes will satisfy the most fastidious.

Four books on John's Gospel, which any Sabbath-school teacher can understand, and by possession of any one or more of which every Sabbath-school teacher would profit:

THE CAMBRIDGE BIBLE FOR SCHOOLS: St. John, $1.10. REITH ON ST. JOHN: T. & T. Clark's Hand Books, 2 volumes, 70 cents per Vol. GOSPEL OF ST. JOHN: Bible Class Expositions, MacLaren, of Manchester, $1.25. MEYER'S LIFE AND LIGHT OF MEN: An exposition of John I.-XII., 90c.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL METHODS. By Amos R. Wells; $1.25. A book of practical methods. Its three hundred pages do not contain a dull line, and they do contain much wisdom.

PRACTICAL PRIMARY PLANS. Israel P. Black. $1.00 A standard work by a leader amongst Primary teachers.

Here is a batch of dainty pocket volumes for young people: THE DREAM OF YOUTH (30 cents). Rev. Hugh Black, the gifted colleague of the great Scottish preacher, Dr. Alexander Whyte. FAITH BUILDING (25 cents). By W. P. Merrill; dedicated "to the earnest, honest young people of our day, who are doubtful in the midst of their faith, and faithful in the midst of their doubt." A strong, terse book. HOW THE LIGHT FAILED, AND HOW THE INNER LIGHT GROWS (25 cents). By Newell Dwight Hillis. "A study of the atrophy of the spiritual sense and its restoration." These two latter books are of the "Quiet Hour" series. WAYS TO WIN. By Professor Dyson Hague, Wycliffe College, Toronto (50 cents). Written primarily for the Brotherhood of St. Andrew; an excellent guide for personal work for Christ.

KOREAN SKETCHES: Illustrated. ($1.00.) A master-piece. Its author, the Rev. Jas. Gale, is, like Professor Dyson Hague, one of our own young men. He has lived and worked nine years amongst that quaintest and oldest of living races, and has observed with a keen eye, and here writes what he has seen with a sharp-pointed pen. The book does for the Koreans what Smith's "Chinese Characteristics" does for the Chinese. All classes, from the coolie to the king, are evidently set forth as they are. There is no varnish; not a little sharpness, but always the sincere sympathy of one who scans closely that he may be prepared the more wisely to help.

FRIENDSHIP. By Rev. Hugh Black, with introductory note by Dr. Robertson Nicoll, and marginal and other decorations by F. Berkeley Smith ($1.25). "The most popular preacher in Scotland," so Dr. Nicoll, who is a good authority, says of Mr. Black, "has published a wise and charming little book on 'Friendship.' A more delightful Christmas gift it would be hard to find.

The Westminster Co., Toronto:

BLACK ROCK, A TALE OF THE SELKIRKS. By Ralph Connor; pp. 340; $1.00. A life-like picture of the wild, tumultuous life of our western mountains. The mining camp, the saloon, and the missionary, are each brought out in sharp relief. Mrs. Mavor, the ministering angel of the camp, is a sweet picture, which leaves the eyes wet. The author has come with a single leap into the front rank for literary skill and realistic power. The moral tone of the book is tonic as the mountain air itself. Temperance and missions in the West are fortunate in their champion.

Hodder & Stoughton announce as nearly ready, or on the way, THE LIFE OF HENRY DRUMMOND, by Dr. George Adam Smith; a second volume of the magnificent EXPOSITOR'S GREEK TESTAMENT; JESUS CHRIST AND HIS SURROUNDINGS, by Dr. Norman L. Walker, and a new story by Gordon Stables, FRANK HARDINGE: From Torrid Zones to Regions of Perpetual Snow.

From Presbyterian Board of Publication, Philadelphia; N. T. Wilson, Toronto:

COME YE APART. A set of daily Bible readings for the year in the life of Christ, by Rev. J. R. Miller, whose books on practical piety are world-famed.

LEAFLETS ON BAPTISM. By Rev. Dr. W. A. MacKay, Woodstock, Ont. A series of twenty-four four-page leaflets on the various phases of this subject. They are neat in form and sell at one cent each, and are certainly good reading. Whilst controversial—and the aggressiveness of those who hold a different view makes controversy essential—they are instructive, and are conceived in excellent spirit. They may be ordered from the author, and should have a wide sale.
