BY WIRE TO THE COMMERCIAL.

Vancouver, March 26.

Potatoes are a luxury in coast cities, the price being very high owing to the great scarcity. This is the case on both sides of the boundary, the price at Seattle being higher than in British Columbia. They are held at $30 per ton here. In fact there is practically a potato famine. Cannot Manitoba send some. A few Chinamen who stored some away for speculative purposes, have struck it better than a gold mine. Some 600 sacks of oats are being shipped from here to Siberia by the outgoing C. P. R. steamship, for seed purposes. The local market is steady and prices are the same as last week except for potatoes.
