

Travellers cheques are so convenient. They're accepted everywhere in Canada.

Money matters

As mentioned above, you will receive a cheque for living expenses and information on the terms under which your visit has been arranged, when you first meet your Visits Program officer. You will be taken to a bank where you may cash your cheque. It is strongly advised that you convert the money received into travellers cheques, which are accepted across Canada upon identification.

You are responsible for paying costs of your hotel, meals, phone calls, tips, baggage handling and taxi fares in each city. The cheque you receive should cover these expenses adequately.
