

leaders are expected to review the report of the Financial Action Task Force, which was created at Paris to examine and make recommendations on the problem of money laundering. They will likely also discuss the results of the Cartagena Summit, held earlier this year in Colombia.

Other political issues will be discussed by leaders as appropriate.