Fighting Spirit Manifest at Conservative Banquet to James A. Norris.

NO TRUCE, SAYS KEMP

Denies That Borden Government Have Any Agreement With Opposition.

Over 100 guests sat down Saturday night at the Albany Club to the complimentary banquet tendered James A. Norris. president of the Central Conservative Association and to those fortunate enough to be present the function will go down as an event romarkable for the spontaneity of the tribute to the head of the party in Toronto and as a striking demonstration of the unity and harmony existing in local Conservative circles. Citizens prominent in all ranks of life, members of the Dominion House and the Ontario Legislature and a representative assemblage from every ward organization in the city were in attendance. George Gooderham, M.L.A., presided, and made an ideal toastmaster. The speeches were short and to the point, and there was not a dull moment during the evening the whole affair being capably managed by W. McBrien. C. Soady and W. G. Gaillow, who kept events moving swiftly. Among those at the head table were Hon. A. E. Kemp, Claude Macdonell. M.P.; Edmund Bristol. M.P.; Thos. Hook, Jos. Russell, M. H. Irish, Wm. Price, members of the Ontario House; Jos. Wright, Controller Thompson. Mayor Church. Ald. Spence, Ald. Wickett, J. A. McCausland. R. B. Hobden, V. McAree, J. J. McCaffery, J. R. L. Denies a Truce.

There was a feeling of expectancy in the air, and the speeches, when politics were touched upon, were of the fighting variety, the militant spirit of the gathering reaching its climax when Hon. Mr. Kemp arose to make a presentation to the geust of the evening and incidentally to emphatically declare that so far as the Liberal-Conservative party is concerned the much-talked of truce is a chimera conjured up by a downcast opposition, the members of which and their press had been the first to break the "truce."

the indereas had discussed with the twas before the house previous to the declaration of war with the possible exception of the naval issue, and the speaker added that he saw no reason why that question should not be just as frankly discussed.

His hearers read into his statement a hint that an early election is not without the bounds of possibility, and he was roundly cheered when he again declared that no agreement of any kind had been reached, none would be reached with any other political party, and that the Conservatives were in a position to go about their business as if the Liberal press and members had if the Liberal press and members had never set up the claim of a truce only to be the first to violate it.

Presentation to Mr. Norris.

The speaker presented Mr. Norris with a beautiful diamond and emerald stick pin, and the recipient after a happy response branched into politics, briefly reading a newspaper extract in which Michael Clark was reported in white deprecated all talk of an as having deprecated all talk of an emergency during the height of the naval excitement, contrasting this stand with the loyal imperialistic atti-tude of the Borden administration.

Mayor Church spoke of the splendid record of the present government, and record of the present government, and amidst deafening applause referred to the instant measures taken at Ottawa on the outbreak of hostilities. Canda would continue to send men to Europe as long as England required them. He was sure the Conservative party was the popular party in the country, and if it should come to an issue felt assured that it would continue to remain the dominant party. They were ready at a moment's to give battle, and would be found fully prepared when the time came to go to the country. Claude Macdonell went back to the days when Jimmy Norris was a bare-foot boy in the east end, and paid eloquent tribute to his unfailing coureloquent tribute to his unfalling courtesy and worth. The present occasion was a unique one in the annals of local politics and was a peculiarly fitting demonstration of the party's opinion of his services.

J. J. McCaffery and Jos Wright terms of the also spoke in glowing terms of the guest of honor and joined in praising highly the spirit of the many young athletes from Canada who are now in the trenches. Among those who contribtued to a splendid musical program were Bert Harvey, Duncan Cowan, Jules Brazil and Will White.

MUST PAY THE PRICE TO MAKE WORLD GOOD

Rev. J. W. Pedlev Defends Right of Church to Use Influence in Matters Affecting People.

"You cannot do good without at the same time damaging evil. You cannot make the world one bit better unless you are prepared to pay the price. If reformations could be carried on without disturbing things there would be no objection to them.
That is why reformers have been vili-That is why refor fied, opposed and expelled consis-tently from the days of Ahab and tently from the days of Anab and Elijah down to the present—because they made trouble for those who stood in the way of reform."

In these words at the Western Con-gregational Church last night Rev. J. W. Pedley defended the right of the W. Pedley defended the right of the church to use its influence in matters that vitally affect the people, after these matters have come winin the scope of politics, as well as before. The church, he said, had other functions besides those of teaching and comforting, warning and giving counsel. It was a fighting institution. It was the business of the church to be aggressive against any phase of the community's life which was admittedly wil.

An Event of Commanding Importance

Is Proving a Consistent Success

Right from the opening day of this vast clearance sale there has been a stream of visitors in our showrooms, who have frankly expressed their appreciation of the values and bought. We have also had over a dozen letters from pleased purchasers expressing their entire satisfaction with their instrument, and voluntarily assuring us that they will tell their friends of their uncommonly good bargain.

Time is rapidly passing, and the shipment of hundreds of Pianos and Player-Pianos may be sent on any day from the factory, where there is considerable over-production, occasioned by our endeavors to keep running full time during the winter months.

We emphatically repeat that never in the history of Canadian Piano selling have such deeply cut prices and extremely easy terms been offered on such high-class instruments as are included in this gigantic clearing sale. You should assuredly come in and inspect before the showing becomes too restricted, if in the least interested or likely to be making a purchase during 1915.
