The increased receipts to the Canadian farmers for these four products alone amount to the enormous sum of $133,451,591.

During the 7 years of Liberal rule ending in June last, 1903, the total agricultural exports amounted to.....$ 578,986,671
During the last 7 years of the Conservative regime the total agricultural exports were of the value of..... 331,401,278

Making an increase for the last 7 years of.....$ 247,585,393 or 70%. Or, more simply expressed, it means $525 more in the pocket of every owner of a Canadian farm not less than five acres in area, there being in all Canada 471,833 of such owners.

This increase in the exports of agricultural products is equal to 53% of the total increase in Canadian exports of all kinds during the last 7 years.

Of these exports, the four which are most directly benefitted by the mechanical cold storage and cold air accommodation provided by the present
