

INDEX

- ABENAKIS, Algonquin Indians in Maine, 235. See also Norridge-wock.
- Abercrombie, James, English general, arrives with Loudoun, 306; commands on the Hudson, 317; expedition against Ticonderoga, 318-323; assault, 324; retreat, 325; ridiculed, 325.
- Acadia, meaning of the word, 50; occupation by Monts, 50-58; Madame de Guercheville buys Monts's claim, 76; restored to France, 92, 97; Alexander's grant, 93; La Tour's rule, 93, 94; contest between La Tour and D'Aunay, 94-96; conquest by New England, 96; Temple's grant, 96; passes finally to England, 234; extent, 234, 249. See also Canada, Port Royal.
- Adirondacks, Algonquin Indians in Canada, 43, 63.
- Africa, Dieppe traders on western coast, 2.
- Albany Congress, purpose, 279; attendance, 279; plan of union, 280.
- Alexander, Sir William, grant of Nova Scotia, 93.
- Algonquin Indians, displace Iroquois on the St. Lawrence, 42; fruitful stock, 43; friendship necessary to the French, 63, 64; character of Canadian, 64; in Maine, 235; tribes in the Ohio valley, 263.
- Allefonse, Jean, Roberval's lieutenant, sent to find Verrazano Sea, 24; mistaken ideas on his voyage, 25; narrative, 26; Vumenot's account, 26; true course, 27; on the Hudson River, 27; probable object of voyage, 28; rejoins Roberval, 31; death, 32.
- Allouez, Claude, Jesuit missionary, explores Lake Superior, 101; hears of the Mississippi, 106; oration to the Indians, 108.
- America considered the Devil's domain, 144.
- Amherst, Sir Jeffry, English commander-in-chief in America, 317; expedition against Louisburg, 329-332; goes to the Hudson, 333; plan of campaign for 1759, 344; advance on Ticonderoga, 347; fails to support Wolfe, 348; captures Montreal, 359.
- Andastes, name for the Susquehannocks, 48.
- Andros, Sir Edmund, preserves friendship of Iroquois, 103; rule in Massachusetts, 202.
- Annapolis, N. S. See Port Royal.
- Antinomianism and the Great Awakening, 228.
- Argall, Samuel, attacks the French at Mount Desert, 77-79; burns Port Royal, 79.
- Army, English, Braddock's force, 281; ignorant of Indian warfare, 283; character of Johnson's force, 296; rank of colonial officers, 308; Abercrombie's force, 318; force against Louisburg, 329; Forbes's force, 337; in 1759, 343.