The Prince of Wales will again be the dominating figure at the Exhibition today, when he will spend five or six hours on the grounds. He will be given a royal send-off as he leaves his box in the grand stand about ten o'clock tonight and proceeds down the track on his way to the Exhibition station.

His royal highness will arrive at the Exhibition grounds at 3 o'clock and will immediately proceed to the grand stand where the review of the veterans of the great war will take place together with the postponed review of the Boy Scouts, Naval Brigade and Girl Guides. He will be mounted and will be accompanied by a small mounted escort.

Following this the prince will confer decorations on over 200 overseas troops or their next of kin on a specially constructed platform within the paddock. Ranged on either side of the dais will be thousands of crippled soldiers and convalescents from local military hospitals, the men who are to receive the decorations and their kin. It is expected that the event will occupy about one and a half hours and immediately upon its conclusion his royal highness will proceed to the breeders' ring where a special parade of live stock has been arranged. This will include Anmer, the horse presented by His Majesty the King to Canada three years ago, and following the sire will be a large number of his progeny.

The royal party will then make an inspection of some of the buildings, but the exact itinerary has not been arranged, and will depend largely on the hour the live stock parade is completed.

Private Dinner.

His royal highness will have a private dinner with his party in the quarters arranged for him in the administration building, about 7.30 and at 8 o'clock will leave for the stand to witness the spectacle.

As his royal highness leaves the grand stand every performer in the big Victory Year pageant will go to the front of the stage. Here they will mass, presenting a veritable rainbow of colors. Representatives of every allied nation in the brilliant uniforms of pre-war times will be assembled, while ranged on either side will be 300 musicians, and all will join in a tremendous ovation to the departing guest.

Yesterday it was Children's Day and the youngsters enjoyed themselves to their hearts content. They kept the grounds lively all day, and at the spectacle in the evening, when the grand stand was packed by old and young, they gave full expression to the exuberance of their spirits. They yelled and whistled in a way which made them heard far away, demonstrating staying powers which made many grown-ups envious.

EXHIBITION ALIVE WTH HAPPY TOTS

Was the dairy building steer and were the two sheep the real thing or not? This was the burning question of the day to the teeming children who visited the packing house section of the building yesterday.

"Gee whiz," exclaimed one lad of seven wee summers. "The cow's real alright, else how couldn't you tell it from any other?" This little bit of logic received fitting rebuke from another laddie, younger yet. "Co's its alive. I see its tail wag ony a minnit ago. Can't tell it from other cos ain't other to see."

Crammed With Wee Tots

It was not easy to tell at first glance whether or not there were more children at the Ex. this year than last. However, there were great numbers of them right around the Victory monument near the grand stand all day long, diminishing in numbers toward the main bandstand. All the large buildings were crammed with wee tots full of life and wan mothers tired out with the responsibilities of the day. Many a sacrifice was made by women who were unable to bear the slightest strain but who kept up bravely at least while on the grounds. One little woman in the dairy building, who had brought her strapping youngster down to the grounds in a go-cart early in the morning, had in due course taken the little boy out of the go-cart and had put in his place all manners ofthings dear to the heart of children. In the meantime she carried the strapping infant which had not yet learnt to walk.

Sentimental Hat-bands.

All manner of boys and girls trailed well known paths, bearing the token of their sentiments on their hat-bands. Sentimental to the last degree some of them were. One child of eleven bore the legend, "I am willing to be married." She had no appearance of being love-lorn, tho, of course, it is sometimes difficult to tell facts from the surface. A kiddie of nine

HOLD BY-ELECTIONS ON OCTOBER 27

In Eight Ridings—Expect Federal Session to End in Five Weeks.

Ottawa, Aug. 26. — With the announcement today of the date for the nominations and by-elections in vacant constituencies, the former to be held on Oct. 20 and the latter on Oct. 27, in all cases, it became evident that the session is expected to end about the first week in October. That is the hope at present expressed in government circles.

Under the act passed at the recent session, it was stated today, it is impossible to hold a by-election in less than two months, except in constituencies which contain no village or town of more than 1000 people. This is the substance of the report made to the government by the officers charged with the administration of the election act. It was impossible to fix a date which would enable any candidate to take his seat in the house before October. The minister of finance, Sir Henry Drayton, and the minister of agriculture, Dr. Tolmie, will consequently be unable to appear in the house at the coming session, which opens on Monday, as also will Hon. W. M. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party.

Constituencies Affected.

The writs will apply to eight constituencies: Prince, P.E.I.; Carleton-Victoria, N.B.; Kingston, Glengarry-Stormont and North Ontario, in Ontario; Quebec East and Victoria, British Columbia.

Hon. F. S. Tolmie, minister of agriculture, will seek re-election in Victoria, B.C., and it is presumed that Hon. F. B. Carvell's successor as minister of public works may be a candidate in Victoria, N.B. Should the choice happen to fall upon Stanley E. Elkin of St. John N.B., however, it would mean another vacancy and a second by-election in New Brunswick.

Drayton's Seat Doubtful.

No announcement has yet been made as to the seat which will be contested by Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, and there is a possibility that he may contest some constituency not mentioned in the foregoing list.

Liberals of Glengarry-Stormont meet in convention today to decide whether or not they will nominate a candidate in view of the decision of the U.F.O. to contest the seat. Should they nominate W. L. Mackenzie King, the opposition leader, it is expected that he will make an early decision as to his acceptance or otherwise.

The possibility of Mr. King securing a temporary seat in the vacant constituency of Prince, P.E.I., is now being discussed in political circles.

CUT DOWN STAFFS OR ELSE GIVE WAY TO THOSE WHO CAN

Lloyd George Warns His Colleagues on Need of Immediate Curtailment.

London, Aug. 26.—After his recent speech in the house of commons, in which he insisted upon economy, Premier Lloyd George wrote to his ministerial colleagues, calling attention to the huge national expenditure, and impressing upon them the need of immediately curtailing. The letter, as quoted by The Daily Mail, says, among other things:

"The time has come when each minister ought to make clear to those under his control that if they cannot reduce expenditure they must make room for somebody who can. That is the public temper, and it is right."

The premier declares it is indefensible that the staffs of the public services have hardly been reduced perceptibly since the ending of the war, and says that those responsible must be compelled to perform their duty, however unpleasant, with regard to ruthless cutting. He adds: "We must content ourselves with the second best where the best is too costly."

The premier concludes by telling the ministers that they must find time during vacation to consider the best method of dealing with the question, and report to him by mid-September what steps they have taken or propose to take.

GARY REFUSES TO MEET LABOR

First Definite Development Which May Result in Huge Strike in Steel Trades.

New York, Aug. 26.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, declined late today to meet personally John Fitzpatrick and other representatives of the American Federation of Labor, who constitute a committee appointed to organize the workers in the iron and steel industry.

Mr Gary sent word to the committee that if it had any statement it wished to make it should be reduced to writing and then it would be considered by the corporation.

The refusal of Mr. Gary to see the committee was the first definite development here in the controversy which may result in a strike of a large army of workers to enforce union recognition and better working conditions.

The effort to arrange a conference with the head of the largest single unit in the iron and steel industry came a few hours after the hurried return from Europe of Samuel Gompers, who announced before he sailed that his presence home was more imperative than abroad.

The committee, headed by Mr. Fitzpatrick, has been authorized to call a strike on Aug. 30 if it fails to obtain the concessions desired. If a walkout is ordered it will involve every industry dependent upon iron, steel and tin.

BELGIAN SENATE APPROVES TREATY.

Brussels, Aug. 26.—The Belgian senate today unanimously approved the peace treaty with Germany. The chamber of deputies ratified the treaty August 8.

HELP WOUNDED TODAY

Unless citizens help, 300 soldiers at Davisville Hospital, who have received invitations from those in authority to attend the ceremonies at the Exhibition today, will not be able to go because of lack of transportation. Several troop trains are expected from those transports which have reached Halifax recently, and also a train load of dependents is coming in. Accordingly, organizations will be unable to render their usual aid to Davisville Hospital. The citizens of Toronto are appealed to to give a half-day to those boys who otherwise will miss having what will probably be the time of their lives.

Motor cars should call at Davisville Hospital, Davisville avenue, today, at 12.45. Passes will also be given to the drivers for the Exhibition.

It is hoped that many of those ladies who intend spending the afternoon at the Exhibition will call at the Davisville Hospital with their motors at the time stated above and take the men out with them and bring them back on their way home.

FIRST TREASON CASE IN FRANCE UNEARTHED

Newspaper Proprietor's Services to Germany Valued at Two Million Francs.

Paris, Aug. 26.—With the indictment of Ernest Judet, former owner of the newspaper L'Eclair, who is accused of having had dealings with the enemy in the purchase or founding of French newspapers with German capital, the first treason case in France, from which the Bolo Pasha and Duval cases had their basis, seems to have been unearthed.

The newspapers today published what purports to be a copy of a letter from Gottlieb von Jagow, then German minister of foreign affairs, to Baron von der Lancken, at the time civil governor of Brussels, in which it was stated that Von Jagow could obtain the service of Judet for German propaganda in France for the sum of 2,000,000 francs. Von Jagow said he thought the figure was excessive, and asked Von der Lancken's advice in the premises.

After the arrest of Bolo Pasha and Lenoir, in 1917, Judet hurriedly sold L'Eclair and departed for Switzerland, where he has since resided.

BY-ELECTION DELAY CRITICIZED BY KING

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—"The delay in issuing the by-election writs is inexcusable and can only be explained by the government's complete indifference to the right of the people to control parliament." The foregoing statement was made by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, regarding the by-elections today. "Representation in parliament is the first right of a free people," declared Mr. King; "every denial or postponement of that right is in the nature of an infringement of a fundamental liberty. In arranging for the by-elections on October 27 the government has contrived to maintain eight vacancies in parliament for the period of the ensuing session which the public has been given to understand will be concluded before that date.

"It is well that electors should understand how far we are getting away in Canada from government by the people as it hould be carried on where regard is had for the right of contituencies to representation in parliament.

DARLING OF EMPIRE CHEERS HEROES WHO BLED FOR HIM

IS IT ANY WONDER THEY LIKE HIM?

Yesterday the Prince of Wales completed his conquest of Toronto. Wherever he appeared, cheering crowds gave him a splendid welcome, which the Prince heartily enjoyed.

H.R.H. Prince of Wales, Now LL.D., Toronto, Gladdens Hearts of Patients in Hospitals by Many a Kindly Word and Friendly Smile.

The magnetic personality of Prince Edward of Wales is drawing him more friends in Toronto every time he appears in public. Altho yesterday was devoted mainly to visiting the hospitals of the city and to the receiving of a degree at the University and naturally was not of the spectacular nature that featured Monday's program, large crowds were found in the streets and at every point of vantage waiting to welcome a royal prince who has won his spurs of popularity solely off his own bat. On Monday morning few people in Toronto knew the prince in the flesh; when he departs tonight there will hardly be a man, woman or child in the city who does not know him by sight and thousands who met him on Monday will claim with pride until their dying day that they knew him personally.

Despite Hard Work.

Despite the hard day's work on Monday and the fact that the prince was dancing at Government House until midnight he was up and about early yesterday morning and was undoubtedly the freshest man of the whole Government House party, and went for a walk in the grounds before breakfast. Leaving Government House and driving via Roxborough drive and Schofield avenue, the prince and his party arrived punctually at ten o'clock at the St. Andrews military hospital where he was greeted by Major-General Fotheringham, director of medical services, from Ottawa; Col. Forde, A.D.M.S., military district No 2; Col. Aitcheson; Col. Hardy, O.C. hospital.

At St. Andrews

On the lawn of the hospital two large marquees had been erected for the accommodation of wounded officers and nurses. The prince passed down the double line of beds and shook hands and talked to each officer patient. When he came to the spot occupied by Captain D. S. Bankier, 1st Battn., Canadian machine gun corps, he halted for the captain was up and dressed and standing at attention. The prince pressed him to tell how he came by his very severe injuries. The gallant captain had been awarded the military cross, and it fell to the prince's "happy duty and pleasure," as he expressed it, to pin the cross on the captain's tunic. During the ceremony there could not have been a nurse in the hospital who d d not take a "snap" of the scene—it was a veritable parade of cameras.

Signed Book.

After receiving the nursing sisters and expressing his appreciation of the work being performed at the hospital to Matron Gamble, the prince signed the visitors' book, writing his name, "Edward P.," and then drove off to inspect the Rosedale huts.

He was cheered by a long line of blue-coated patients, who cheered loudly. He walked down the line and chatted with a man here and there. In the huts themselves he talked words of good cheer to the bed patients, and to one man, who said he had four brothers and four sons in the war, he was particularly sympathetic. On leaving another long line of nurses and patients cheered the prince until he regained his car and sped away to the Orthopedic Hospital on Christie street, where the entire strength of the hospital was assembled on the lawn.

At Christie Street.

The prince inspected the whole line and chatted especially long with the double amputation cases, which seemed greatly interest him. He made special enquiries of Lieut. Waghorn, who wears the M.C., D.C.M., M.M., and has a 1914-15 star, as to how he won so many decorations. The prince has given many surprises during his visit to Toronto, but he was given one himself at Christie street. Pte. D. A. Thompson, a bed patient, asked him to accept a beaded watch fob with the Prince of Wales' feathers embroidered in crystals on a steel background. The prince gladly accepted the gift, saying to Thompson, "I am glad to accept it as a memento of my visit to Toronto."

In Self-Defence.

There were so many patients and nurses anxious to shake hands with the prince that in sheer self-defence he was bound to make a speech to the assembled patients. He said in his charming way:

"I should like to say that I am sorry

STRIKE ON U. S. RAILWAYS NOW HANGS IN BALANCE

Shopmen Are Considering Request of Wilson That It Be Deferred Pending War on High Prices.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Railway shopmen thruout the United States will begin voting immediately on whether they will accept the wage proposals made yesterday by President Wilson and Director-General Hines or go out on strike to enforce their demands for a general advance in pay. On thre outcome of the balloting hinges industrial peace on the government-controlled railroads. If the 500,000 shopmen decide to accede to President Wilson's decision that there shall be no general wage advances until the government shows what can be done to control the rising cost of living, sufficient time to effect some change in the price levels probably will elapse before other unions press their demands for more money.

What action the government may be expected to take in the event of a vote by the shopmen to strike for an immediate increase in wages, which President Wilson has said would have a disastrous effect on efforts to bring down prices, has not been disclosed, if indeed it has been considered.

Indicative of the action of Director-General Hines and the railroad administration to deal fairly with all classes of employes, the director-general today instructed the board of railway wages to consider promptly any demands that might be made and to report recommendations for correcting anything found to exist, for increase will not be made for any class until it has been proved that the present level of prices is permanent. Both the president and Mr. Hines have given assurance that railroad workers would receive early readjustment of their wages.

The taking of a strike vote ordinarily requires about three weeks. In the present instance, however, it is believed the vote may be completed earlier as instructions were given by the international officers to the unions to summon meetings if necessary and to gather the result of the balloting.

Announcing that they had refused the proposal of the director-general, the committee of 100 representing the shopmen made public a letter sent to the various locals calling for a strike vote. The committee was in session several hours today, debate becoming bitter at times, it was said, the more radical members demanded a strike to compel more money. In the letter, however, was seen a suggestion that some of the committee were inclined to give the government a chance to make good in the campaign against high prices.

IGNORANT OF FATE OF SUBMARINE BREMEN

London, Aug. 26.—There is no truth in the report that the crew of the German commercial submarine Bremen was captured during the war and returned recently to Germany, according to official information given the correspondent today. It was added that the British admiralty has no knowledge concerning the fate of the Bremen, but that it is assumed the submarine foundered while endeavoring to cross the Atlantic.

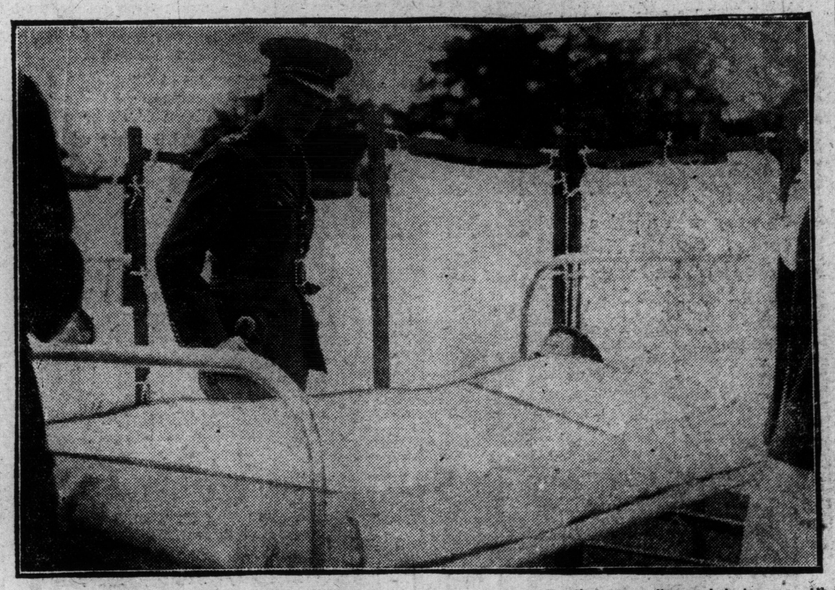
GENERAL CURRIE COMING.

Mayor Church announces that the civic reception to General Currie, commander of the Canadian Corps, will take place at the city hall on Friday at 11 a.m., instead of Saturday as previously arranged.

SIR JOSEPH WARD RESIGNS

Wellington, New Zealand, Aug. 26.—Sir Joseph Ward, minister for finance and posts since 1915, has resigned office. He regards the political truce as unnecessary since the peace treaty has been signed.

VISITING THE BADLY WOUN DED



At St. Andrew's Military Hospital the Prince made a point of visiting every soldier that was well enough to be seen. He is here seen at the bedside of one of the more serious cases.

TWO GREAT EVENTS

The Exhibition is now on. It's the big event in Toronto's year. There's another equally important item in the fall catalogue, and that is Dineen's "fur opening." This year the fall opening at the big fur store will be greater than ever, because of some exceptionally fine purchases of native and foreign pelts, made some months ago. These are now made into stylish coats in Hudson seal, seal coney, Persian lamb and muskrat. Some are handsomely trimmed with beaver, Alaska sable, Australian opossum and lynx. Neck pieces and muffs in all the fashionable furs now on exhibit in Dineen's show rooms on 2nd floor of their large establishment, cor. Temperance and Yonge sts.
