LABOR-SOCIALISTS OF CITY ORGANIZE A DEBATING FORUM

Hard Raps At "Onion" Government At Ottawa.

ABOLISH CAPITALISM

Speaker Says This Continent Will Follow the Example of Russia.

Preliminary organization of a socialist debating forum was effected Sunday | afternoon at a meeting under Socialist-Labor party auspices in the Dowler building, A. O. F. Hall, following an address on "Causes of Social Unrest," by Fred Haselgrove, F. J. Appleton presided, and George Bryce was apointed secretary of the new organiza-

About thirty members were se-Mr. Haselgrove was loudly applauded when he declared that following the example of Russia, where the soldiers, workmen and peasants had united to workmen and peasants had united to abolish capitalism, the working classes on this continent would also abolish capitalism. When all men became workers, there would be no class legislation because there would be no classes left, he said.

Even if the United Farmer Government in Toronte did not fairly some ment in Toronto did not fairly serve the interests of the working class, it would be turned out of power, he declared. Most of Mr. Haselgrove's invective was directed at what he called the "Onion" Government in Ottawa. Quotations from Washington, Jefferson and other great libertarians were used to show how a government which had passed so much iniquitous legislation to keep itself in power could not pos-sibly flourish. Humor was interspersed in one or two places in the address. One of the sallies which evoked paricular applause was the statement that the editorials in a local organ of 'Onion'' Government were far more entertaining than the "Bringing Up Father" feature.

Chairman Appleton in illustrating a Socialist criticism of the present industrial system declared that it had been found that manufacturers in England were now adulterating cotton fabrics with wool, because the unloading of the market of wool commandeered during the war had made wool cheaper than cotton.

When the secretary was asking the wool cheaper than cotton. When the secretary was asking the new members for their addresses one answered his name with the information, "Looking for a house."
"Look how they were able to get anything they wanted during the war in order to defeat Germany, but now they tell us that they simply can't get enough material to build a few houses for workingmen," said the chairman.

BAKERS WILL REPLY TO ARGUMENTS FOR WORKING AT NIGHT

Will Respect Present Agreement. But Afterwards Will Stand Firm.

London local union No. 270 of the Bakers and Confectionery Workers of America devoted a three-hour meeting night to discussing the best demanded hot bread for breakfast, and that for this reason night work could not be aboltshed not be abolished.

Resolutions were passed unanimously instructing the officers to take issue with all the statements of the master bakers, and following the meeting the men stated emphatically that night work was going to be abolished, but that they would respect their present working agreement until its date of expiration. expelled, was a union member, it was announced.

The Ministerial Alliance came in for a good deal of rough criticism, because it was suspected of opposing the day work agitation lest it involve working on Sunday. According to the journeymen bakers Sunday work is required of the bakers in London at the present time. Some bakers reported for work as early as 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, although Sunday work permits only authorize labor after 19:30 Sunday evening.

work permits only authorize labor after 9:30 Sunday evening.
The bakers claim that bread consumed on Saturday and Sunday at the present time is practically all baked on Friday, and that few people complain. Scotland has been baking bread in the daytime for 20 years, and Brantford, Ont., bakers have been on day work for three years, they state.

Anyhow, the bakers say, the argument of John Bridge that it is tradition of centuries to bake bread by night work is not a forceful argument for these latter days. If day work had been found to increase the efficiency of the bakers 35 per cent in Brantford and Scotland they would be justified in demanding a change. Traditional methods are obsolete in these times of rapid evolution and progress, the bakers argue.

GO-TO-CHURCH SUNDAY NOT SUFFICIENTLY ADVERTISED

and a result of the "Go to Church Sunday" campaign, large congregations were in attendance. In others the congregations were normal. The First Methodist Church perhaps drew the largest congregation of any church, and sixty new members were received into the church. Rev. R. G. Peever at the morning service spoke of the fellowship that comes from worshipping together in unity. Many people, he said, thought they could worship just as well at home and be just as observant of the Lord's Day as those who went to church. This, he pointed out, was a wrong idea and one of which anyone should get rid as soon as possible and get into the habit of going to church. All down through the centuries from the first temple built by the Israelites, it had been the highest and most reverent form of worship to gather together in a house dedicated to God and sing His realized and conductions. At the Talbot Street Church the congregation was normal. Rev. T. S. Roy was of the opinion that the "Go-to-Church Sunday" had not been advertised sufficiently. He said there were few people who knew that such a Sunday had been planned and that the first advertisement of the day had only appeared on Saturday. He remarked that in other places where he had held pastorates the "Go-to-Chruch Sunday" had been advertised extensively in every form of advertising, so that it was impossible for the people to forget it, and special services were always preached regarding the matter of going to church. Had it been more widely advertised. Rev. Mr. Roy was sure there would have been few churches that would have been few churches that would have had only the usual congregation.

Hobart Bosworth is now being starred by Thomas H. Ince in a series of special productions. The first of these is a picturization of Gouverneur Morris' story of the sea, "Behind the Door," which will be shown at the Grand today, tomorrow and Wednesday. "FLO-FLO" AT THE GRAND GOOD FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

One of the most tuneful and spectacular of all the musical shows which captivated New York for an entire season will be the special offering at the Grand Good Friday and Saturday, with daily matinees, when John Cort brings here his fashion show production of "Flo-Flo" "Flo-Flo" has all the graces of the musical comedy of the past and any number of new ones which are essentially her own, including that much-written-of famous chorus of matchless beauty and grace. The chorus, incidentally, has that rare quality—a sense of humor, which is seen in a series of eccentric dances. "Flo-Flo" gives occasion for a spectacular fashion display that for richness and costliness excels anything hitherto presented on the American stage. The twenty musical numbers are said to be heard at their best as played by the "Flo-Fld" augmented orchestra. The seat sale opens tomorrow.

"THE MOLLUSC" AT GRAND. the provincial convention which convenes in London on Friday of this one night only, April 1, provides three solid hours of fun. This presentation was originally played by Mary Moore and Charles Wyndham in the Criterion Theatre, London. England, and has enjoyed wonderful success wherever played. It will be presented here by the H.K. Players under the auspices of the Western University Meds '22.

RUPTURE KILLS

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But scleace has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home The PLAPAO method is unquestionably most scientific, logical and successful treatment for rupture the world has known.
