THREE DAYS WITHOUT FOOD.
Three days in a refrigerator car without food or water was the experience of a man who was taken from the cold brick prison, according to a despatch from Enid, Ohio.

The head pressman of The News was walking along the spur near East Maple, and in passing a refrigerator car was astonished to hear the voice of a man imploring and beseeching freedom. Mr. Lewis opened the car and the prisoner climbed out almost exhausted from his long period of enforced privation. He said that he got into the car at the yards in Kansas City and had left the door ajar. The handles of these cars spring out when the door is unlocked and some yardman seeing this door ajar, promptly locked it, and the tramp, who was the name of Hugo Smith, was imprisoned. He could not make himself heard above the din of the moving train, and consequently he was forced to stay in the car. His tale of the suffering from hunger and thirst is one that would bring words of pity from the hardest heart. Mr. Smith says that in the future he will count every tie for a thousand miles before he will enter an empty refrigerator car again.
