

JOHN CATTO & SON

Midsummer Chances

Table Cloths

Fine double Damask Table Cloths, 2 x 2 1/2 yards only, in handsome assorted patterns, first-class goods in every respect, but being samples, some are slightly counter-soiled. Regularly $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00. Will clear at $2.95 each.

Napkins

Fine Linen Damask Napkins in pattern assortment, as Shamrocks, Spots, Daisy, Ivy Leaf, Stars, Roses, etc., 5-8 x 5-8 size, very choice goods and very special at $2.50 per dozen.

Down Quilts

Fine French Sateen-covered Down Quilts, slightly soiled in showing; fine assortment of colors. Regularly $10.00, $11.00, $12.00 and $14.00. Will clear limited quantity at $5.00 each.

Wool Blankets

Fine Canadian Pure Wool Blankets, 65x88-inch, singly cut and finished, washed and scoured. Regularly $5.50. To make room, $3.75 pair.

MAIL ORDERS.—Should orders, currently postmarked, arrive too late for above, depend on us to give you equal value from regular stock.

JOHN CATTO & SON

55 to 61 King Street East, TORONTO.

DR. CRIPPEN IS WILLING TO GO BACK

Continued From Page 1.

riders and rooms there were dozens of them, and an almost senseless crowd of people, in a manner that would have made an ordinary sight of hand artist blink. The crowd lost track of the minutes the dash from the room in search was like a game of "button," who's got the button?"

In the court room sat a dozen reporters, while every foot of floor about the prisoner was jammed with people. Crippen was taken into the court room. Judge Rogers informed the prisoner that it was only for the purpose of identification that the proceedings were being taken.

Admits His Identity. Cautious as to his words the prisoner was asked if his name was Hawley Crippen, a fugitive from justice.

"Yes," said the prisoner, Crippen admitted that he was an American citizen, born in Michigan, and that he was a Roman Catholic.

Asked if he was a dentist, Crippen answered: "No; I am a medical doctor, a graduate of Cleveland University."

He said he was temperate in his habits. He did not intend to fight against being taken back, but was willing to return to England with the Inspector. As under the Fugitive Offenders' Act, 15 days are necessary before they can be taken back, the remand gives the prisoners an opportunity, if they so desire, to take out a writ of habeas corpus, or institute any other proceedings.

May Be Technicians. The authorities at Quebec consider this case one of the most complicated that has come within their ken. Crippen, an American citizen, is charged with murder in England, and escapes to a semi-independent state in the empire, and he is caught while he is in the waters of that state, which makes its own laws. Now the question arises should Crippen, as an American citizen, claim extradition to the United States, and be charged with the murder in England, or should he claim under protection, the American consul is bound to help him. This is a possibility, therefore, that the prisoner will yet decide to avail himself of the law's provisions in that respect.

Cablegrams From Home. A very touching sight was shown on the proceedings in the court house this morning. Two marriage certificates were handed out to the magistrates ordered these also to be handed to the girl. One read as follows: "With all your love for your husband, don't forget your father and your mother, your brothers and your sisters, and tell all you know to the authorities."

The second message somewhat similar words were used. It was believed that the girl is married to Crippen.

There is a strong impression here that the girl will turn King's evidence, but the police will admit nothing.

May Be Deported. OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 1.—The immigration department here assume that Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve will be deported, and an officer went to Quebec to make the analytical examination of the body.

Not Being Extradited. Some confusion evidently arisen as to the rights of Dr. Crippen as an American citizen. It is subject to the laws of the country in which he happens to be, and can be tried for crime committed there, the same as if he were a subject of that country. It is

THE WEATHER

OBSERVATORY, TORONTO, AUG. 1. (8 p.m.)—The weather to-day has been unsettled. Ontario with numerous thunderstorms, while in other parts of Canada it has been fine. The temperature has been highest in southern Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia, where 50 degrees or a little higher was recorded.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Dawson, 46-52; Atlin, 44-53; Prince Rupert, 40-53; Victoria, 53-58; Vancouver, 52-57; Kamloops, 60-78; Edmonton, 48-72; Calgary, 48-72; Moose Jaw, 51-71; Prince Albert, 51-74; Winnipeg, 46-75; Port Arthur, 44-74; Parry Sound, 56-78; Toronto, 61-73; Ottawa, 52-72; Montreal, 60-75; Quebec, 50-72; St. John, 62-68; Halifax, 56-60.

—Probabilities—
Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay—Easterly winds; mostly fair; but a few local thunderstorms; not much change in temperature.
Ottawa Valley and Upper St. Lawrence—Westerly winds; fair and comparatively cool.
Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf—Moderate westerly winds; a few local showers, but mostly fair.
Maritime—Moderate southwesterly winds, mostly fair and warm, with a few local showers towards night.
Superior—Moderate easterly winds; fair and moderately warm.
Manitoba—Local thunderstorms, but mostly fair and warm.
Saskatchewan and Alberta—West and northwest winds; a few scattered showers, but mostly fair; not much change in temperature.

THE BAROMETER.
Time. Ther. Bar. Wind.
8 a.m. 65 29.62 S.S.W.
Noon 68 29.61 S.S.W.
2 p.m. 65 29.59 S.E.
4 p.m. 65 29.57 S.E.
Mean of day, 65; difference from average, 1 below; highest, 75; lowest, 51; rainfall, .04.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

At	From
Aug. 1	At
Minneapolis	New York
Merion	Philadelphia
Carthagen	Liverpool
Romantic	Boston
Parian	Boston
Columbia	Glasgow
Nauvian	Boston
Hesperian	Glasgow
Cedric	Liverpool
Kronland	Dover
Oscar II.	Christiania
Bremen	Bremen
K.P. Wilhelm	Cherbourg
California	Havre
San Giovanni	Naples
Europa	Genoa
M. Washington	Genoa

BIRTHS.
BRASIER—On Sunday afternoon, July 31, 1910, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Brasier, a daughter.

DEATHS.
GUNN—Suddenly, on Monday, Aug. 1, Andrew Gunn, 64 years of age, died at his residence, 104 York street, at 10:30 a.m.

Funeral notice later.
HOU—On Saturday, July 30, 1910, at the Victoria Hotel, Winnipeg, Kenneth McKenney Hough, 64 years of age, died at his residence, 104 York street, at 10:30 a.m.

Funeral announcement later.
KINGSTON and Napanee papers please copy.

KEMP—At Clarenceville, Que., on Aug. 1, Sarah Ann, wife of the late Albert Kemp, died at her residence, 104 York street, at 10:30 a.m.

POPE—John Douglas Pope, aged 55 months, at the residence of his parents, 104 York street, at 10:30 a.m.

Funeral to Mount Pleasant Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

MADDEN—On Sunday, July 31, of pneumonia, at the residence of his parents, 104 York street, at 10:30 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Funeral to St. James' Cemetery on Monday, Aug. 2, at 10 a.m.

Summer Visitors

Excursionists make this store their rendezvous, because it is THE BEST PLACE FOR SOUVENIRS. Novelties in Neckwear, Hair Ornaments, Leather Goods, Toilet Articles, Fancy Work, China, Bric-a-brac, Silverware and Jewellery can be had at marvellously low prices.

In the day-light basement, cool and well-ventilated, there is the best equipped Ice Cream and Soda Water Service in Canada.

The restaurant on the top floor, with its wonderful view, is the delight of tired and hungry shoppers. A fine orchestra adds to the pleasure of the meal.

The ladies' rest room (third floor) is a boon to travellers, the check office for parcels and hand baggage (main floor) is not the less efficient because the service is free.

N.B.—Special delivery to railway stations and docks.

Supt. Frost of Scotland Yard to-day.

"We are satisfied that we have got the most complete chain of evidence. Still, we are busy picking up the threads, but the evidence already in our hands is believed by the law officers of the crown to be quite sufficient to convict."

Supt. Frost added that any stories that Dew had or would subject the fugitives to a "third degree" grilling must not be believed. The inspector he said was not an officer and knew that any evidence obtained in such a way would upset completely the case in the English courts.

Frost said, to justify Canada in holding the prisoners until Mitchell arrives.

In the meantime, Scotland Yard does not expect anything from Dew, but will keep him informed of developments there. If the wishes of the police respecting the formalities of extradition are complied with, the case is not likely to be opened in this city until September.

Insurance Claim Revealed Murder. NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—News of the arrest of Dr. Crippen and his companion, Ethel Levene, reached Scotland Yard to-day that Fredrick Mordred, the stepfather of Belle Elmore, Crippen's missing wife.

"I have not seen Dr. Crippen for years," he said. "But I will inform him the instant I set eyes on him."

When he married Cora (Belle Elmore's name at home), she was nineteen years old. Four years later they came to live with me in this house. She was later his wife's ability that pushed him to the front. The couple never had any children, but I think they were happy until that other woman came into their lives.

It was thru my efforts to obtain a death certificate for which I collected a life insurance that I held on Cora's life, that the investigation was brought about which ended in the arrest on board the Montrose."

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS. Mgr. Tampieri Has Arrived In Advance of the Papal Legate.

Mgr. Santis Tampieri, one of the secretaries in the office of the papal secretary of state, and a member of the suite attached to the person of the papal legate, Vannutelli, who will be the papal legate at the international Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, has arrived in this country to represent the cardinal in the arrangements for the congress.

The cardinal legate must remain in this country about two months. While at Montreal he will be the guest of Sir Thomas Sherrington, president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

A committee of well-known railroad men have arranged a program whereby the papal legate will be able to make a tour of the country, visiting the various cities and towns where the congress will be held.

After the close of the congress he will visit the Catholic summer school at Lake Champlain, and then go to the city of Montreal, where he will be received by President Taft. Cardinal Gibbons will entertain him at Baltimore, and Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis expects him to visit that city.

The Eucharistic Congress, at which he will represent the Pope, Plus X., is expected to bring to Montreal the largest gathering of Catholics that has ever assembled in one city in North America. In fact, it will be the most important assemblage of Catholics that has ever gathered on this side of the Atlantic. The tolerance spirit is exemplified by the welcome for such men as Lord Strathcona and others identified with the progress of Canada.

Lord Strathcona not only sent his cheque to the committee, but placed his city palace at the disposal of Mr. Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal. Several archbishops will lodge there during the congress.

The congress will last six days, beginning on Sept. 6, and closing with an open air procession of the eucharist on Sunday, Sept. 11. The reception committee's report to date shows that it expects about 100,000 Catholics to visit that city and participate in the ceremonies.

The important incidents of the congress will be the midnight mass for men, at the Church of Notre Dame, the municipal reception to the cardinal legate at the city hall, the formal opening of the congress, the procession of the eucharist, and the final procession on Sunday, Sept. 11, when the pope's representative will carry the sacrament to the city of Montreal.

The special constable meantime called a city policeman and laid an information against unknown strikers leaving the switch with the switch. The policeman, upon investigation, found out who the real offenders were.

Harper, Customs Broker, McKinnon Building, 10 Jordan St., Toronto.

TELEPHONE MAYBE OF LOCATION OF LAWS

G. T. R. Strikers Give Notice of Importation of Aliens by Co. and Complain of Crews.

No news was received from the strikers' chiefs at Montreal at the meeting of the local strikers last night. They were frank in the admission, however, that a statement was expected. They expected Vice-President Berry back to-day.

Extra well attended meetings were held yesterday and reports from various localities showed that strikers were being called out all along the system. Three are said to have gone over to the strikers side in Toronto, and a few in Montreal.

At yesterday's meeting of the strikers' chiefs a number of instances were cited of mismanagement in connection with the operation of trains on the G.T.R. The strikers' chief, Chairman Mabey of the Dominion Railway Commission.

The men were quite indignant over the statement of Supt. Cunningham of Niagara Falls and the importation of aliens into Canada, and have drafted a message to the G.T.R. strikers' chief, asking for the prosecution of a number of men alleged to be aliens employed under contract by the Grand Trunk.

The following was the message sent to Hon. Frank Oliver: "The Grand Trunk have recently taken into their employ a number of men under contract who are all aliens. We have evidence of this, and ask that an officer be sent to prosecute these men and enforce the law."

Supt. Frost added that any stories that Dew had or would subject the fugitives to a "third degree" grilling must not be believed. The inspector he said was not an officer and knew that any evidence obtained in such a way would upset completely the case in the English courts.

Frost said, to justify Canada in holding the prisoners until Mitchell arrives.

In the meantime, Scotland Yard does not expect anything from Dew, but will keep him informed of developments there. If the wishes of the police respecting the formalities of extradition are complied with, the case is not likely to be opened in this city until September.

Insurance Claim Revealed Murder. NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—News of the arrest of Dr. Crippen and his companion, Ethel Levene, reached Scotland Yard to-day that Fredrick Mordred, the stepfather of Belle Elmore, Crippen's missing wife.

"I have not seen Dr. Crippen for years," he said. "But I will inform him the instant I set eyes on him."

When he married Cora (Belle Elmore's name at home), she was nineteen years old. Four years later they came to live with me in this house. She was later his wife's ability that pushed him to the front. The couple never had any children, but I think they were happy until that other woman came into their lives.

It was thru my efforts to obtain a death certificate for which I collected a life insurance that I held on Cora's life, that the investigation was brought about which ended in the arrest on board the Montrose."

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS. Mgr. Tampieri Has Arrived In Advance of the Papal Legate.

Mgr. Santis Tampieri, one of the secretaries in the office of the papal secretary of state, and a member of the suite attached to the person of the papal legate, Vannutelli, who will be the papal legate at the international Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, has arrived in this country to represent the cardinal in the arrangements for the congress.

The cardinal legate must remain in this country about two months. While at Montreal he will be the guest of Sir Thomas Sherrington, president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

A committee of well-known railroad men have arranged a program whereby the papal legate will be able to make a tour of the country, visiting the various cities and towns where the congress will be held.

After the close of the congress he will visit the Catholic summer school at Lake Champlain, and then go to the city of Montreal, where he will be received by President Taft. Cardinal Gibbons will entertain him at Baltimore, and Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis expects him to visit that city.

The Eucharistic Congress, at which he will represent the Pope, Plus X., is expected to bring to Montreal the largest gathering of Catholics that has ever assembled in one city in North America. In fact, it will be the most important assemblage of Catholics that has ever gathered on this side of the Atlantic. The tolerance spirit is exemplified by the welcome for such men as Lord Strathcona and others identified with the progress of Canada.

Lord Strathcona not only sent his cheque to the committee, but placed his city palace at the disposal of Mr. Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal. Several archbishops will lodge there during the congress.

The congress will last six days, beginning on Sept. 6, and closing with an open air procession of the eucharist on Sunday, Sept. 11. The reception committee's report to date shows that it expects about 100,000 Catholics to visit that city and participate in the ceremonies.

The important incidents of the congress will be the midnight mass for men, at the Church of Notre Dame, the municipal reception to the cardinal legate at the city hall, the formal opening of the congress, the procession of the eucharist, and the final procession on Sunday, Sept. 11, when the pope's representative will carry the sacrament to the city of Montreal.

The special constable meantime called a city policeman and laid an information against unknown strikers leaving the switch with the switch. The policeman, upon investigation, found out who the real offenders were.

Harper, Customs Broker, McKinnon Building, 10 Jordan St., Toronto.

ASQUITH HAS CHARMED LIFE AS A POLITICIAN

Survived the Menaces of the Last Six Months—Radicals Not Satisfied.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Four days in advance of the meeting of parliament the house of commons has finished the work allotted to it before recess, and the house of lords is merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

ASQUITH HAS CHARMED LIFE AS A POLITICIAN

Survived the Menaces of the Last Six Months—Radicals Not Satisfied.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Four days in advance of the meeting of parliament the house of commons has finished the work allotted to it before recess, and the house of lords is merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is necessary does not reassure him and other militant Radicals. They consider that eight most worthy gentlemen are wasting time in playing for safety, and that four of them are merely making a decent show of deliberation over the declaration bill and the civil list.

The prime minister, after surviving the menaces of the last six months, is described by his admirers as a statesman with a charmed life.

Arthur Chamberlain, in Birmingham, is not so easily pleased with the explanation that the conference has made progress, and that the continuance of negotiations is