Trial by Ordeal. 11th Century

"Saxon justice was of a primitive order. The accused was tried by ordeal either of water or of fire. In the latter case he had to pick up a bar of red hot iron, walk three steps with it, and then drop it (this portion of the ceremony was always carried out to the letter). The hand was then bound up, the seal of the Church was placed on it, and if at the end of three days the wound was healed, the man was pronounced innocent."

A BIG FUND FOR CHICAGO STRIKERS Preparations Are Being Made to Prolong the Struggle--Bloodshed and Small Riots Occurred Yesterday.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Representatives of the striking teamsters have voted for a measure which promises more strength in the coming fight. At a meeting of the joint committee, a fund of $30,000 was pledged by the resources of the different affiliated unions and an assessment voted upon which, if held up to, will mean an income to the strikers of $20,000 a week. The weekly assessment is to be furnished by the individual drivers throughout the city who at present are employed. Each man is to be assessed $1 a week, and the number of men still employed in the neighborhood of 20,000. No sympathizers will be called by the coal teamsters' union.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Shooting was reported by colored non-union men yesterday at Harrison street and Wabash avenue. Three wagons being driven south in Wabash avenue were surrounded at Harrison street by a large crowd who threw sticks, using broken bottles and other missiles at the drivers and guards. P. E. Carter, one of the colored guards, drew a revolver and shot Henry Schultz in the left side. Schultz ran for half a block when he fell. The crowd, thoroughly enraged by the shooting, closed in on the non-union men. Although two more shots were fired, the men were bated fearfully. A riot call was sent in, and seventy police hurried to the scene and dispersed the crowd with vigor. Schultz was taken to a hospital. He will recover. Carter was arrested. Four men were shot late this afternoon in a riot at Polk street and California avenue, resulting from an attempt by the United States Express Company to deliver goods on the far west side without police protection. When attacked by the mob Bert Guyton, the driver, drew a revolver and fired into the air. This had no effect on checking the mob and as the stones were coming faster and faster, he fired directly into the crowd. The bullet struck Lyde McDowell in the hip. The crowd broke and fled, leaving McDowell lying on the ground and the wagon drove on. The mob returned to the attack and Guyton again opened fire. His final shot struck Albert Melvaine in the back inflicting a wound which may prove fatal. William Lass was shot in the leg and J. Erickson was shot in the arm. Guyton was arrested shortly after the shooting. An enormous crowd gathered. The two officers, with great difficulty and took the prisoner to the police station.

HOLY GHOSTS IN LEAKY SHIP

Big Yacht Owned by Shiloh Sect to Be Repaired Here--Followers of Mr. Sanford on Board--He Is Held for Trial in a Maine Town--The Charge Is a Serious One.

The yacht Coronet, from Portland (Me.), arrived at anchor at Fort DuRoi yesterday afternoon with a number of the Holy Ghost and Us Society of Shiloh (Maine) on board, bound on a cruise along the Nova Scotia coast. The captain came up from the yacht this morning to engage a tug to tow the vessel to its pier. The captain says his vessel is leaking, and will be placed on blocks here, after which the schooner will sail on her mission, whatever that may be. At noon today the tug Midway brought the vessel up into the harbor, where she is now at anchor in the streets.

lower and the rest of Maine's people are concerned in that it will call to their attention the seriousness of Sanford's attack upon their schools being the last of a series of attacks. It may also be stated incidentally, that the suit will probably serve to bring Sanford, his place, his people and his methods more clearly before the public than they ever were before, the attack upon their schools being the last of a series of attacks. It may also be stated incidentally, that the suit will probably serve to bring Sanford, his place, his people and his methods more clearly before the public than they ever were before, the attack upon their schools being the last of a series of attacks.

The Last Straw
In the past they have stood for horrors almost unbelievable upon the Hilltop, they have been silent, or nearly so, when some of their number have fought to get loved ones from Sanford's control, they have done little when the families have been broken by the strange cult; they have done little when women and children have been made to fast to the point of cruelty, but the attack upon their schools is too much. They are, therefore, now preparing to fight Mr. Sanford to a standstill. "It is Maine against Sanford for our schools, and I think Maine will win," is the way Mr. Crockett expressed it today. After each of Sanford's trials the establishment of the Holy Ghost and Us Society at Shiloh has undergone some change of government. The property once deeded to the Lord has since the man's death been used for a variety of purposes. Instead of Sanford being the one controlling mind, they now attempt to show that other members of the board of directors of what was known as the Kingdom are equally responsible. While these criminal matters have been pending in the courts, Sanford and his followers have entered politics, with the evident intention of controlling the affairs of the town of Durham, in which Shiloh is situated, and the citizens, thoroughly alarmed over the fact that Sanford has practically secured control of the public schools and may introduce into them the teachings of Shiloh, have been aroused to action.

Sanford on Trial
LIBSON FALLS (ME.), May 1.—Awaiting trial a second time on a charge of manslaughter, of which a Maine jury found him guilty, awaiting a decision of the law court, after having been found guilty of cruelty to his own son, with court proceedings still hanging in the case of the Dunlap boy who was released from Shiloh on a writ of habeas corpus, the Rev. Frank W. Sanford, head of the Holy Ghost and Us, will tomorrow again be the central figure in court proceedings. Sanford is a resident of Durham to protect the schools, which mean more to the citizens of Maine than any other thing he has formerly been connected. These proceedings will be the first legal steps to prevent Sanford securing absolute control of the schools of Durham, the form being a prayer for an injunction, restraining the school committee from illegally paying for the support of the students at Shiloh, and to prevent it from carrying out its arrangements with the self-proclaimed King.

Hugh A. Douglas out of $10,000 by enticing Douglas to bet on a foot race at St. Louis last fall. The prisoners were remanded for sentence.

A COXEY ARMY

LONDON, May 3.—A miniature Coxe army is forming among the striking army of bootmakers of Northamptonshire. It is proposed to march on the war office in London and lay the man's grievances in regard to pay, etc. before the officials. A band of music has been engaged to accompany the strikers, whose march will probably occur a week.

ROJESTVENSKY'S DESTINATION

He May Go to Patropavloski Instead of Vladivostok--Warsaw Rioter Shoots Police Sergeant--More Trouble Expected.

PARIS, May 3.—Notwithstanding details, it now appears that the Japanese officials are carefully observing the continued presence of the vessels of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron off the Indo-China coast, and are seeking information from the French authorities concerning the nature and duration of their stay. The members of the legion have addressed several inquiries to the foreign office asking particularly whether the ships were inside French waters. The reply given was that all vessels of the Russian squadron have left French waters.

great extent because its defence from land is considered impossible. Rai's Sunken Ships
TOKYO, May 3.—The work of salvaging the sunken ships at Port Arthur and Chefoo is progressing satisfactorily to the Japanese. Details are withheld, but it is believed to be certain that the Japanese may secure several battleships and cruisers. To Force Recognition
SHANGHAI, May 3.—Seventy leading British merchants of this city have wired the following memorial to Lord Lansdowne, secretary of foreign affairs: "The British merchants of this city draw the attention of the home government to the fact that China ignores the Mackay treaty, rendering the same ineffective in its mutual essential features. China actively opposes the treaty stipulations regarding currency, mining, taxation, and navigation. We ask the British government to insist that the treaty be made operative immediately."

More Trouble in Warsaw

WARSAW, May 3, 12:31 p. m.—An unknown man shot and killed a police sergeant on Hsa street at nine o'clock this morning. The murderer escaped. It is feared that other disorders will follow in the course of the afternoon. Public nervousness is marked and there is grave apprehension as to the outcome of the demonstrations and processions which are expected after the conclusion of the masses now being celebrated in the churches in commemoration of the anniversary of the proclamation of the Polish constitution in 1911. There are many soldiers in the streets. The printers struck today and the afternoon newspapers will not appear.

A Solemn Ceremony

TOKYO, May 3.—A solemn procession, honoring the spirit of dead soldiers and sailors, opened the exhorting ceremony at the Shikohama temple today. The impressive Shinto ritual was followed by the throng that filled and surrounded the temple, including thousands of relatives of the dead. High officers of the army and navy, a large force of troops and 1,400 sailors from Yokosuka were present at the ceremony, which will be practically continuous until next Friday night. The emperor and empress will not attend the ceremony today. Prince Fushimi will represent their majesties upon that occasion.

Rojestvensky's Destination

TOKYO, May 3.—It is rumored that the destination of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet is Petropavloski, on the peninsula of Kamchatka, instead of Vladivostok. It is said that the Russians have been collecting coal and stores at Petropavloski, but it is regarded as improbable that the Russians intend to use Petropavloski as a

TELEPHONES IN THIS PROVINCE

OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—(Special)—Dr. D. W. Ross of Essexville who is connected with a rural telephone line in the counties of York, Carleton and Victoria, New Brunswick, gave an estimate to the telephone committee this morning that a rural telephone line could be provided in the country part of that province for about $140 a mile. This would give an automatic telephone service whereby the subscribers would make their own connections. His own company had 300 miles of line and over two hundred subscribers. They used the automatic system and had as many as 20 subscribers on the one party line. Last year they paid a considerable profit and had a surplus of $214. They had endeavored to obtain the privilege of installing a telephone in the Canadian Pacific station at Woodstock. The company had at first consented but later withdrew the permission because of an agreement with the New Brunswick Telephone Company under which that company alone was to have the right to install phone facilities in their railway stations. The New Brunswick Telephone Company, which was allied with the Bell did business also in this same locality and was doing its best to freeze his company out by cutting the rates. The witness' company though had earned eight per cent last year in spite of the competition. The committee agreed to examine President Sise of the Bell Company on Tuesday.

DIVISION TO BE TONIGHT

OTTAWA, Ont., May 3.—(Special)—Col. Lingwood Schreiber is in Washington representing Canada at the International railway conference. The weather, a few showers. Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick will open the economy debate today. Among the other speakers will be Dr. Stobson. It is expected that the division will be completed about midnight.

THE STREET RAILWAY

Delay in Beginning Work on the Loop From Princess Street

The delay in starting work on the Princess street loop of the street railway system is due to the fact that the Common Council has not affixed the seal of approval upon the detailed plan of the work prepared by Director Cushing. It was thought that this would have been done on Monday, and Manager Earle says he had had all preparations made. Mr. Earle relates that these details of work, which refer to the position of tracks, the running of wires, etc., were prepared by the Council, and Mr. Earle expected that the matter would be settled on Monday. Had this been done he would have started work on Tuesday morning. The question, however, did not come up at the last meeting of the old Council, nor was it dealt with yesterday. Hence the delay. On the other hand, the reports of the proceedings at City Hall show that the suggestions made by the director and engineer were approved by the board of works, incorporated in the report of that board, and adopted at Monday's meeting of the Council. However, there may be some further details to be considered.

THE HANSON CASE

The examination of Oscar D. Hanson, an insolvent, was concluded in county court chambers this morning before Judge Korb. The evidence was to the effect that all stock, properties and effects he possessed at the time of assignment have been passed over to the assignees, and that no goods were removed from the stores at any time prior to the assignment except in the ordinary course of trade. Also that no security had been given to any creditor to the detriment of the creditors generally. Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford fee assignees and E. R. Chapman for insolvent.

Nan Patterson in Court to Witness the Last Scenes in Her Celebrated Trial--The Court Room Crowded.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Nan Patterson left her cell in the Tombs for the court of general sessions today to witness the last scenes of her trial on a charge of killing Caesar Young. As Assistant District Attorney Rand had finished his argument as prosecutor yesterday, and the defense had already spoken its final word, only the charge of Recorder Goff to the jury remained before the case went to the jury for a verdict.

THE HANSON CASE

Seven new names have been added to the indictment list.

"Why," said the alderman, "I wouldn't have my friend Baxter for anything in the world. Fine fellow, Baxter."
But the moment the friend departed the alderman went through a performance very much like that of a man in a boxing ring, when he sees a chance to land one or two.
"Ah, M. G. Baxter," said Ald. Baxter to the friend who approached him, "I haven't a thing against him. Fine fellow, McGoldrick."
But when the friend went away Ald. Baxter spat on his hands and cut a caper very much like that of a pugilist who sees an opening.
There is some anxiety over the possible result of a collision between these two aldermen, and the deputy mayor has been asked to mediate with them.
The fact that Ald. McGoldrick has left the appeals committee is taken by many to mean that there is no hope of successful intervention.

A matter of much more importance than the choice of a name for the new steamer is now agitating the minds of the ferry company. They have as yet been unable to decide whether Admiral Glasgow should wear gold braid or two rows of brass buttons on the breast of his uniform.
High kicking has been added to the programme of physical exercises for civic residents.
President Roosevelt made a striking remark when he read of the charges made against Secretary Loomis. "Let us for God's sake," he said, "be reasonable."

gan to gather hours before the time for the opening of the court.
Practically every seat in the body of the court had been spoken for in advance. There was hardly an inch of room to spare long before the prisoner came in, and took her place beside her counsel. In beginning his charge to the jury Recorder Goff said:
"This case has nothing extraordinary in it. So far as the testimony goes, two persons most spoken of during the entire proceedings, he the deceased, a man of the name of Young, a race track man had this defendant to live with him as his mistress. The man's death, because of the personality of this man Young, had nothing in it to excite your passions or your prejudice. He was a mere bookmaker, a race track man. Therefore you should be able to consider the facts calmly, without prejudice and passion.
"There is no artificial atmosphere for you to be excited or distracted by. You must decide the circumstances without any regard of the atmosphere, calmly and with a quiet mind."

HONORS HEAPED ON DR. OSLER

Celebrated Canadian Physician Dined at the Waldorf-Astoria by Professional Colleagues--Suggested Sweeping Change in the Management of American Hospitals.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A guest from so far away as Egypt was among the more than two hundred physicians who gathered last evening in the large banquet hall of the Waldorf Astoria to do honor and bid farewell to Dr. William Osler, hitherto professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins university and now about to depart for England to fill the Rogius professorship of medicine at Oxford. The visitor from Egypt was Dr. P. M. Sandwith, who came from Cairo. Among the guests were Francis J. Shepard, Montreal, and Dr. Archibald E. Mallach, Hamilton, Ont. Dr. A. C. Jacobs, of this city, called forth a storm of applause by incidental reticence in responding to one of the plans for the dinner were originally laid by a committee appointed by the medical faculty of Pennsylvania University, they were perfected by a large committee of forty, representing all the largest cities in the United States and Canada. The immediate arrangements for the banquet were in the hands of a local sub-committee consisting of Doctors A. C. Jacobs, E. J. Janeway, Charles L. Dana, and Joseph D. Bryant. The family of Dr. Osler, including his mother-in-law, his wife and his young son, occupied the center box in the first gallery.

that it is desirable for a man to aspire at the right time." With this humorous and well applauded reference to the recent utterances of the guest of honor, Dr. H. S. Weir of Philadelphia presented to him a beautifully bound copy of James Long's translation of "De semitate" (an old adage), by Cicero, printed by Benjamin Franklin in 1744, the first translation of a classic sent from an American press. Dr. Osler's hobby is the collection of rare books. Dr. Osler's hosts were among the great and noted physicians of America, and it was noted that many of them were past the age of sixty. Dr. James Tyson, of the University of Pennsylvania, aged 66, presided. Between him and the venerable Dr. Weir Mitchell, aged 74, sat Dr. Osler, himself past the age of sixty.

Dr. Osler's Speech

Dr. Osler said, responding to the tributes paid him, "I have but two ambitions in my life, first to become a good clinical physician; to enter that class which does no more for the country. The second has been to build up a great clinic in this country on Turboton line, the kind that have made the German school of medicine the leader of the world.
"One thing necessary to change our hospital appointments and equipment. If we had a system so that one or two men could control a hospital, instead of a dozen, with a good clinical laboratory there would be more work accomplished in this country in five years than during a dozen in Germany."

A Reference to Age

Of course the dinner had to contain some reference to age, that was expected. "Osler must be regarded as an anticipatory plagiarist," he said in one place.
