THUNBERG, GORMAN AND PARTY DUE HERE WEDNESDAY NOON

JOE MOORE IS FAVORITE FOR TONIGHT'S RACE

Party Will Stop Over in Boston During Tuesday

CLAS THUNBERG, champion of the world, Charlie Gorman, champion of Canada, Walter H. Golding, special representative of the Saint John Skating Association, Hugo Quist, manager of Paavo Nurmi's tour of the United States, and others are due here on Wednesday noon from Boston and New York and according to plans being formulated by the local skating body a royal welcome awaits them. Their arrival marks the beginning of the final drive to the wire to put over the greatest speed-skating meet in the history of this continent.

A second attempt to conquer North American skating kings, will be made tonight at Madison Square Garden by Thunberg.

Badly distanced in his first appearance on the ice in New York in a three-mile match, largely because he could not make over his powerful outdoor stroke to get the best results in a rink of sharp turns, Thunberg tonight will be called upon to skate only half the distance over which he was defeated last Thursday, by Joe Moore, of New York, and Charlie Gorman. The same two skaters will again be his opponents.

Despite his defeat in the last half mile of his first race here, Thunberg created a good impression. The Finn indicated that he could set a terrific pace over a short distance and has expressed confidence of turning the tables on his two rivals in their return match tonight.

Immediately following tonight's event, the party will leave for this city, stopping over Tuesday in Boston where they will be guests of the Canadian Club. It is possible that an exhibition will be arranged in Boston to give the Hub fans a glance at the famous Finn and thereby create considerable interest in the coming world's meet here. According to advice from New York, Gorman is in excellent shape but is anxious to get back here and stretch his legs on an outdoor surface. He is confident of giving Moore a real battle tonight over the shorter distance although Moore is favored to win, due to his long experience on the indoor tracks.

New League Now Formed In Halifax

HALIFAX, Jan. 17—A new Halifax City Hockey League was formed at a meeting here yesterday necessitated by the suspension of the Dartmouth team for violating the residence clause forbidding that team playing Halifax men. Norman C. Ralston was elected president of the new league with A. L. Phillips vice-president and J. F. McManus secretary-treasurer. It was announced that the Dartmouth team would seek re-entry into the league with an all-Dartmouth line-up.

WALLY PIPP SOLD

First Baseman of Yanks Goes to Cincinnati Reds, Huggins Says

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Wally Pipp, for eleven years first baseman of the Yankees and one of the most popular players who ever cavorted locally, was sold down the river to Cincinnati. The terms of the deal were not announced, but it is understood that Garry Herrmann, President of the Reds, paid more than $7,500 for the Yankee first baseman.

Manager Miller Huggins announced the sale in a telegram from Florida. Pipp had been on the market for several weeks. He was offered to several American League clubs in a trade, but was turned down cold. Waivers were finally asked on him, and all American League clubs waived, after which Huggins made the best possible deal for him, which was his sale to Cincinnati.

The Reds will probably make a first-string first baseman out of the tall Yankee. Manager Jack Hendricks of the Reds experimented last year with Rube Bressler, Al Niehaus and Walter Holke. Holke, a superannuated veteran of the Giants, Braves and Phillies, finally ended up as regular first baseman, but Pipp is his superior several ways from the jack.

It would not be surprising to see Pipp holding down first base for the Reds next season. He is still an exceedingly useful citizen. Although Wally has slowed down, he is a lively and graceful fielder and a dangerous hitter. In his palmy days he was the best pinch hitter and run-producer on the Yankees, not even barring Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, and it is calculated that a change of scene will rejuvenate the veteran.

Concerning Mr. Ruth

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 — (United Press)—Heading into the 1926 season, Babe Ruth faces the turning point of his career, a cross-road leading either to more success on the diamond or an exit from baseball.

The Babe has one year more to serve on a $52,000 a year contract with the New York Yankees and if he fails to perform as the highest salaried player in baseball should, he will be just a ball player when the time comes to talk terms for a new contract.

There is said to be a clause in his contract giving his employer the privilege of reducing his salary when he failed to live up to his end, and the Babe went so badly last season that he was threatened with a reduction in salary.

After he had weakened the team by an absence of six weeks with illness resulting from his failure to keep in condition, the Babe demoralized the players when he returned by a flagrant disregard for the club rules.

His insubordination finally reached the point where the manager of the team fined him $5,000 and sent him home with an indefinite suspension plastered on him.

This started an awakening process in the Babe and he became so penitent that he offered a public apology to his manager, which was declined graciously.

The Babe suffered another humiliating experience when he was told by his employer that he was no good to the club and that he would be traded if it didn't hapen that no club in the major leagues would take him and his white elephant contract.

Ruth promised to get back on the job and report in shape to play in the spring. He intended to take the course of bridge and baths at Hot Springs but was notified by the office that if he went he would have to pay his own expenses.

He went into the Canadian woods on a hunting trip with a number of other ball players. He rode in on a horse and came back on his dogs under his own power.

He then placed himself under a physical culture expert and agreed to take a course that would reduce his weight and strengthen his legs.

"If you're going to work with me, you'll have to do it," the instructor told him.

The day when he must give up active baseball is not a pleasant prospect for the Babe. He made a fortune when he was going good but it is all gone now and he has nothing to show for it but a memory with a lot of headaches.

He is not constructed mentally to take any part of life seriously, but he must have had a shock when he started counting the money he had and hasn't now.

Unless he has enough money to make him independent, he has only one trade to fall back on when he reaches the end of his baseball career and that trade is—cigar making.

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP

THE FINAL WEEK of preparations for the world's skating championship here finds the arrangements for this great project well in hand by the executive committee of the Saint John Skating Association. The latter part of this week will see the cream of the skaters on this continent gathered here as our guests in what promises to be the greatest speed-skating meet ever held on this side of the water. The main attraction of course is Clas Thunberg, champion of the world, who is due here in a few days to defend the crown so ably won by him at the Olympics two years ago. A rare chance to lift that dazzling title is thus presented to skaters from Canada and the United States and it speaks very well for the development of the game here when we can say that none have any better chance of winning this honor than a Saint John boy himself—Charles I. Gorman. This is the big opportunity in Gorman's career on the blades and it may never come again so you can bank on it he will be out there trying his best to win. Saint John has not had a big outdoor meet since 1923 but the lapse of two years has only served to whet our appetites for the wonderful struggle impending. It is going to be a wonderful battle right down to the final day with every point making itself felt in the final tabulation. The best advice we can hand out is get your reserved seats before they are all gone so you won't be left at the tape. You'll regret it all your life if you miss this. They will talk about it fifty years from now.

* * * * *

"IT WAS like asking Man o' War to chase a jackrabbit," says a New York paper, speaking of Thunberg trying to catch Moore and Gorman at the Garden the other night. Tonight, they skate the mile and one-half.

* * * * *

THAT WAS a pretty speaking duel Georges—don't forget that "s"—and Jack Curley staged the other day and it sounded fine the next morning in the papers of how Georges wished them a Happy New Year and wanted to fight Mike McTigue or Paul Berlenbach. The party went over with a bang only there happened to be a reporter there who understood French. Then the lid came off and a fair example of the gentle art of kidding the public was uncovered. Curley asked Carp. what to give the boys and the frog replied "Get rid of this gang. I have a date at 7.30 o'clock." Mons. Curley turned around and said: "Georges wishes you all a Happy New Year and would like to fight Paul Berlenbach." As a French interpreter, Mr. Curley would qualify for the African soo but as a bunk artist of the first water, he and the French diving artist are A 1. They say he has been matched with Mike McTigue. We feel sorry for the suckers who will pay their good eagles to see the most over-rated fighter in history take another dive. He claimed a foul against Gunboat Smith and got away with it. He said his hand was broken when he fought Dempsey. He said his ankle was broken when he fought Tom Gibbons and right on top of that he claimed a foul when Gene Tunney knocked him cuckoo. And now he has the nerve to try it again. And Tex Rickard, the man who is matching him with McTigue, has the nerve to issue a list of the leading heavyweight boxers of the world and Mr. Carpentier is never mentioned in a list of 15. If Mr. Rickard thinks that much of him, how can he expect others to fall over each other in a mad rush to welcome the Frenchman. In all probability, he'll claim another foul against Mike. Now, if they had matched him with Jack Delaney, we would not say a word. Mr. Delaney would never give him a chance to claim a foul as one good crack of Mr. Delaney's right fist and the job would be done to everyone's satisfaction. Then he'd probably claim a foul by saying he was not hit in the right place.

CANADIANS LOSE

EDINBURGH, Jan. 17—Scotland won the first test match with the touring Canadian team of curlers Saturday before a very large and distingulshed gallery.

The play on both sides was excellent and many brilliant shots were made. J. G. McDonald, of Fort William still remains unbeaten. T. S. Lutle, of Roland, Manitoba, and E. P. MacKay, of Bathurst, N. B., headed the only two victorious Canadian rinks.

The Scotsmen won by a margin of 18. The second test match will be played on Saturday, Jan. 23.

MONTREAL, Jan. 18—The race for National Hockey League honors is beginning to thin out. There is still a long way to go, the teams not having reached the half way mark as yet. But for the present, Ottawa and Montreal are well established in first and second places, respectively, with Canadiens seven points behind the Maroons, in third place and being fairly closely pressed by New York and Pittsburg, who are tied for fourth place, three points behind Canadiens.

This week sees two games for each of the local clubs. Canadiens face the Ottawa Senators at the Arena tomorrow night, and on Saturday play St. Pats at Toronto. Montreal Maroons play Boston at the Hub tomorrow and will be hosts to Pittsburgh here Saturday. It will be remembered that Boston downed the Maroons in the last game played between the two teams at Boston. New York faces a big week, in its fight for third place position. The Americans play Pittsburgh at the Garden tomorrow night; Ottawa at the capital Thursday, returning home to meet Boston in the Garden Saturday. Pittsburg also has a three game session ahead this week, ending at Montreal Saturday.

CANADIENS HOST.

MONTREAL, Jan. 18—(Montreal Maroons on Saturday night checked Canadiens threat on second place in the N. H. L. standing by beating them 1-0. The game was hard and vigorous from the start to finish. Checking was close and the man was played rather than the puck and no one was spared. The referees had their eyes open but many infractions of the rules passed unnoticed. A referee for every man on the ice would have been necessary to punish all the infractions. Leo Dandurand had informed everyone that the "jinx" that pursued his club had been left at Boston, but he was mistaken.

Saturday night the blue, white and red squad really played in hard luck. First, Rheaume never had any time to realize what was happening until Montreal had scored. He stopped the puck and cleared it to the back of the net. Seibert secured and passed out to Stewart, who was uncovered. The latter made no mistake and scored.

Joliat was the unlucky player. On several occasions he broke through the Montreal defence but missed his shot. Morenz also took some desperate chances and he also missed the net. Pete Lepine was in and out of the Maroon territory.

Noble copied Joliat. He played a brilliant game, but was checked to the last minute. Benedict played his role well. Munro and Noble were also good, as was Holway.

Rheaume was outstanding though, his work reminding many of George Vezina. He was cool in the face of every situation. Several times he skated out and checked the incoming player. Couto and Mantha played a whirlwind game. The only thing that marred the whole proceedings was a bottle and coin throwing episode by some of the spectators in the rooters' section of the rink. A certain element in this section, were incensed when Morenz was winded after coming in contact with Noble. The matted ended with five of them being arrested.

For the second time this season and the third time since the erection of the Forum, an attendance record for professional hockey for Canada, was established, when 12,450 witnessed the game.

Final arrangements were concluded today to have the local boy appear on the bill. It gives a brilliant double finale to one of the most attractive boxing cards Saint John has had in many months.

Willie Price, who is mentioned as an opponent for Irvine, has piled up considerable of a record. He has met Tommy Clayton, Johnny Thompson, Jimmy King, Allentown Joe Gans, Al Walters, Johnny Avilla, Johnny Pobuk and Paddy Ryan, who holds two wins over Jimmy Cox. Price only recently returned from Michigan City where he won over Jack Turner. While Bobby Kid Smith is well known to fight fans throughout East Canada. Listed among his opponents are Jack McKenna, Johnny McIntyre, Teddy O'Brien, Joe Carbone, Johnny Gillis, Neilly McNeill, Mickey McVeigh and Duncan Hines.

PETER ALRIGHT SOLD

The Amherst News says:—"Thomas Etter of Sackville, who raced here on different occasions last summer with a splendid little square trotter, Peter Alright, 2.29½, recently disposed of the speedy little animal to a Sackville party at a price reported to be in excess of $400. The Alright horse was a good performer and showed a lot of promise in meets at Port Elgin, Amherst and other racing centres. It is also rumored that Mr. Etter will take over the stables of his brother, the late Amos Etter, and conduct business in Amherst."

TO COACH NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18—Alf Smith of Ottawa, hockey player of 25 years ago, will assume charge of the coaching of the Americans of the National Hockey League today, it is announced.

Tommy Gorman, manager of the Americans, went to Ottawa over the week-end, according to the New York World, with the full intention of luring King Clancy away from the Senators. The Senators refused to take the bait. But Gorman persuaded Smith to come out of retirement to coach New York.

NEW PLAYER SIGNED.

BOSTON, Jan. 18 — The Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League have signed Phil Stevens, last year a star defence player on the Saskatoon team of the Western Hockey League. He will alternate with Hitchman and Cleghorn, and is expected to appear in next Tuesday's game here with the Montreal Maroons. Up to this time Stevens has been in the automobile business in Springfield.

On Monday night, also, the skaters who will take part in the big meet will be introduced at the rink to the fans. Then, on Wednesday night, Halifax will be here with their best team, and the inter-city rivalry should make this one a thriller. On Friday night, Sussex will be here for a league game, and when this pair meet, the margin is close and the game fast. That is quite a menu for the skating week.

The three games scheduled this week are bound to provide plenty of excitement and possibly some changes in the standing. The locals will play Moncton tonight, and a win for the Saint John boys would put them into a tie for first place. Beating Moncton on its home ice is a trick that has not been turned yet, but if the locals play the same kind of a game as they did here last Friday night they will show Moncton fans a championship outfit. They are taking along their fastest outfit, with McPhee in goal; Fraser, Hallisey and Gilbert on defence; and Temple Lane, Boudreau, Kiley, Thompson and Short as forwards. On Wednesday night Moncton will play at Sussex, while the Friday night attraction here is Sussex Colts. The Colts have given the locals two defeats by a one-goal margin, and that pretty near wrecked the locals' chances of getting the play-off. They are just naturally burning up with a chance to even things up.
