Bruce Winchester Led Bowlers of City League For The Season

Two Cleveland Stars

Homer Summa of Gentry, Me., is the regular right fielder of the Cleveland Indians. And what is more, he will remain in that post for some time to come, barring accidents, wet weather and epidemics. This after laboring for four years to prove that he is a big league outfielder worthy of a speedy position and regular hours. Homer joined the Cleveland team in 1922, coming from the Wichita Falls team. He brought along a pretty record and high hopes. The record included a .352 batting average over a string of 156 games. With the Tribesmen his first season he broke into 12 games. He and Jamieson make a fast pair.

Action And Pep Feature Boxing Tourney Events In The Armories Last Night

Plenty of action of the slam-bang variety featured the city amateur boxing championship, held last evening in the Armories, most of the lads showing a willingness to mix it, letting science play a secondary part. An exception was the showing of young Murphy, of the St. Mary's A. C. of Halifax, who substituted for J. Fitzgerald of the same club. Murphy, who captured the 112-pound crown, showed a considerable amount of skill and worked a good straight left to much advantage. It was regretted that Pat Whipple, Reg. Harper, who won their classes by default, did not have a better chance to show their wares. These two youngsters showed considerable science as well as hitting ability and willingness to mix things. Harper had the better of the opening round but honors went to Powers by a slight margin in the second. Powers appeared to have a chance half way through the final session, when Harper sunk his left solidly to his opponent's mid section and thereafter had things pretty much his own way.

100-POUND CLASS.
The 100-pound class developed some pretty scrapings. Jack Lifford had an easy time getting into the final, his fight with a slim youngster named Best, being stopped in the first round when it was seen that Best was outclassed. He struck tough going in the final, however, when he clashed with Joe Bryson in one of the hardest bouts of the night.

RUGGED BATTLE.
Gerald Donovan and Arnold Connolly put up a rugged battle in the 108-pound class. Donovan's superior generalship and hitting power pulled him through but the loser showed all kinds of gameness. The 112-pound bouts brought some rapid action. Ernest Goldworthy quickly disposed of Cutbert Kane, the fight being stopped by Referee Powers in the final round after Goldworthy had won by a knockout.

WILLING SCRAPPERS.
The 160-pound class brought together two willing scrappers in Art Breen and Art Walker. They sparred for an opening and then exchanged punches. Dalling appeared to hit low and Coyle hopped on one foot. He drove Dalling into his own corner and Dalling covered.

GETS A HAND.
Coyle and Dalling got a good hand from the fans. Their fight was short and savage. They sparred for an opening and then exchanged punches. Dalling appeared to hit low and Coyle hopped on one foot. He drove Dalling into his own corner and Dalling covered.

NELSON READY TO ABIDE BY M. P. B. RULING

Will Play With St. Johns If No Release Given

EARL NELSON is ready to stand by the decision of the registration committee of the M. P. B. in regard to the appeal from his release from the Saint John's by the Royals Athletic Club. The papers and statements in connection with this have been forwarded to Halifax, and a decision is expected some time this week.

Questioned regarding the matter this morning, Nelson said that he had made his statement in the matter and was prepared to act according to the decision. If his release is granted, he said he would immediately join the Royals, while if it was not granted, he would don a Saint John's uniform and get into the game before it was too late. Friends of Nelson say he signed with the Saint John's on the understanding that he would be no Royals' team, but since technicalities are holding him, they advise him not to let them stand in his way. Much interest centres on the ruling to be made by the registration committee.

So skillfully is it done you can scarcely see where Ex Toe begins or ends.

Now you can get Ex Toe in light and heavier silks. Smart and trim fitting. See the new colors that have become so popular. Silks $1 and $1.25. Other materials for less.
