ALLIES LIKELY TO BLOCK THE RETURN OF CONSTANTINE

View of Jonnart, Prominent French Diplomat

Says There is Precedent in the Case of King Otto of Bavaria—New Ministers Call on Queen Mother Olga.

Paris, Nov. 19.—Allied nations will probably intervene to prevent the return of former King Constantine to the Greek throne, says Charles C. A. Jonnart, former French high commissioner in Greece and at present extraordinary French ambassador at the Vatican. A similar opinion is voiced by Baron Gyssels Cohn, an eminent authority on Greek affairs.

"Constantine," says M. Jonnart, "seems to me not only undesirable for the Allies, but quite impossible. It is the right and duty of the protecting powers not to allow a Greece that is stronger than ever to become a vassal of Germany."

"It cannot be denied that Constantine acted as an autocrat, and the powers have a perfect right to oppose his return to the throne. A historical precedent may be found for this action, King Otto the Bavarian monarch of Greece, attempted in 1862 to set up a rule in that country. This resulted in Anglo-French intervention and the deposition of King Otto was required. The Bavarian dynasty was later replaced by one having its origin in Denmark."

Athens, Nov. 19.—Members of the new Greek ministry motored to Tziker Palace last night and were received by Queen Mother Olga. They informed her that she was regent of Greece, pending the arrival of former King Constantine and the agreed to leave the country.

"I see they had nine boys in the police court yesterday," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter. "Say, Mister—if us farmers make us had a failure raisin' cattle as you city fellers does in raisin' boys we orto be locked up an' horsewhipped—yes, sir. The idee of lettin' boys grow up an' run wild in gangs—it's a cryin' shame. An' then when you hev to put 'em away you put 'em in a place where a feller over fourteen years old is jist wastin' his time instid o' learnin' a trade. If I was a preacher I'd hev somethin' to say next Sunday. I'd take the hide offa the folks that goes on bevin' a good time while the souls of the boys an' girls is bein' stunted an' warped. Aint there nobody kin wake this town up an' call things by their right names? It's easy to say that there's the school an' there's the Sunday School all ready waitin' for the youngsters—but that aint all that's waitin' for 'em—an' you know it. What's the matter with people? Why can't they get as much satisfaction helpin' somebody that needs it as they do in bein' selfish an' mebbe settlin' a bad example? Spose'n you can't make all boys good—is that any reason for not showin' 'em you want to give 'em a fair start? Somebody orto know what every boy's doin' in his spare time—an' we orto see that he gets a chance to spend the time right—with his chums. If we done that we wouldn't hev half so many goin' wrong—no sir. Oh—we're a great people to say Amen—an' let George do it. I s'pose we'll hev to get some missionaries from China to tell use how to raise our boys. I guess they know more about it. If they don't they're a poor bunch—By Hen!"
