ANOTHER BLOW.

Marshal Foch has struck the enemy another blow. Under orders of the generalissimo British troops this morning went to the Germans on a wide front south of the Senne river on the northern part of the line. Sir Douglas Haig, in his early report to the War Office says satisfactory progress is being made. It is probable that this new thrust, in addition to carrying out Foch's policy of striking here and there along the line, is designed to drive in a wedge between Douai and Cambrai, both strongly held German positions on the line at which the enemy is attempting to make his stand. Success in this operation would further imperil the German hold on these two places.

The French and Americans today are developing the offensive begun yesterday in the Champagne sector. In the fighting there on Thursday the Allies pressed back the Germans from four to seven miles, captured several towns and took more thousands of prisoners. This drive was on a forty-mile front from a point fifteen miles east of Rheims, through the Argonne Forest and on to the Meuse river, northwest of Verdun. This morning's cables say that over the entire line of their attack the French have, by brilliant work, captured formidable German positions for a gain of more than three miles.

The success of our arms continues in Macedonia, and in Palestine. In brief all through the territory where the clash of arms is heard the Allies are uniformly victorious.

IN ENEMY LANDS.

Early despatches today indicate the possibility that a revolution has broken out in Bulgaria. If so, it has come very swiftly upon the heels of the disaster to the Bulgarian and German forces in Macedonia. The Bulgarian premier is reported to have offered an armistice to the Allies but it is said this action has not the support of his colleagues or of King Ferdinand. It is added that a counter movement has been set on foot and from this is made the deduction that a revolution has developed. The first intimation comes through Berlin and as such must be regarded with more or less suspicion, but it may very well be that with the Allies driving back the Bulgarian and smashing through defenses through Bulgaria, the Bulgarian army is being regarded as impregnable, and with invasion of Bulgaria territory actually accomplished at one point, the home people have had enough.

An armistice, however, is not likely to be granted unless as a reward of total surrender. The Bulgarians, led by their crafty ruler, have thrown their fortunes in with Germany and must be held to be part of the whole barbarian horde that seeks to dominate the world. Such they must suffer in the retribution that the Allies will exact.

There is now practically open admission that things are going very badly with the German Empire. Of a surety the Hun armies are having a hard time, with defeat upon defeat, huge losses in men and equipment and their strongest defenses being gradually overcome. And at home we read of "war weariness and despondency." This is not from Allied lips, but is from Von Ludendorff himself and he declares the condition to be "widely prevalent." He does not give this out for the satisfaction of the Allies but it is learned from an order signed by him and dictated to put a stop to talk of fighting men home on leave, who, he says, are making statements "bordering on high treason in their inclination to disobedience."

Times have changed, indeed, since the Teutons marched into Belgium to begin the war for domination of the world.

The Kaiser, it now appears, was in Mannheim on last Saturday when British airmen, out on a raid of German territory, bombed the city. The "All-Highest" promptly took refuge in the cellar of the royal palace. Dignity is a poor protection when bombs are bursting near and for once the German ruler laid his aside.

When the Huns bombed our hospitals in France, though death and destruction were wrought on all sides, the brave doctors and nurses who survived kept steadily on at their work. They have now won from His Majesty the King the assurance that they "have set an example to the whole world."

President Wilson is to speak in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York tonight, and his address will mark the opening of the drive for six billions of dollars or more for the new Liberty Loan. If the President, as some expect, takes occasion to reply to the recent speech of the German imperial chancellor, the event will have additional interest.

Congratulations alike to Lieut. Col. W. R. Brown, D. S. O., new commander of the N. B. Battalion, and the men under him, a worthy leader and a gallant regiment.

"Hoch der Kaiser" is not so popular a cry in Germany as it was in 1914.

Nice thing to have around, an accommodating person with $88.00, particularly "when a feller needs a friend."

Honors continue to come to our soldiers. Ten more lieutenants, including two New Brunswickers, have won the Military Cross.

A fall session of Canada's parliament now seems unlikely. The middle of January may see the members summoned to Ottawa.

Go back to July 18 and review the incidents of the Allied offensive. You will not find one attack made at the command of Foch which has not scored success.

Another smashing blow this morning on the west front, this time by the British.

TIME CHANGES ON C. G. R. LINES

Effective Sept. 29, Service to P. E. I. via Cape Tormentine.

Time changes effective on Sept. 29, on Canadian Government Railways lines, will only slightly affect trains leaving St. John. No. 14 "express" which connects with No. 200 eastbound "Ocean Limited" for Halifax at Moncton, will leave at 2.10 p. m. instead of 12.50 noon, and will not run on Sundays. No. 10, the "night express," will depart at 11.35 p. m. The "Maritime express" will be the daily train between Halifax and Montreal after the change, and the "Ocean Limited" will run daily except Sunday out of Halifax.

Passengers for Prince Edward Island will make connection by taking No. 18 express leaving at 7.10 a. m. connecting at Sackville with train leaving for Cape Tormentine at 1 p. m. No. 18 will wait twenty-seven (27) minutes at Sackville for dinner, and the new restaurant in the station will cater to the needs of travelers desiring lunches or meals. Passengers for the Island will have ample time to enjoy a meal there.

OAK HALL SALE OF FALL OVERCOATS OPENED AT 9 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

As announced yesterday, 400 fall and spring weight overcoats were placed on sale this morning. These overcoats were recently purchased in Montreal at a price substantially below present day quotations, and we are now offering our customers and friends the full benefits of this saving. We figured an extremely low price at which to sell these coats, estimating that our big turnover would permit a very minimum of profit. The volume of business already done justified this policy. So, although these coats regularly sell for $20 to $25 we are offering the entire lot at one price, $14, for Friday, Saturday and Monday. Further information can be had from our advertisement in this paper and from our special window display. Oak Hall will be opened Saturday evening until 10 o'clock.

Quebec, Sept. 27.—The authorities last night refused to grant the increase of salary requested by the police and firemen. The former, who have recently affiliated with the International Union, may go out on strike.

LIGHTER VEIN

No More Indian Relics.

"I suppose you still find old arrowheads when you plough your fields?" "Not any more," replied Farmer Cornsheel. "We cleaned them all up long ago. Now we don't find anything but golf balls."

German Standards.

First German—Heinrich will make a fine soldier.

Second German—Can he lick his weight in wildcats?

First German—No, but he can carry his weight in medals.

Domestic Casualty.

This conversation was overheard in an English munition canteen after a serving of some heavy and half cooked pudding.

Am—This 'ere puddin' ain't 'alf 'eavy stuff.

Bill—That's nothing. My misses made some the one day day that we couldn't eat, so she gave it to our ducks.

A few minutes later a little boy knocked at our door and said: "Misses Jones, yer ducks have sunk."

JUNEAU IS FLOODED.

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 27.—Homes in Juneau are being torn away, a big government hospital has been temporarily abandoned, power plants are idle and all business is suspended as a result of torrential rains of unusual warmth causing a deluge along the main shore of Gathineau channel. The main street of Juneau is threatened by the floods.

No great distress is expected because Juneau is provided with plenty of vacant dwellings.
