TWO GREAT SPEECHES The speeches of Mr. Winston Spencer inus.

Churchill at Belfast and Glasgow will greatly increase his prestige at home and abroad. The Belfast speech was marked of last season. by great firmness, but was also conciliated of last season.

St. John as a place for investment is being advertised in Montreal by a Montreal man. That reference to the Dublin and Enniskillen Fusiliers marching up the Boer slopes, with his comment upon it, was a masterstroke.

masterstroke.

'We have made friends of our enemies (the Boers). Can we not make friends of our comrades, too?''

Mr. Churchill's statement of the whole case for Home Rule was admirable, and must have a powerful influence upon public opinion outside of portions of Ulster. In Ulster, unfortunately, prejudice will not give way to reason, and it seems that a portion of the people still do not realize that they are being used to bolster up the fortunes of the Unionist party in other parts of the kingdom. Canadians are not unfamiliar with such tactics as are now being pursued by the old country tories. But Mr. Churchill went to Belfast, and proved that there is a very large body of Home Rulers in that city, which Sir Edward Carson and his friends would have had us believe was almost a unit for rebellion against Home Rule. When the people at large realize, as they must, is reduced to Duluth and other United States. Edward Carson and his friends would have had us believe was almost a unit for rebellion against Home Rule. When the people at large realize, as they must, that the Unionist agitation in Belfast is the result of an appeal to prejudice and bassion, made in the interests of a polical party, it will fall as flat as the attention of the poople at large realize, as they must, at the party is will fall as flat as the attention of the property will carried against north and south traffic began to think and act. And if not so, thou yet wilt know the whispers that are thine and mine: For God bath ways to make it some and the poople at large realize, as they must, at western complaints: First, rates were reduced to Duluth and other United States lake ports, so that shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's seating the property of the property will carleton, in Harper's Weekly. It is now not how these lines to send, Dear soult that took the starward flight. And yet our Past a hope doth lend. The thou canst read me as I write. And if not so, thou yet will know the whispers that are thing and mine: For God bath ways to make it some and the property of that the Unionist agitation in Bellast is the result of an appeal to prejudice and passion, made in the interests of a political party, it will fall as flat as the attempt to prevent Mr. Churchill's visit. The ringing speech in which he stated the case for the government will be a powerful factor in creating public sentiment in England and Scotland in favor of the government's policy. He has once more demonstrated his courage and capacity, and his ability to make the most and the best of a perplexing situation.

Mr. Churchill's speech in Glasgow, dealing with the naval situation, was a significant deliverance. It was not a defiance, fleant deliverance in the united States shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's sealports, so that shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's sealports, so that shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's sealports, so that shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's sealports, so that shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's sealports, so that shipments could be made to Europe through Uncle Sam's sealports, and now come further concessions by which grain can be got to St. Paul and Minneapolis mills from the Canadian west, to be ground for consumption in the United States. In spite of the fact that this is all against the speeches and policy of Mr. Borden and his party, they will tell who wrote the valentine.

Some little ways of thought or phrase—Some little ways of thought or p ficant deliverance. It was not a defiance, nor was it couched in terms calculated to provoke irritation in foreign capitals; but it stated in an unmistakable way the determination of Britain to maintain her naval supremacy, for her own protection. His remarks that with Germany a navy is a luxury, while with Britain it is a necessity, will not, of course, meet with favor from the advocates of German expansion; but it is nevertheless a fairly reasonable statement of the case. A powerful German navy is a menace to British interests, for it is the evidence of a determination on the part of Germany to expand her possessions. Buttain, on the other hand, with territory in all parts of the world open to attack, must be in a position to defend her rights on every sea.

FREE KNDERGARTEN REPORT

The January reports of the Free Kimlegartens bring to attention some of the all rumors to the effect that the British many is in an unprepared state are without foundation, and he confirms the statement of Mr. Lloyd George the other day that the country was never better prepared to meet any emergency. There, is, he says, no cause for alarm or panic.
The situation may be faced with compoures for at every point, and in every detail, the government has it well in hand, Yes, Britain would be the first power to

The visit of War Secretary Haldane to Bediri at his time, taken in connection with Mr. Churchill's speech, is naturally an evert of international as well as local interest. It is euggested that this visit may have some connection with a possible sugreement between the two countries to lessen their naval activity. For, however willingly each nation may endorse large

A VALENTINE TO HEAVEN.

So while the silver jest goes round,
And while the air gives gold of mirth,
I feel thy heart may yet be found
Among the merriments of earth:
Heaven were a task, could I not bask
Within that merry glance of thine:
And so, 'twixt smile and fear, I ask Thee, Dear, to be my Valentine!

A THOUGHTFUL CHILD.

Little Alice was terribly afraid of cats.
One day she had been standing on the doorstep for several minutes, looking at a big black tomcat gallivanting on the fence.
Finally she rushed into the house, looking very much excited, and exclaimed: "Mother, I thought I'd better come in That kitty was just so afraid of me, I felt sorry for it, and comed away!"—Woman's

A Socialist candidate for the presidency of the German Reichstag was defeated by only twenty-one votes, and another Socialist was elected vice-president by a majority of fourteen votes. These votes, are significant. The government was greatly weakened by the recent elections.

When Italy descended on Tripoli the affair, was regarded as a picnic, but the little war has already cost an enormous sum, and the cost of keeping a large army in that country must be a heavy as well as a constant drain on Italian resources. ZION CHURCH LIFE

Movements in Zion church are active, and varied week days and Sundays though the modest people keep silent about them. The "Young People's Alliance" had its first sleigh-outing the other night, when weather, roads and people were all serene. The pastor's class of boys—"Loyal Soldiers," next had their sleigh-drive, when everything was as perfect as desired. Each party on their return were welcomed by smiling hostesses, and a smoking hot supper which they enjoyed very much. A new "Bell" organ was installed before last Christmas and is being paid for fast by the energetic Ladies' Aid Society which is doing great things for the church all the time.

Pastor Lawson preaches alternately each nonth a sermon to young men and woten, last Sunday was on "Ideal Woman, Mr. Amberman, the new organist, and Mrs. Andrews, leader of Zion choir, with their willing followers, are rendering good music every Sunday to their credit and the satisfaction of the people.

Painting of the church and parsonage and repairs are contemplated by these DIAMONDS, JEWELRY WATCHES, ETC.
