"Fruit-a-tives" Keeps Health Perfect

OTTERVILLE, Ont.,

"I am a seventy-nine year old man, and a great believer in, and user of "Fruitatives". It is the only medicine I take, and I can truly say that "Fruitatives" and exercise keep me in my present good health.

Stricture of the Bowels, was the complaint I suffered from and I found "Fruitatives" to do me more good than any other remedy. My doctor advised me to stick to "Fruitatives" and I have done so with the best results.

WILLIAM PARSONS, Esq. Obstinate Constipation, Paralysis of the Bowels and Stricture of the Bowels Obstinate Constipation, Paralysis of the Bowels and Stricture of the Bowels can never be cured by common purgatives, salts, senia, "liver pills" and oil have positively no action on the liver. They do not increase the secretion of Bile, which nature provides to move the bowels. They merely irritate the membranes lining the intestines. One may as well try to cure a headache by pounding one's head against a stone wall, as to try to cure Constipation with common purgatives. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only true liver stimulant. "Fruit-a-tives" is fruit juices and nerve tonics, and will always restore the liver to its proper condition and cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson X .- Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 4, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxvi, 31-35, 69-75—Meinory Verses, 74, 75—Golden Text, I Cor. x, 12—Commentary Prepared by Revi D. M. Stearns.

As we read the first part of our lesson and consider the boastful self confidence of Peter and his assertion "Though all men shall be offended because of Thee, yet will I never be offended," then to the Saviour's "This night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny Me thrice," his further more emphatic assertion, "Though I should die with Thee, yet will I not deny Thee," how do we pity him and all the disciples, for they all asserted the same. It was as if Peter said: "Lord, Thou dost not know me. Thou canst surely count on me to be true at any cost." Do we see ourselves? Have we ever sung "Surely the Captain May Depend on Me?" If so, were we not as foolishly boastful as Peter? How the Lord must have pitled him! How He pities us! None can be saved until they know that they are lost, for He came to save the lost. The condition of ev-ery sinner before God is guilty, with ery sinner before God is guilty, without strength, ungodly, enemies, enmity against God, dead in sins, children of disobedience and wrath, having no hope and without God in the world (Rom. iii, 19; v, 6, 10; viit, 7; Epb. ii, 1-3, 5, 12). Such helpless, hell deserving sinners Jesus saves fully and forever by His finished work without any help from us whatever. When saved we are just as helpless to live a Christian life and to serve Him as we were to save ourselves. So the great lesson for the saved sinner to learn is the sigfor the saved sinner to learn is the sigfor the saved sinner to learn is the sig-mificance of "Not I, but Christ;" "Not I, but the grace of God;" "Without Me ye can do nothing" (Gal. ii, 20; I Cor. xv. 10; John xv, 5). Unless it is God who worketh in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure the work cannot stand, but will prove to be only wood, hay and stubble. We must be ever watchful preverely suphritting to God hay and stubble. We must be ever watchful, prayerful, submitting to God and resisting the devil, if we would walk worthy of Him who hath called us to His kingdom and glory. We have seen Peter daring to rebuke the Lord as He spake of suffering, though the Scriptures may be said to be full of predictions concerning the sufferings of the Messiah. We have heard him say: "We have left all for These What or the Messiah. We have heard him say: "We have left all for Thee. What shall we have, therefore?" We have also heard him say, "Thou shalt never wash my feet." We have heard his self confident boasting that he was ready to die with Christ. Yet we have seen him taking off a man's ear, for a little while forsating Christ then fol. little while forsaking Christ, then following afar off, then in company with the enemies of Christ and warming himself at their fire. What can we ex-pect next from such a man?

The damsel who kept the door as The damsel who kept the door as she saw him sit by the fire warming himself looked earnestly upon him and said, "And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth." Compare the four accounts. But he denied, saying, "Woman, I know Him not; neither understand I what thou sayest." Alas, alas, how can we account for it? Did the devil, who led Judas Iscariot to betray Christ, take possession of Peter also? Christ, take possession of Peter also? Even so, for on a previous occasion Jesus had to say to Peter, "Get thee be-hind me, Satan" (Matt. xvi, 23). On the Passover night the Lord said, "Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you (R. V., asked to have you), that he may sift you as wheat, but I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not" (Luke xxil, 31, 32). After that first denial he went out After that Irst denial he went out into the porch, and the cock crew. Then another maid saw him and began to say to them that stood by, "This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth." And again he denied with an had only left the bad company as soon as he found himself falling he might have repented sooner, but it is growing worse—the second denial was acmpanied by an oath. About an hour later another confidently affirmed, saying to Peter, "Surely thou art one of them, for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto." The kinsman of the man whose ear Peter cut off said, "Did not I see thee in the garden with Him?" Then he began to curse and to swear, saying, "I know not this man of whom ye speak." And immedi-ately, while he yet spake, the cock crew the second time, and the Lord turned and looked upon Peter. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, "Before the cock crow twice thou shalt deny me thrice?

(Mark xiv, 30-72). And when he thought thereon he went out and wept bitterly. This was not like the remorse of Judas Iscariot which led to ulcide, but there were tears of true

How much do we know of the com-How much do we know of the com-fort of the assurance that "He ever liveth to make intercession for us" (Heb. vii. 25). Do we lay it to heart that the same great adversary is ever seeking to cause the saints to fall that he may bring reproach upon that beautiful name by which we are called? He does not ask for the unsaved, because they belong to him. He did not ask for Judas Iscariot, but he had to ask for Job and for Peter. Let us never make light of him, for he is too formidable an enemy. Let us not be afraid of him, for we have a shield to quench his fiery darts and a sword with which to conquer him (Epb. vi; Rev. xii).

Diebold; with head quarters in this city, received official advices yesterday which say, that quiet has been restored at all points save one throughout the country. The exception cited is what is known as the Guerrero district, in the State of Chihuahua. In that section 200 revolutionists are still making attacks on small villages.

The consul asserts that they are not "revolutionists," but bandits, who are using the uprising as a pretext to rob and pillage.

Gen. Loureo Villar, stationed in Nuevo Lareda, Mexico, received official advices yesterday from all points embraced in his jurisdiction, extending from Matamoras to Colombia, 30 miles above Laredo, on the Mexican side of the river, and says everything is quiet along the border, and in the immediate interior.

The City Council will act on Ald. Elliott's report.

Concrete Stairs Need No Repairs Easy to Build and Last Forever

NO matter how you view it wooden stairways can never be considered economical.

Wood deteriorates rapidly under ordinary usage, and requires frequent, and often extensive, repairs to keep it in good condition.

Concrete stairs will be as good fifty years later as the day they are first put up. Age, which proves so destructive to wood, serves only to intensify the strength and hardness of concrete. Needing no repairs or painting, concrete first cost is last cost.

Let us send you our new illus-trated book free—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." Photographs and diagrams show many examples of concrete work as applied to the construction of farm utilities. Much of this work you'll find you can do in your spare time. Write for the book to-day. It may save you dollars, though it only costs a cent.
