"PLEASE OMIT FLOWERS."

Any one who reads the American papers must often notice the frequency with which the death notices are accompanied with the words, "Please omit flowers." It might be supposed by those who are ignorant of the facts that there was a simultaneous re-action against a custom which has been hallowed by the usage of ages, which has been sung by poets and hymned by musicians, and which, in its pristine form, was confessedly one of the most touching of all the tributes of esteem and affection which the living can render to the memory of the dead.

The reason for the change in this sentimental and admirable custom, is not that the grief for the departed is any less deep or sincere, nor because there is any change of sentiment regarding the beauty or propriety of the custom, but because certain vendors of flowers, greedily for gain and keen in search of the nimble shilling, have come to thrust themselves so obtrusively upon the presence of a grief that should be sacred, that the only remedy has been to ask the omission of all floral tributes at such a time. In none of the plays of Shakespeare is there anything more sad, more touching, more imbued with pure sentiment than when poor Ophelia strews her flowers, with "There's rosemary, that's for remembrance; there are pansies, that's for thought; and there's a daisy; I would give you some violets, but they withered all when my father died." But had the hapless polonius come to his untimely end in one of those American cities of now-a-days, he would not have been dragged out from behind the arras before some enterprising firm of florists would have had their business cards in Ophelia's hands. Thank fortune no such lines are required to be added to these sacred notices, in this country.

The Nova Scotia government has now brought before the Legislature of that Province the following bill, by which it hopes to outdo the proceedings taken against that body by Mayor Thomas.

1. The Honorable Michael J. Power, speaker of the house of assembly, Alfred J. Halliburton, Esq., sergeant-at-arms, and Thomas A. Chambers, keeper of the county jail at Halifax, and each and every one of them, is and are hereby indemnified and exonerated from all liability to any damages or other responsibility, and from any suit, demand or judgment which may have been or may hereafter be brought or rendered against the said honorable Michael J. Power, speaker, Alfred J. Halliburton, sergeant-at-arms, and Thomas A. Chambers, jailor, with respect of or in relation to the issue of such warrant in the preamble of this act referred to, or the execution thereof.

2. This act may be pleaded as a bar and discharge to any action or suit pending, or which may be brought, against the said Michael J. Power, speaker, Alfred J. Halliburton, sergeant-at-arms, and Thomas A. Chambers, jailor, or any or either of them, for any matter, cause or thing mentioned in this act, and shall also be a discharge of any judgment for any such penalty as is mentioned in the next preceding section, and any costs in such judgment.

3. Any act or thing done by the speaker or other officer of the House of Assembly by authority of the house under the provisions of the chapter hereby amended is hereby ratified and confirmed, and it is declared that the speaker and such officers are and each of them is and shall be free from all action at law of every kind and in all courts within the province, and this act may be pleaded in bar to all such actions, suits or other proceedings.

Many stories are being told about the desire of Great Britain for a monetary conference with the United States, at which the subject of extending the use of silver as a money metal is to be discussed. The brilliant journal which makes this statement asserts that the request of England has no reference to bi-metallicism, but its broad terms imply that the proposition covers these means as well as others as a subject of investigation by the congress. The man who penned this sentence is absolutely ignorant of the subject he was writing about, and he may safely be set down as a falsifier.

as well as an ignorant. No one with the slightest knowledge of the subject believes that the government of England has made a proposition of any kind concerning money, to the United States government. It is possible that the British would accept an invitation to a monetary congress if one was extended by the United States, but it is absurd to expect them to take the initiative. There is nothing upon which the government of the British nation are so thoroughly agreed as that the retention of the single gold standard is essential to that nation, for as a creditor nation she derives the greatest profit from the constantly enhancing value of the metal which she insists that her debts and her earnings be settled in.

The revelations of the committee which is inquiring into the condition of the British army are not calculated to arouse the enthusiasm of the English taxpayer. After coming down handsomely for the support of a military establishment, it is discouraging to be told by competent authorities that it would be impossible to mobilize two army corps on short notice. Considering the fact that the Germans with a much smaller expenditure profess to be able to place a score or so of corps in the field at a day's notice, the disclosures do not speak well for British management. It may be true that soldiers are hard to get in England, but it is not to be had in England. Englishmen ought not to be compelled to pay out extravagant sums for the sake of having an army on paper.

Reports indicate that the business of sealing seals is not likely to prove very lucrative this year, as they have been thinned out to such an extent that they are relatively scarce. The destruction of the seal fisheries will only add one more to the numerous instances of the folly of man killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

A CHICAGO FIRE.

The Athenaeum Building Totally Destroyed
The Chicago Athenaeum building, a seven-story structure adjoining the art institute on Vanburen street was burned this week. The loss is estimated at $150,000. There were 400 persons in the building, attending the law school and other classes, when the fire broke out, followed by a sound of crashing glass and timbers, was heard on the seventh floor. The building was shaken to its foundation and the brickwork fell in places. A terrible panic ensued, but it is believed all the occupants made their escape. Woods' hotel, which adjoins the Athenaeum, caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished with slight loss, though the guests were badly frightened and rushed pell mell into the street. Several valuable paintings belonging to the Chicago society of artists, were destroyed in the Athenaeum building. The cause of the explosion is believed to be escaping gas.

SPORTING NEWS.

The St. John Globe says—The Y. M. C. A. sports in the Palace rink on Tuesday evening were not as keenly contested as we would expect. The audience however was quite large and manifested considerable enthusiasm. Excellent music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra. The judges were Messrs. G. W. Jones, E. A. Watson and J. J. O'Hara. Sheriff Harding acted as referee, and Messrs. J. M. Baines and Charlie Coster timers. C. E. Macmillan and Frank White acted as clerks of the course and G. B. Gerard was judge of the walking. James Christie made an excellent starter, and George Jenkin's stentorian voice made him useful as an announcer.

The 60 yards dash was the first event and was run in three heats. Johnson won the first heat, with McKee of Fredericton second. White and Morris got places in the second heat. In the third heat Macrae won with Dixon second. The seconds then ran off for places in the final and Dixon won easily in 1:5. The final was a hot race. Macrae won with Vincent second.

J. F. Barton and Francis Burke were the only competitors in the half-mile walk. Barton won in 5:51.

The half-mile was won by Lawton, with Thornton second, in the fast time of 2:18, eight equals the indoor record made by W. A. Kerr some years ago.

The high jump was well contested by Murray, Macrae, McCullough and McNutt. Murray with 2 inches' handicap cleared 5 feet 1 inch and won. McNutt was second.

G. B. Gerard put the 16-lb shot 33 feet 11 inches and took first place. Milligan was second with 31 feet 4 inches.

Steve Payne won the boys' race with Eddie Raymond second.

The 220 yards dash was a hot race between Marree and Dixon, the former barely winning in 29.3-5 seconds.

Lawton and Waterbury competed in the mile run, the former easily winning in 5:24.5.

Coombs proved a surprise party in the hurdle race, winning easily from Johnson. He heaped his hurdles in fine style.

An obstacle race was won by Charles Roderick.

Thornton and Combs ran in the quarter-mile, and finished in the order named; time, 1:08 1-5.

The tug-of-war between the St. John A. and the Y. M. C. A. created some interest on the St. John team. The tug was keenly contested, and at the end of the three minutes it was almost impossible to tell who had the advantage. One judge declared it a tie; another declared in the favor of the St. John A. team, and the referee gave his decision accordingly. There was no prize given.

A foot ball match ended the sports. The medals were presented at the Y. M. C. A. building. They are a splendid collection, probably the best ever given at any sports in the St. John. They were made by Mr. R. H. Green.

This is NO LOTTERY—merit only will count. The reputation for fairness gained by THE AGRICULTURIST in the past is ample guarantee that this Competition will be conducted in like manner. Send for full particulars to THE AGRICULTURIST, Peterborough, Canada.

An explosion last Tuesday night at Verry's Cafe in Paris has caused the greatest excitement in the city, people are panic-stricken at the anxiety of the Anarchists. The feeling of fear is heightened by the apparent impotency of the police to prevent Anarchists from committing outrages when and where they please. The Gaulois and Matin newspapers openly reproach the government with incompetency and demand that something be done immediately to put an end to the outrages. So strong is the feeling of fear that many residents of the city and foreign visitors are leaving or making hurried preparations to leave. Throughout the night and morning excited crowds, sometimes numbering 20,000, filled the streets in the vicinity of the explosion. The police were utterly powerless to control the crowd and the presence of a force of infantry was necessary to maintain order.
